Dedication

This year we are dedicated to THE STUDENT. Not to a student but to characteristics which make up the personality of every student. The personage who is moved by the desire to know about himself and others and for himself and others. He is the individual and the society, living in the new and the old, experiencing a metamorphosis now that will create the values for the future. Here is the searching and seeking, testing and trying, destroying and creating, accepting and rejecting that will form each individual's goal and provide the direction he will take to achieve it. In this University the student has learned to think for himself and to gain the best from others' knowledge. He has in his mind and in his hands the ability and will to create a brilliant future. We have witnessed his strides and believe in his potential, and therefore, to him we dedicate the 1954 GRANITE.

Presidents Message

IN each issue of the Granite are recorded the many activities of University life. It is a volume which all of you will cherish more as the years go by—for it will bring back memories of a period in your lives when many new avenues of interest were opened to you. Here on the campus of the University of New Hampshire you made new and lasting friends, and you obtained an insight into the areas of learning which civilized man has uncovered through the ages. We hope that you have not only acquired a background for "earning a living," but also have a clearer understanding of "how to live." As you join the company of educated men and women, you join hands with an ever-increasing group of college graduates who are dedicated to the philosophy that the free and inquiring mind must be given full expression in the solution of man's problems. It is only through the search for truth that man can really become free.

So as you of the class of 1954 go forth into a competitive and disturbed world, may you look back on your college experience as a period when you developed maturity and understanding—where you learned to know yourself as well as your fellow men. May this volume serve as a reminder of the depth and variety of college life and of the debt which you will always owe to your Alma Mater. It will always be a part of you, as you will be a part of it. May I take this opportunity to wish each of you success and happiness in the years ahead.

College of Liberal Arts

STUDENTS from fifteen different departments will be graduated this year from the College of Liberal Arts. The largest college on campus, Liberal Arts is headed by Dean Edward Y. Blewett. Five divisions are coordinated within the college to offer both broad general liberal arts and prescribed curricula.

The sixteen main objectives of the College of Liberal Arts have been constantly adhered to and considered helpful in planning and carrying out effective maintenance of high academic ideals and forwarding the college standards. Among the purposes of the college are: the ability to understand and use language for clear and effective interchange of ideas; an understanding and appreciation of the principles of physical and biological sciences as they apply to man; an understanding of the principles underlying the social, psychological, political, and economic activities of man.

The College of Liberal Arts strives for appreciation of all peoples and their cultures, both contemporary and historical; an understanding of literature and the other arts, appreciation of the religious heritage of man; an understanding of personal and community health.

Stressing the interrelation of all liberal arts subjects, and the synthesis which can be developed from them, the college also teaches the student competence in a selected field of knowledge. The deans and professors are always ready to aid in selecting and preparing for a suitable profession or vocation, as well as developing academic interests outside the selected field of knowledge.

Many liberal arts students go on to graduate schools throughout America and, with Fulbright aid, to other countries. Some of the departments also offer graduate work here. Other students are trained for immediate gainful service; but throughout the college is a bond of understanding, interests, appreciation, and abilities which make possible the living of a richer and more satisfying life.

Dean Seeley

College of Technology

UNDER the direction of Dean Lauren E. Seeley, the College of Technology has become outstanding among the engineering schools in the East. About five hundred students are enrolled in the college's program. Instruction is offered in Physics, Mathematics, Chemistry, Building Construction and the four major branches of engineering: Chemical, Civil, Electrical, and Mechanical.

UNH is practically unique in possessing a building, Kingsbury Hall, large enough to house all the engineering departments under one roof. Kingsbury is considered to be one of the most modern and complete buildings devoted exclusively to technology in the country. There are many laboratories equipped with the latest experimental apparatus.

Another part of the College of Technology is the Engineering Experiment Station set up to do research and analysis for New Hampshire industry. Dean Seeley is also the director of the Experiment Station.

New Hampshire's technology graduates are eagerly sought by United States industry. In June there are always plenty of jobs available for the engineering student.

All departments of the College offer graduate work leading to the Master's Degree, with financial aids in scholarships and assistantships available for many students. Beginning this year, some fields in the College of Technology have been able to offer study leading to the doctorate degree. It is another step forward for the University that has been gained by continued hard work, a superior degree of experimentation, and proven merit.

Dean Grinnell

College of Agriculture

ONE of the oldest agriculture schools in the east and continually achieving high distinction in the field is the University of New Hampshire's College of Agriculture. The original basis of the whole University, it this year made another step forward in the naming of the Thompson School of Agriculture, a two-year course of study which has proved a major success in the years it has been operated.

Named after the University's first benefactor, Ben Thompson, the school provides one of the two main divisions of study offered by the College. The other is the regular four-year course leading to the bachelor's degree. This College gives a broad program of study in which every student receives a liberal education with training in humanities, physical, biological, and social sciences as well as in his own specifically chosen field. Students specialize in technical knowledge relating to the various phases of agriculture, forestry, or home economics when they enroll in the College of Agriculture.

Twelve departments make up the College, with an enrollment of about 300 students in courses leading to degrees. Available to degree students for specialization are more than twenty programs of study, each with its own technical and professional objectives.

Putnam Hall, recently built and dedicated for agricultural use, is a good example of the development of the school paralleling the advancement of scientific agriculture throughout the nation.

An increasingly large proportion of the graduates in agriculture are continuing their education in graduate schools throughout the country. Only a relatively small number turn immediately to farm production. More positions are available yearly for agriculture graduates in teaching, extension services, research, state and national government work, industry and commerce.

Dean Moss

Graduate School

REPRESENTATIVE of the constant achievement and advancement of the University as a whole is the Graduate School. During the year the school became authorized to offer Ph.D. degrees for the first time. This step forward in education was brought about under the guidance of Dr. Herbert J. Moss, Dean of the Graduate School, and the graduate faculty.

Established in 1903, the Graduate School has always offered instruction with the objective of bringing together faculty members and academically qualified students in a progressive spirit of scholarship and research. The graduate student is given the opportunity to specialize in some field of knowledge specifically interesting to him. The school stresses the development of a maturity of thought and attitude toward the individual's chosen field so that his professional and his cultural life may be enriched and made more meaningful.

During this academic year, 159 students were enrolled in the various departments of the Graduate School. Instruction is given in all three colleges, Liberal Arts, Agriculture, and Technology and in over twenty departments in the colleges on the graduate level. Since the first University master's degree was given, almost 1200 students have received advanced degrees here. From some 100 educational institutions including most of the states and several foreign countries students have come to New Hampshire for post-graduate work.

Fellowships and scholarships are offered in many departments as well as part-time working assistantships, to enable deserving students to attain higher education in their field.

Hood House

THE health of every one of the University's three thousand students is taken care of by Hood House, the UNH Infirmary. Staffed by two full time physicians, six nurses and a consulting psychologist, Hood House has beds for twenty-six patients with adequate space for more in the event of an emergency.

Dr. John A. MacDonald is director of the Infirmary with Dr. Daniel H. Deyoe acting as Assistant Director. They give physical examinations to all University employees, inspect the housing units for general cleanliness and health, and examine students reporting illnesses to Hood House.

The gift of Charles Harvey Hood, a UNH graduate, the Infirmary has an emergency operating room, extensive diagnostic equipment, and excellent laboratory facilities.

Army R.O.T.C.

ARMY Reserve Officer's training has been a part of University life for sixty years. Established at UNH in 1893, the present form of training was prescribed by the National Defense Act of 1916.

There are approximately four hundred and thirty students from all four classes enrolled in the Army's training program. Three students have been offered Regular Army commissions while nearly ninety more seniors will receive commissions in the Army Reserve as second lieutenants.

The program is integrated with the regular academic University schedule so that students may not only qualify for their degrees but also for their commissions.

Thousands of UNH graduates have undergone training in the Army ROTC's two major branches: Infantry and Anti-Aircraft Artillery.

The ROTC program in America's colleges and universities is a major source of army appointments for the government. Those students accepting their commissions will begin their Army careers on an equal footing with the West Point graduate.

Colonel Barker

Air Force R.O.T.C.

THE Air Force ROTC program at the University of New Hampshire is relatively new, having been initiated in the fall of 1946. At the time new curricula applicable to the Air Force mission were put into use.

Under the expanded program of the Air Force some adjustments in AFROTC courses have been made. Emphasis has been placed on the broader use of liberal arts education as a prerequisite for further training in the Air Force, both as a means to widen the base from which to obtain officer personnel and to assure that leadership and management abilities are not sacrificed to technical experience.

The AFROTC program of instruction is integrated with the regular University schedule to permit the student to receive academic credit for the military courses taken while qualifying for a reserve commission in the United States Air Force.

FEATURES

Stunt Nite

It was March 5th and a tense night at N. H. Hall for the aspiring thespians competing for loving cups at the annual presentation of 12 minute skits of fun and foolishness.

The controversial issue of communism was burlesqued in many of the skits. In Acacia's mock heroic trial, "The Purge of Ivan Awfulurge," a spy sentenced to Siberia for failing to retrieve Libe-race's candelabra, was saved in an uproaring surprise ending. "Fifi the Pansy," Sigma Beta's frenchified version of a courtroom purge scene, involved the ribald condemnation of suspected

"constitutionalists," while the be-wigged heroine of Chi Omega's "Goldilocks and the Three Bears" was falsely accused of being a "fellow traveler."

"The Sheik" was Kappa Delta's imitation of an early "Talkie," cleverly timing the stilted movements of performers with the sounds of an off-stage tape recording.

Alpha Chi Omega's dream-sequence depicted the tribulations of a newcomer to a heavenly sorority.

In "Born Tomorrow," the Alpha Xi Deltas projected the campus into a 1984 world of flying saucers and robots to astonish the returning grads of '54. A flesh and blood calf symbolized the unchanging spirit of U. N. H.

Alpha Xi Delta and Acacia received first prize and Alpha Chi Omega and Sigma Beta second prize.

Homecoming

RETURNING alumni were greeted by sunny weather and familiar scenes on October 10th. Fraternities, dormitories, and sororities extended open arms to all the "old grads" and sported colorful welcoming signs and "Beat Maine" slogans.

Sigma Beta, Sawyer, Chi Omega, and Gibbs Hall were recipients for cups for their imaginative house decorations.

A busy day began with registration and the President's Reception in the morning. At noon, buffet lunches were served at many of the fraternities and sororities and the fourth annual chicken barbecue was held at Putnam Hall.

Of course, the main attraction was the traditional football game between the Maine "Bears" and our N. H. "Wildcats." During the half, the newly elected "mayor" of Durham, "Digger O'Dell, the Morbid Mortician," made his first public appearance. Loyal rooters of U. N. H. were treated to a very healthy 21-6 victory over Maine.

Junior Prom

SPRING means rain in Durham. It also means Prom time. We had both on the week-end of May 8th when our theme was "Out of This World" and NH Hall became a surrealistic, mobile-bedecked scene of festivities from 9 to 2:30.

For the first time, two bands were featured, and the music of Fred Saterials and Ted Herbert with vocals by Cindy Lord kept a continuous rhythmic beat for a record crowd of swirling couples.

Focal point of the evening was announced by a ruffle of drums, when Karen Schriever was crowned Queen with Judy Reed, Nancy Hill, Joan DeCoursey, and Marilyn Needham as her court.

A jazz concert on Bonfire Hill, beach parties, Notch dance, and fraternity parties kept us "Out of This World" until we returned to earth with a thud on Monday.

University Day

A MAJOR issue is solved every fall when the freshman and sophomore classes compete in a battle of brawn on University Day. The burning question concerns the traditional freshman beanie. Shall the frosh be compelled to wear their "badge of distinction" until Thanksgiving vacation? Or will they be able to thwart the upperclassmen and tuck away their caps for posterity—and the moths?

In order to achieve an early state of bareheadedness (legally), the freshman must prove his athletic prowess by competing in different events with the sophomore class.

This year the class of '56 defeated their underlings in the three-legged races, men's and women's soccer games, waste-basket races, and the greased pole contest. The class of '57 redeemed themselves by putting their collective muscle behind a tug-of-war contest and gave the old heave-ho to their rival.

Fun was had by all—even the freshman, who still had to wear the beanies, to their great chagrin.

Rallies

THE boom of drums and clash of cymbals . . . high stepping majorettes . . . lusty-voiced Pep Cats and Pep Kittens . . . crackling fires on Bon-fire Hill. . . .

These are elements of the pre-game Friday night rallies which give our teams a spirited send-off. This year, fraternities and class groups as a whole were in charge of the wacky skits and rousing speeches. The student body was responsible for the deafening roars.

The rousing cheers helped to spur our team on to another brilliant season. With six wins and only two losses to our credit, we became Yankee Conference co-champions with Rhode Island. We really had something to cheer about!

Mayoralty

"HEAR ye! Hear ye! Fair citizens of Durham. . ."

Blaring loudspeakers, followed by a motorcade of colorful politicians and their cohorts, announced the annual Blue Key Mayoralty contest on October 6th. Once again, the campus resounded with impassioned pleas and riotous stunts during the three days and two nights of frantic campaigning for the honor of becoming "Hizzoner," the Mayor of Durham.

Alpha Tau Omega presented Jack Hill as "Tammany Hill"—"The Most Honest Man That Money Can Buy" who represented the stereotyped, corrupt gangster politico of big city notoriety. He sneeringly promised a general debasement of campus morality and the instigation of lucrative, questionable rackets for all "seekers after the easy buck."

Acacia combatted the city slicker's compelling but evil influence with an uninhibited "back to nature" campaign for lovers of adventure and the outdoor life. Jack Weeks, sporting the trappings and bravado of a big-game hunter as "Frank Muck," stalked the wilds of Durham for votes with a safari of wild animals (?) and a harem of dancing girls.

Jack Hoey, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, as a debonaire, officious politician from the deep South, developed side-burns and a "yo all" accent to wow 'em as "Gaylord Flush." Cee-gar smoking cronies and a bevy of hoop-skirted charmers added elegance to his "elemental" plea to "Get in the Bush with Gaylord Flush!"

"The Boldest Man of College Woods" was the boastful claim to fame of Theta Chi's Tom Chase. In the guise of "Robin the Hood" he merrily advocated a return to the lawless, uninhibited life of his fictional progenitor. He and his hearty band of comrades pranced around in gunny sacks, ominously brandishing bows and arrows as a dire warning to "Vote for Robin or You'll get The Shaft."

Towering John McKenna, as the dead-pan "Digger O'Dell" was undoubtedly the most sombre candidate in Mayoralty history. Attired in a moth-eaten, formal black suit with tails, stovepipe hat, and white gloves, he was the epitome of gaunt "professional perfection." Catchy songs and feminine pulchritude were provided by an Alpha Xi Delta chorus line, who helped to liven up the garishly macabre proceedings.

The climax of the campaigning took place Friday night in NH Hall when the five candidates were at their zaniest in a final attempt to impress the students.

It was "Digger O'Dell," the morbid mortician, who won and became the most melancholy mayor in Dur—Ham's history.

Military Arts Ball

IT was December 11th and NH Hall was throbbing with the music and gaiety of the 27th annual Military Arts Ball. The dignity of military pomp and ceremony, combined with the romantic glamour of dreamy music and beautiful girls, created an exciting picture.

Couples whirled to the famous beat of the popular Claude Thornhill orchestra until at eleven o'clock a pathway was cleared for the Queen and her aides, escorted by Scabbard and Blade officers.

With the golden R. O. T. C. eagle in the background, sparkling Marilyn Needham of Theta Upsilon was commissioned Honorary Cadet Colonel and crowned by Major General Charles F. Bowen. Aides Betty Crowe, Phi Mu, and Ruth Cranston, Alpha Chi Omega, were presented bouquets and gifts by Pres. Robert Chandler followed by introduction of new members to Scabbard and Blade. Dancing was resumed until 2 A.M. arrived when tired but happy couples left with memories of a wonderful evening.

Winter Carnival

THE Big Weekend sponsored by the Outing Club's Blue Circle arrived as "Sit- mark Season." Durham was, as usual, unappropriately bereft of snow. The annual test of ingenuity and resourcefulness was met by an amazing competitive spirit, and truckloads of the precious white stuff rumbled through the campus for many days and nights preceding the start of carnival festivities.

The week-end got off to a flying start on Thursday, February 11th, with special attractions at the Franklin theater after sculpture judging, followed by a torchlight parade to the winning men's snow creation. The queen and her aides rode in a sleigh propped on a truck to Sigma Beta's humorous sculpture of an imbibing St. Bernard where Diane McLean was installed as reigning queen at Carnival weekend. The evening was climaxed by a new type of jazz concert at NH Hall. The Dartmouth Injunaires and UNH Salamanders choral groups, combined with the musical gyrations of Buzz Emerson's Wildcats and the Dartmouth Sultans, proved to be a hugely successful innovation. Theta Upsilon was announced as the winner of the sorority sculptures, Schofield Hall for the women's dormitories, and East-West for the men's dormitories.

It was the night of February 12th and the thermometer had taken a frosty nose-dive. However, the cold did not deter couples from enjoying the gaiety of the annual Carnival Ball. Dancing feet obeyed the syncopations of Roy Stevens and his orchestra, under a colorful canopy of streamers. The more athletic aspect of carnival time was represented by the striking silhouettes of skaters and skiers which decorated the walls and flanked the stage.

The peak of the evening's festivities was the impressive coronation ceremony at 11 o'clock when Diane McLean, freshman, was crowned queen of the 33rd Winter Carnival. Cute little Barbara Collins served as the queen's hand-maiden and carried the garland of red roses and white carnations which President Robert F. Chandler placed on Diane's dark head. Bouquets of long-stemmed American Beauty roses were presented to the Queen and her aides who were: Roberta Patch, Alpha Chi; Betty Crowe, Phi Mu; Debbie Low, Scott; and Kathy Murphy, Schofield. The traditional waltz was then led by President Chandler with Queen Diane and the aides with their escorts.

The evening became a wonderful memory all too soon, when weary, but happy couples had to brave the icy cold weather to the two o'clock deadline.

SENIORS

History

IN September of 1950, the senior class had its first introduction to life at college. After endless lectures in New Hampshire Hall and Murkland Auditorium, there were endless lines at Commons before anyone could get a meal. To add to the pleasure of all this waiting there was the ever present Sphinx. Leading the class of '54 to cheers and rallies, the Sphinx members began putting the UNH spirit into everyone. To add to the good times of those first few months, the UNH Wildcats came through with an undefeated season.

After the first flush of newness had worn off, there was the all important business of studying and electing a slate of officers. The class of '54 picked Jack Driscoll for its president. Jack Atwood was the vice-president, Audrey Schriber kept the records straight as secretary, and Fred Bennett was treasurer. Class officers were not the only ones elected. Half-way through the football season, Colonel T. Hall was put into office as the Honorable Mayor of Durham.

Came second semester and a chance to start everything afresh. There were basketball games, the Winter Carnival, and then finals again. One year was finished but the status of a senior still seemed a long way off.

After a busy summer vacation, the class of '54 returned to Durham finding that it had suddenly become upperclassmen. Now it was their turn to be Sphinxes and instill a pride in the University in the class of '55. Paul Harris was elected Sphinx president and the sophomores beat the freshmen in the games at University Day. Another football season, another Mil Arts Ball, and another election. Jack Driscoll was elected president again and Jack Atwood put in a repeat performance as Vice President. Sally Ann Wolcott was secretary for the sophomores and Fred Bennett collected dues for his second year as class treasurer.

Mayoralty saw Oliver Q. Pinkham put into office. His pink pills put life back into everyone feeling a bit of the Sophomore slump. Two new dorms were opened, Sawyer for women and Alexander for men. The campus was changing and the class was changing too. Finals were no longer particularly terrifying and everyone pretty much knew his way around by now.

With the beginning of second semester came the Winter Carnival and the big Carnival Ball. Not one, not two, but three sophomores were Carnival Royalty. Brunette Lois-Joan Marcou was elected queen and Marjorie Hesse and Cynthia Gilbert were elected aides.

No one will ever forget the primary voting for the national election. Famous political figures came to campus to campaign including Stassen, Kefauver and the late Senator Taft. Last but not least, came the announcement that President Truman would make a Durham appearance. Classes were dismissed and thousands of people gathered around the T Hall parking lot awaiting the arrival of the President. Finally, along came a big car. Sitting all around on top of it were a number of brawny secret service men. Somewhere in the midst of them, they say, sat the President. The car circled around the lot and went right back out again and that was the end of it. Everyone hopes the President got a better look at Durham than Durham got of the President.

Another summer of jobs all over the country and the class of '54 came back to Durham ready to take its place in the University as juniors. Election time rolled around again and found Don Wheeler leading the juniors as President. Jack Atwood was elected Vice-President for the third straight year while Charlotte Anderson was secretary and Bill Hutchinson was treasurer. Mayoralty also saw a member of the class of '54 elected to the coveted position. Bob Hackett lit up the Durham firmament as I. C. Stars and when the votes were in he was the new mayor. His sidekick, Charlie Chaplin, was seen at all of the football games picking up cigarette butts and strutting around like something out of a 1920 movie.

The first formal of the season, the Military Arts Ball, saw Joan Westling and Nancy Hill chosen as honorary cadet majors. At the Winter Carnival Ball, the next big dance, Barbara Johnson was chosen queen. At Junior Prom time, the class' own dance, Karen Schreiver was queen, Judy Reed, Joan DeCoursey, Nancy Hill and Marilyn Needham were aides. The women were not the only ones to snare a royal position. Dick Keenan reigned over the annual Panhellenic sponsored MERP weekend.

Time was flying fast and as the year drew to a close, class rings were ordered, and cramming began for those all important finals. June came and with it, the end of the next to last year in Durham. Everyone left campus looking forward to summer jobs, while most of the men waited for the start of summer camp which spread them all over the country, some being assigned Army camps as far away as Texas.

In September, the busiest and most remembered year of all began at last. Class pictures for The Granite were taken and the seniors ended their football careers as they had begun, with a championship team. The fans watched win after win pile up until one day fate and UConn got together to give UNH its only Yankee Conference defeat. The Bean Pot came back to Durham after a four year journey though it spent half of the year at the University of Rhode Island who tied for first place. Co-Captains of the winning team were "Jeep" Munsey and Joe Regis.

"Digger O'Dell" of Kappa Sigma took his place as the duly elected Mayor of Durham while the seniors took over other positions of importance. Carleton Eldredge became president of the Student Senate and class elections came around. John C. Driscoll was chosen President, Jeanne Gilmore, Vice-President, Marilyn Needham, Secretary, and Bill Hutchinson, Treasurer. The seniors took their place in the honorary societies with Leighton Gilman elected President of Blue Key and Tom Mullaney elected President of Senior Skulls. Jack P. Driscoll headed IFC and Janice Gilchrist led Panhellenic.

After football season and all the elections, everything settled down. A highlight of the Blue and White series was the presentation of "John Brown's Body" starring Anne Baxter, Tyrone Power, and Raymond Massey playing in person at the Field House. The big building was crowded to the doors to see what many considered the outstanding theatrical event of the year.

Another capacity crowd filled New Hampshire Hall for the Mil Arts Ball. Claude Thornhill played the music and Marilyn Needham was made the smiling Cadet Colonel by the Adjutant General of the State of New Hampshire.

The four day Winter Carnival weekend brought with it more and bigger snow sculptures than ever before and a busy round of jazz concerts, choir concerts, the Carnival Play, and ski events. The crowning event of the weekend was the big Carnival Ball on Friday night. Roy Stevens and his orchestra played for the Ball.

After that came a long, vacationless period of studying and last minute activities. Class meetings were held to decide on a gift for the University and all the other business necessary to a senior class.

In the spring came the annual Junior Prom weekend with its queen, beach parties, and floats. A last busy month and then finals and senior week. A little flurry of parties and meeting old friends and then commencement. Suddenly the four long years seemed awfully short as the degrees were passed out and the Alma Mater sung for the last time as a student.

Class of 1955

THE class of 1955 came to UNH with all the questions, confusion and wonder of every other class that has been at Durham. They wandered through the lines at Commons, tussled with the Sphinx, rang T Hall bell for Wildcat victories, cheered the games, and had the annual struggle with Biology.

When the first flush of newness was gone they elected Pete Rummery as President, Bob Dunlop Vice President, Jack Welsh Treasurer, and Roz Cameron Secretary. With their new officers they shifted into high gear and really settled down as students.

The class of fifty-five put its best foot forward and had two queen candidates for Winter Carnival. The girls living in Sawyer Hall (they were the first to live in the new dorm) copped the Home-coming Decorations cup and started that dorm on its present three year winning streak.

In the spring, many of the freshmen were initiated into fraternities and sororities after a grueling five week pledge period. In June, the freshmen took finals and left Durham with one happy year behind them.

After working in jobs all over the country, the members of the class of '55 returned to Durham as sophomores and found that they were the Sphinxes. They were proud of their University and attempted to instill some of that pride in the new class. They elected Dick Hewitt as President, Bob Cuthbertson as Vice President, Gerald Quimby as Treasurer, and Ann Cummings as Secretary.

Some people fell into the proverbial "sophomore slump" but an unusually high number pulled through with good marks at the end of the first semester. The second semester brought the second Winter Carnival for the fifty-fivers. Now they were the ones who were out building the snow statues and working on decorations. After Carnival came a long period without any vacations or breaks until the first hints of spring began to appear. Spring in Durham is enough to rejuvenate anybody because it ends the rainy, cold, winter days and puts the "beach party spirit" back into circulation. During the summer of 1953, many members of the class travelled to Europe and widely scattered parts of the country. They returned to Durham and their books in the fall with a new feeling about college. It was now almost like coming home to come back to Durham and everyone looked forward to it.

Everyone saw Digger O'Dell elected mayor and cheered as the Wildcats came up with a championship football team. The Mil. Arts Ball seemed like the biggest and best one yet. The fifth set of finals came around but graduation still seemed years away until the announcement came out that graduation pictures would be taken a year early. The proofs came back and everyone suddenly realized that there would only be one more football season, one more Mil Arts, one more Carnival, and one more Mayoralty.

The juniors held their highly successful Prom in May. New Hampshire Hall was filled with beautiful decorations and the whole committee worked under the direction of the class officers who were Art Valicant, President; Marshall Litchfield, Vice President; Ann Cummings, Secretary; and Francis Googins, Treasurer.

Many of the junior men were looking forward to summer camp when June rolled ground and the third year of college came to an end.

Sophomore Class History

THE class of 1956 came to Durham way back in 1952. Fresh from a hundred different high and prep schools, the new freshmen found that college was a lot more than football games, pep rallies and beach-party weekends. After a hectic Orientation Week, and the usual tussles with the Sphinx, the '56ers really got into the spirit of things. They cheered avidly at all the football games, tolled T-Hall bell so long that they finally had to set a time limit, and got a look at someone's idea of a joke when the scoreboard went up in flames one dark night.

When election time came around, they put George Allen in as their new President, elected Fred Tilton as Vice-President, Bob Narkis, Treasurer, and Jan Curran, Secretary. With the new slate of officers installed, they became an integrated part of the University family. Everyone watched Mayor I. C. Stars riding around on his a la 1890 bicycle with his side-kick Charlie Chaplin trailing along behind in search of extra long cigarette butts. It was sure a big change from high school.

When the Mil. Arts weekend came around everyone got out his ROTC uniform and set out for New Hampshire Hall. After Mil. Arts it was only a hop, skip, and a jump to Christmas vacation and then the first rather terrifying bout with final exams. An unusually high number pulled through though.

With the coming of Winter Carnival, two members of the class of '56 were nominated for queen. Marjorie Covell and Ruth Granston were chosen as aides for the big ball and took their smiling place with upperclass royalty.

Second semester was pretty smooth sailing because almost everybody knew what he was doing by then. Hour exams were now old stuff and everyone in English 2 learned with a sigh of relief that there would be no term paper required.

Before long it was spring and the arrival of the sun in Durham heralded the coming of beach parties and baseball. It was over shortly after that and everyone left realizing that already one year was all gone.

Back in Durham as sophomores, the Class of 1956 elected Bob Narkis, President; Fred Tilton, Vice-President; Ken Dodge, Treasurer; and Betty Ann Raders, Secretary. Betty Ann went on to become Queen of the ROTC Drill Team.

The football season was a championship one that had everyone anxiously waiting by telephones for the scores of out-of-town games. The Bean Pot finally came back to Durham amid many cheers.

Mil. Arts came around again and with it some more class of '56 candidates for the coveted position of Honorary Cadet Colonel. Betty Crowe and Ruth Granston held up the sophomores' honor by being aides to the queen. More exams, Christmas, and finals brought an end to first semester.

Second semester was a repetition of the first year. Winter held on with unexpected snow storms until the end of March, but spring vacation seemed to come early and after that there were just two more months of being sophomores. Choosing next year's courses and taking trips to the beach occupied most of the spring. In the final rush to study for finals the year ended. The sophomore class wished good luck to their senior friends and looked forward to coming back to Durham as juniors.

Freshman Class History

THE class of 1957 hit the University of New Hampshire campus with more spirit than any other class in years. Arriving in Durham after three busy days at Freshman Camp, the new members of the University family took the lines, the meetings, and the Sphinx all in their stride.

Commons was in an uproar. Sphinx member came into every meal and had the freshmen cheering and singing so much that the long space lines were half forgotten. At times the uproar could be heard half way to Dunfey's.

No one will forget the beanies and how hard they were to hold on to. It seemed as if they were always getting lost, forgotten, or just plain worn at the wrong time. Prexy's Promenade was off limits until one dark night the class of '57 invaded it and left an indelible mark that made the whole campus sit up and take notice. The big, red footprints went all the way from Garrison Avenue to Ballard Street.

With every victory that the UNH Wildcats piled up, the freshman dutifully trooped up to T-Hall and made the bell ring until everyone thought it would crack. One time, somebody got so enthusiastic that the bell was rung before UNH was sure of its victory. The frosh marched behind the band to all the games and even had their own special cheerleaders, the Pepkittens.

Came University Day, and with it an official chance to ditch the beanies. The sophomores came through with the winning teams, however, and so the beanies were supposed to stay—they disappeared anyway.

In December came the first big dance of the year and with it a very new and exciting two-thirty permission. The girls were so happy about not having to be in the dorms at nine o'clock that more freshmen attended the formal than any other class.

The first semester came to an end and a terrifying round of finals came with it. Most of the class of '57 had never had a three hour exam before but by the time the first week of finals was over, the freshmen were as blasé as the seniors.

At the beginning of second semester, the girls got 10 o'clocks for every night of the week. This new late permission meant that they could stay out until the library closed.

In February, the long awaited Winter Carnival came around. Everybody had been hearing about it for months and suddenly it had come. Most of the fraternity and sorority houses began great secret projects which turned out to be immense statues, some beautifully colored, some just plain funny. Everyone went to the big Carnival to hear the orchestra and join in the fun.

Rushing began with the second semester and the men began touring the fourteen houses every Wednesday and Saturday night. The girls went on guided tours and made afternoon visits and went to parties. Finally it was all over and the bids came out and many freshmen began a new part of their college life.

Spring had been hanging around Durham most of the winter so when the calendar said it should really be spring, the snow began to fall and the slush piled up and the temperature dropped. Along came the Junior Prom, baseball, beach parties, and all the other things that are a part of college. The first year was all over and already some were feeling sorry that there were only three more left.

Student Senate

SINCE the spring of 1951, Student Senate has been the official voice of the students on the University of New Hampshire campus. In this, its third year of operation, Student Senate has won increasing prominence in its roles of coordinating body between the students and the faculty and as top student governing body. It has been the policy of this year's Senate to, in the words of its Constitution, "Promote the best interests of the University of New Hampshire in all matters which come within the province of the student body."

Composed of representatives from all campus housing units, plus a delegation from the commuting students, Senate has one representative for approximately each fifty undergraduate students at the University. Through this broad basis, Senate endeavors both to discover and to develop student opinion. In accordance with this, Senate has this year acted in a number of fields. Among these were its consideration of the five day academic week, a new type of student identity card, the Rolling Ridge Conference on Campus Affairs, the investigation into "nepotism" in student organizations; its sponsoring of such activities as the Campus Chest Fund, Hi-U Day, orientation week and the contest for a seal and flag to symbolize Student Government.

No organization of Senate's size can function without committees. The Executive Committee, headed by president Carleton Eldredge, and composed of vice-president Martha Grace (later Frances Beals), secretary Kathryn Walker, treasurer Bruce Wetmore, corresponding secretary Nancy Fels and members-at-large Richard Hewitt, Shirley Richardson and Jerold Shapiro, has given over all direction to Senate affairs. The Joint Budget and Constitutions Investigating Committee under chairman Tom Steen conducted the "nepotism" inquiry which uncovered undesirable situations in several organizations and led to a re-evaluation of membership selection procedures in these organizations. Under the chairmanship of Robert C. Sampson and later Richard Slayton the Publicity Committee conducted a contest for the best design for a Senate seal, awarding a $25 prize to the winner.

With Shirley Rondow as chairman, the Senate Welfare Committee this year expanded the annual Campus Chest Fund campaign into a week long program of activities designed to raise money not only for current charitable purposes, but to enable the Committee to set up a reserve fund for emergencies. Senate carried out its judicial functions through its Men's and Women's Judiciary Committees under Douglas Jones and Ann Meader. As in the past, Senate continued its sponsorship of the Rolling Ridge Conference. This year, however, Senate has set up a new pattern for the Conference so that for next year it will consist of representatives of responsible campus governmental bodies rather than the more general representation which has often prevailed in the past.

Nancy Fels

Bruce Wetmore

Kathy Walker

As always, the work both of the Senate as a whole and the work of its committees has been facilitated by the cooperation of Senate's advisors, Dean Everett B. Sackett and Associate Deans William Medesy and Dorothy Snyder.

This year's Student Senate will perhaps be long remembered for the colorful personalities in and associated with it. The issues which have been raised this year have often been controversial, but behind the sound and the fury there is a record of solid accomplishment.

Calvin Canney, Editor-in-Chief.

Granite

Marilyn Hollis and Nancy Anderson.

Louie Georgopoulos.

THERE have been many GRANITES stretching way back into the dim, dark history of UNH. Some of them were thicker than this one, some were thinner. Some had blue covers, some had brown, green, or red, but none of them will mean as much (to the seniors at least) as the 1954 GRANITE. Years from now you will look at it and say "Remember when . . ." or you will come across the picture of a friend that you haven't seen for a long time and the memories will all come back.

When work on this year's GRANITE began last October, it seemed like there were countless Wednesday nights ahead. Assignments were put off until the next week and everyone wondered what all the rush was about. Somehow most of the deadlines were met and the mountains of sheets of paper got off to the publishers.

Despite winter wind and Student Senate investigations, the crew faithfully put in its time up on creaking Ballard Hall's third floor. The noise on Wednesday nights was really terrific. A dozen typewriters were usually going, someone was making out bills, and the buzz of a huddled conversation about the layout all competed with the singing and trumpet playing going on downstairs.

The most important thing about any activity, be it a publication or football game, is the people that make up the backbone of the organization. In the GRANITE each member of the staff had an important job to do. With the aid of a dozen or so heelers and an occasional push Edwina Sutherland, Pat Walker.

Jim Merritt, Pris Hudson.

Laura Moore, Karen Schriever

from the editor, it all got done.

Cal Canny, the Editor, can look on this yearbook as particularly his own. Not only did he spend a lot of time with the publisher planning layouts, but he was the only one that everybody could be sure would be at Ballard Hall every Wednesday night. He was incredibly patient and had an answer to every question. For some reason, Cal never got mad even when the work was late and people seemed more interested in talking than in putting out a yearbook.

Helping Cal and learning some of the ropes was Don Black, the able Associate Editor. Business Manager, Gerry Rheault, probably sent out more letters and bills than anyone on campus outside of T Hall. He seemed to understand all about the art of keeping books in some semblance of order.

Advertising Manager, John Lunt, had a "system" that seemed to work even when nothing else did. His countless trips to Dover, Portsmouth, and Manchester resulted in a lot of advertisements for this yearbook.

Jim Merritt, the Literary Editor, saw the GRANITE as a mountain of uncorrected writeups. With the aid of his assistant, Priscilla Hudson, the writeups were corrected, the extra words added on to those that were too short, and the class histories completed.

Gerry Rheault, John Lunt.

Mary Kilgore, Don Black.

Features Editor, Joan Clark, tried desperately to think of new ways of telling about campus events. With a Thesaurus in one hand and a puzzled look on her face, she got writeups that will bring a lot of memories back.

With fourteen dormitories to take care of, Cal Bougioukas had her hands full as Dormitory Editor, Karen Schriever as the fraternity and sorority editor had a lot of typing to do and a lot of hunting around to find the informal pictures that are on the pages belonging to the twenty Greek letter houses on campus.

The art department of the GRANITE was taken care of by Nancy Anderson who pondered a long time over her ideas. Her work is what makes this year's book original.

The all important Senior Editor was Edwina Sutherland who, with the aid of Pat Walker, spent hours going over lists of activities, sorting out senior pictures and trying to find out who was who. Up until the very last minute, she was proofreading long lists of names to make sure that the names were spelled right and no activities left out of each senior's writeup.

Organization Editor, Laurie Moore, had to make sure that the dozens of campus activities got their writeups in on time. Her phone calls probably reached the thousand mark before the year was half done.

The GRANITE'S sports department was done by Louie Georgopoulos who seemed to enjoy every minute of his work. Louie's sense of humor brightened many a long Wednesday night.

Photographer Collis Beck carried his bulky equipment around to every campus event from the big dances to all the sporting events and got the informal shots that fill the pages of this book.

Nancy White was the secretary who wrote all the official letters and helped wherever help was needed most.

And so it goes. Another staff has put out another yearbook. We hope you like it because it was a lot of fun.

Joan Clark.

The New Hampshire

'The New Hampshire' Finishes 42nd Year

Staff Points With Pride to Role As 'Conscience, Critic'

The typewriters are quiet now in Ballard Hall.

Closing up shop for the school year, The New Hampshire, undergraduate weekly at the University of New Hampshire, this week published the last issue of its forty-second year in Durham. "Well, that's that," one news editor said as he pitched the last sheaf of copy onto the Managing Editor's desk.

"Yes, that's that," the Administration officials would probably have agreed, if they had overheard the remark.

"Conscience, Critic"

For The New Hampshire is more than just a chronicle of the happenings of the University. It uses its eight pages and its four thousand copies each week as a conscience and as a critic. "We fight for a lot of things," its editor will tell you, "for stronger student government, for a more loyal student body, for everyday academic freedom, for a campus that is clean and beautiful in the New England tradition—but they all add up to one thing: a better University of New Hampshire."

In carrying out its editorial aim, the paper and its staff of 40 students have campaigned for things from better attendance at concerts, to student support of a new Student Union building; and they have campaigned against things from reckless driving to functional architecture.

No Controls

In its role as critic and commentator, the newspaper often steps on the toes of Administration, which virtually suspends work on a Thursday afternoon to scan the week's editorials with an anxious eye. But the newspaper staff points with pride to the fact that there has never been an attempt to control the contents of The New Hampshire, no matter how many times it shakes those Victorian spires.

News and views make a newspaper, and the weekly prides itself on both duties.

A College Newspaper

A college newspaper is a lot of things.

It serves as a weekly chronicle of events, as a time-waster between ROTC drill and suppertime, as an ennobling influence on campus mores, as a medium for pressing trousers, as a provider of intellectual stimulation, as a method of straightening wobbly desks, as a vehicle for student creative writing, as a protector of text-books in rainy weather, as a training-school for student journalism, and as a fly-swatter. It is the most inevitable, the most criticized, the most-awaited, and the most enduring phenomenon on a college campus.

Student governments can pass legislation, get into headlines, can have their picture in the paper, can introduce distinguished visitors. Class presidents can make speeches, football players get cheered by three thousand students, theatrical organizations take curtain-calls. Honorary societies wear blue jackets, political clubs shake hands with the governor, dean's list students get on the honor roll.

But the staff of a college newspaper must work in anonymity, never meets the governor, never gets cheered or takes a curtain call, never makes the headlines, and wears nothing but a perpetual frown and a peptic ulcer. Only the newspaper staff is forced to its campaigns for betterment ignored, its laborious work gracing the men's room floor, its experiments in typography and style unappreciated.

And only a college newspaper staff is damn-fool enough not to want to change places with anybody else on campus.

Because, in the final analysis, the staff of a college newspaper is the only group that can have the satisfaction of seeing its thousands of words coming out in uneraseable type every week; of saying what it wants to say in a method that reaches every student and every professor; of knowing that it is doing something for its school that nobody else could do in quite the same way; and of working with a group of students that—no matter how much they may be abused, over-worked, and sworn at—will always be back for more, just because they want to work on a college newspaper.

Senior Skulls

SENIOR SKULLS, the oldest organization of its kind on campus, was founded in 1909 by a group of seniors for the purpose of bringing recognition to the outstanding men of its class. The group's membership is composed of fifteen men who have demonstrated superior qualities of leadership in extra-curricular activities, who have high character and a satisfactory scholastic standing.

The society operates as a service organization for the University. In this capacity, its largest responsibility lies in the field of intramural sports. Since the organization of the program many years ago by Senior Skulls, the group has spent a great deal of time in setting up schedules and rule books, in seeing that games are played, and in compiling results. The program includes participation by all fraternities and men's dormitories in football, basketball, softball, golf, tennis, and track. At the close of each academic year, the Skulls award the All-Point Trophy to the team which has amassed the greatest number of points during the year.

Another activity of the society is to meet all visiting athletic teams, freshman and varsity, and insure them of the best facilities possible during their stay.

As a service to the University, the Skulls also supply ushers at various functions, and members to serve as guides for important campus guests.

In the spring, the Skulls for the benefit of the Campus Chest Fund, sponsor and produce the Faculty Frolics variety show. During this campaign, the organization raises further contributions to the fund by ruffling themselves off to the winning co-ed who is designated as the "Senior Skull Sweetheart." She is escorted day and night for a week to various social functions by the members of the Skulls.

The year's membership greatly reflected the ideals of Senior Skulls. Among the members were the President of Newman Club, the President of Scabbard and Blade, the President of the Inter-Fraternity Council, the Editor of the New Hampshire, four fraternity Presidents, three members of the varsity football and basketball teams, and two candidates for Phi Beta Kappa, highest scholastic honorary society in the country.

It is the never-ending aim of the Senior Skulls to be always ready to assist the University organizations in any way they can, to further friendly relations among the students on campus, and to promote the welfare and prestige of the University of New Hampshire.

Blue Key

IN 1921 a group of seniors formed a senior men's honorary society and since that time Blue Key has played an important part in the extra-curricular life at the University of New Hampshire. The 15 men chosen each year are selected on the basis of "qualities of leadership, successful participation in extra-curricular activities, high character and satisfactory scholastic standing."

Potter

The school year 1953-54 saw those standards fulfilled for Blue Key had among its members the former editor of The New Hampshire, the chairman of the 1953 Memorial Union Convocation, the President of the Outing Club, the cadet colonel of the ROTC unit, the board manager of Freshman Camp, the stage manager of Mask and Dagger, the leader of The Wildcats, the captains of track and cross country teams, and members of other athletic teams and scholastic honorary societies.

Emerson

Furthermore, the past academic year saw Blue Key play an exceptionally large part in campus activities. As customary, the organization sponsored the annual Mayoralty campaign in October, when the mythical "Mayor of Dur-ham" was selected from a field of five candidates, and staged Stunt Night when housing units were presented trophies for putting on the best skits. Among its other activities were a special jazz concert in November and a comical auction sale, held in conjunction with the Campus Chest Fund.

Service projects of Blue Key include the preservation of a scholarship to an outstanding male student on the basis of need and participation in outside activities, and ushering at University functions such as convocations and commencement exercises. Blue Key also presented a purse at Christmas time to a Durham family and took part in attempting to raise funds to buy the football team jackets.

Officers of the organization were Leighton C. Gilman, president; Robert C. Potter, vice-president; Thomas L. Snow, Jr., treasurer; and Gordon Emerson, secretary.

It was through the entire membership, however, that Blue Key was able to realize its aims of being a service to the students and faculty of the University of New Hampshire.

Mortar Board

IN 1938, a chapter of Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary society, was established at the University of New Hampshire. It replaced Cap and Gown, a local honorary society.

One evening in May, 1953, nine junior girls were chosen to be Mortar Board members in the annual tapping ceremony. The old members went to dormitory and sorority houses, singing Mortar Board songs, and lighting their way with candles. Many watched the impressive ceremony and felt the thrill of the unsuspecting girls as they were tapped. The following day the new girls could be easily recognized as they hurried to classes in flowing black robes. In the evening they attended a banquet and were formally initiated into Mortar Board.

Toward the end of May, a group of the old and new members drove to the University of Vermont for a regional convention. There they had the opportunity to exchange ideas with girls from New England and Pennsylvania.

One of the biggest projects of Mortar Board this year was service to the University during Orientation Week. An information booth was set up, exams were proctored, a series of dorm parties was presented, and freshmen were offered any counsel needed.

During the school year, Mortar Board sponsored the Big-Little Sister program which was highlighted by a picnic in October. Other projects included selling sun visors at the football games, cooperation with Campus Chest, and other University projects, and holding faculty-student discussions. Over the summer they sent out a welcome and general information letter to all incoming freshmen women. In addition a tutoring service was set up this year.

In all its work, Mortar Board strives for its ideals of scholarship, leadership, and service, the qualities for which its members are chosen.

Scabbard and Blade

SCABBARD AND BLADE is a national honorary society composed of cadets of the advanced junior and senior years of ROTC. The organization was founded at the University of Wisconsin to encourage and foster the qualities of military leadership and to promote friendship and good fellowship among the Cadet Officers.

F Company, 6th Regiment, was founded at the University of New Hampshire in 1926. Since that time, the company has been prominent in campus activities. Among the activities of Scabbard and Blade are the sponsoring of the annual Military Arts Ball, offering a scholarship to a deserving sophomore, sponsoring the Armistice Day and Mother's Day program, and for the third year, co-sponsoring the ROTC drill team.

This year marked the 27th Anniversary of Scabbard and Blade. At the Mil Art Ball, Miss Marilyn Needham was chosen Honorary Cadet Colonel with Betty Crowe and Ruth Granston as her aides. Fifty new members were formally pledged to the society by the Honorary Cadet Colonel.

Members of Scabbard and Blade are selected on competitive basis, according to their academic record, military bearing, and extra-curricular activities.

Arnold Air Society

THE Arnold Air Society is a national honorary society composed of cadet officers in the advanced course of the Air Force ROTC program. Membership is based on outstanding qualities of initiative, leadership and interest in the program.

The Harold Pease, Jr. Squadron of the Arnold Air Society was officially organized on campus on March 14, 1951. The local squadron is named in honor of Harold Pease, Jr., a graduate of this university in the class of 1939. On August 7, 1942, after bombing Jap installations at Rabaul, Harold Pease, Jr. was last seen trying valiantly to keep his plane in formation. He was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor, posthumously.

The aim of the Society is to further the purpose, mission, tradition, and concept of the United States Air Force as a means of national defense, to promote American citizenship, and to create a close and more efficient relationship

This year the Harold Pease, Jr. Squadron was chosen as Area A Headquarters, one of eleven throughout the country, covering New England. Four members of the Society were sent to the National Convention at the University of Illinois in Urbana, Illinois.

Members of the Arnold Air Society are men who have proved themselves outstanding in the cadet officer Air Force ROTC training program. Recognition is given through the society for their military efforts.

Drill Team

OUR mission is two-fold in nature. First, we provide additional training in leadership and sophomore ROTC classes. Our second aim is to provide the best possible drill team to represent the University, the ROTC Departments, the Drill Team Sponsors, who are The Scabbard and Blade, and The Arnold Air Society.

A Drill Team ceremony that is fast becoming a tradition is the raising of the flag at home football games. Short drill demonstrations have also been featured before these games, and similar demonstrations are anticipated during half-time at basketball games.

Last year Betty Ann Raders was elected the first honorary Drill Team Captain, and she was on hand this year to take the review at the football game between UNH and Boston University on High-U Day.

Our ultimate goal is to take first place at the Regional Air Force Drill Team Competitions in Boston.

Promotions for Drill Team members form an additional incentive. During the first semester freshmen are promoted to the cadet rank of Private First Class and sophomores are promoted to the cadet rank of Corporal. There are also three cadet Sergeants in the Drill Team, and competition for these stripes provides additional spirit within the team.

As for the advantages of Drill Team membership, the record speaks for itself. A large percentage of the high scores on Military Drill and Leadership exams are achieved by team members. Furthermore, the number of drill team members that have been selected for advanced ROTC has been extremely high.

Captain John M. Monson, USAF, has been our advisor and instructor since the Drill Team's inception in 1951. The interest shown by the Military Department, and the time and work provided by Captain Monson as their active representative has been most gratifying.

Varsity Club

THE New Hampshire Varsity Club, an organization composed of men who have earned their school letters through participation in varsity athletics, enjoyed another successful year under the direction of its president, Alan Carlsen.

For years this organization had what might be called "routine" activities, functions which included running the hot dog and soft drink concession at the home football games, in cooperation with the Senior Skulls, putting on a dance, and presenting the Varsity Club award, a trophy given to the individual considered the outstanding man in the outgoing senior class.

During the past year, the club sponsored a successful jazz concert over Mil Art weekend; awarded trophies to a queen and her aids.

With funds from this concert and other funds raised, we continued the Varsity Club scholarship. This scholarship is one of the outstanding awards offered to needy students at the University, as it provides $125 annually to a student who shows financial need, an active interest in the extra-curricular program at the University, and a satisfactory academic average.

WITH the coming of Reverend "Neb" Mitchell, the Canterbury Club of the University of New Hampshire became an even greater part of St. George's Mission. Although it is under the auspices of the Episcopal Church, Canterbury opens its Sunday night meetings at the rectory to all faiths. Supper is provided by the Women's Auxiliary of the Parish. The programs offer a wide variety of discussions and talks by members of the clergy and faculty.

Our annual Shrove Tuesday pancake supper turned out to be a huge success and a lot of fun. It was held for the Parish members as well as students, and through that and St. George's Fun Night, Canterbury became an active part of the life of the Mission.

The club is very proud of the choir it has started under the guidance of Mrs. Boak and

Mrs. Morse and looks forward to the time when it can sing in the new church which is now under construction a short distance from the campus.

Besides its regular meetings, a new group has developed out of Canterbury. It meets every Wednesday night to discuss informally the true meaning of the Christian.

"Pro Christo per Ecclesiam"—for Christ through the Church is our motto, for through Canterbury Club and its various functions, we come to a better understanding of Christian love and fellowship.

THE Hillel Foundation of UNH is only one of many Hillel groups in existence throughout the country. These organizations were founded and are supported by the B'nai B'rith for Jewish college students away from home. Through Hillel, the Jewish student has contact with his fellow Jews and the chance to belong to his own religious club.

Hillel provides social, cultural, and religious life for the Jewish students on the campus. Meetings are held once a week and the programs are varied to meet the individual taste. Among these programs are educational and humorous films, well known speakers, discussions, religious services, breakfasts, delicatessen suppers, festival celebrations, and social gatherings. Even though the club is Jewish in membership, the meetings and events are open to all who may be interested.

The primary aims of Hillel are:

1. To offer a home away from home for Jewish students.
2. To act as a center for social, religious, and cultural functions for the Jewish student.
3. To prepare young men and women for Jewish leadership in their home communities.
4. To develop harmonious relations with all groups on campus.

The UNH Hillel Foundation is under the able direction of Rabbi Joseph Elefant. The officers of this year's group were: Pres., Les Brooks; Vice-Pres., Anita Mandell; Rec. Sec., Eileen Lis; Corr. Sec., Lois Berkowitz; and Treasurer, David Cohen.

Newman Club

THE Newman Club is a religious organization for Catholic students and has the three-fold purpose of channeling the spiritual, educational, and social development of its members toward those virtuous characteristics which are symbolic of our patron, John Henry, Cardinal Newman. In his own humble life, he attempted to emulate the perfection of Jesus Christ.

Achievement of this goal is attained through a diversified program of events. We have guest speakers, movies, discussion groups, dances, an annual play, and a spring outing. Highlighting our program is: the Communion Breakfast which is usually held on Mil Arts week end; Sports Night, which is a tribute to all athletes of the University with special emphasis on the football team; and the Bazaar in the spring.

Father J. Desmond O'Connor is the Chaplain and advisor for Newman Club which functions chiefly through elected officers who are assisted by a council having representatives from each housing unit. Because of this cross-sectional method of representation, the club is better able to operate satisfactorily for the benefit of its members.

The Executive Council for 1953-1954 consisted of: Jack P. Driscoll, president; Jim McKeon, men's vice president; Patrice Gonyer, women's vice president; Andy Bushong, treasurer; Doris Desautel, recording secretary; and Lee Paladina, corresponding secretary.

With perseverance, determination, and help from Almighty God, the Newman Club will strive to continue to achieve its goals in fostering the spiritual and temporal welfare of its members.

Christian Association

THE Christian Association is the organized expression of the 2000 Protestant students at the University of New Hampshire. It sponsors a program of worship, study, and action designed to deepen the Christian life of individual students.

The CA is guided by a cabinet of 22 members who are responsible for the various activities carried on during the year. Social Service Committee sponsors youth guidance work at the Dover Children's Home, the Portsmouth Children's Home, and with the Strafford County YMCA. The Deputations Committee sponsors visits by teams of students to rural churches throughout the state, over 30 being visited during this past school year. Foreign Student Committee welcomes and integrates all foreign students into local religious organizations. Chapel services are held on Monday and Thursday evenings at 6:15 in the student chapel, 206 New Hampshire Hall headquarters. Distinguished guest ministers such as Dr. Edwin Booth and Dr. William Bradley are brought to the campus for lecture series. The Christian Association co-sponsors Freshman Camp Religious Emphasis Week, and other inter-faith activities.

The Minister to Protestant Students, Rev. Henry Hayden, is advisor to the Christian Association, and does religious counselling, campus visitation, and opens his family home each week to student discussion groups.

The Christian Association is a member of the New England Student Christian Movement, and the World Student Christian Federation. The organization and the minister to Protestant Students is endorsed and sponsored by the major Protestant denominations working cooperatively in New Hampshire under the name of the United Protestant Association.

Student Union

EVEN with all of our eyes turned toward the future Student Union, the Notch has been a place of much activity throughout the past year. For this is the place where new friends meet, and old friends gather for bridge and coffee. The weekend usually finds some special activity in progress, and a sandwich bar which is open from 8:30 A.M. until 10:30 P.M., the Notch is the perfect place for relaxation and recreation.

The activities which are carried on within the building are planned and regulated by the members of the Student Union committees, who work under the direction of a Board of Governors, and whose programs are coordinated by the Student Union director, Allison Sanborn.

The first major program of the fall semester was the Fund Fair, a new venture for the Student Union at which the various fraternities, sororities and organizations cooperated by setting up booths at which students could try their luck at games of skill for prizes. The proceeds of the afternoon fair were turned in to the Memorial Union Fund. That evening found the gala day continuing, with the SU Revue of '53 displaying the best of the campus talent.

Christmas time brought the Christmas Ball, February saw the Notch bedecked with hearts to celebrate St. Valentine's day and to add to the festivities of Carnival weekend. As March blew into town, everyone waited expectantly for the annual Night of Sin, which this year offered a chance to escape to the deepest jungles of Africa, and spend an evening of dissipation with the natives and the apes. Soon after Night of Sin the SU members were hard at work again, planning the Spring Semi-Formal, the occasion for which the Notch is transformed into a place of enchantment and romance.

The major events throughout the calendar year are only a very small part of the work carried on by the eight Student Union Committees. The Social committee is responsible for all of the dances, for providing refreshments and decorations. The Publicity committee is always busy planning ways to publicize the activities at the Notch. Recreation committee keeps the Office supplied with cards, games, and ping-pong equipment, and plans outings, etc. The members of the personnel committee are responsible for sending out a weekly bulletin to all SU members, for the keeping records on each member, and for handling the designation of awards. Baby-sitters, typists, and chaperone needs are referred to the Student Relations committee, which is in charge of the various pools, and well as the writing of any publicity releases designated to go off campus. The research and Evaluation committee keeps the files of reports on the various programs, and meets weekly to discuss new methods and program ideas. One of the most active committees in the past year has been the Education committee, which though small, has planned the very stimulating coffee hours, at which different faculty members have spoken on pertinent topics. This committee has also been in charge of the Sunday evening music hour, and the series of movies shown throughout the year. The Commuters committee has planned a dance, worked on Community Chest, and made every effort to include the group which they represent in the affairs of the campus.

With the extended facilities and space which the Memorial Student Union will provide for activities, it will be up to the SU members of the future to make the new building, even more than is the present Notch, the heart of all campus activity—a place where friendships may grow, new ideas may be exchanged, and a place where students and faculty may meet informally to spend leisure hours in purposeful recreational activity.

Outing Club

THE University of New Hampshire Outing Club was organized in 1915 by a small group of students interested in outdoor activities. It has grown until it has become the largest student organization on the campus.

Membership is open to all students, faculty and alumni. The club's varied program includes both campus activities and off campus trips.

The activities of Outing Club start Orientation Week with many members back on campus preparing for the annual Freshman Outing and also for Woodsman's Weekend which is one of the first events of the season. After this comes the fall climbing weekends to Chocorua, Whiteface, Lafayette, and many other mountains.

Other trips sponsored by the club include supper trips to our cabin at Mendum's Pond, swimming trips to the Manchester YWCA pool, square dance trips to Dover, and work trips to get our cabins at Franconia and Jackson in readiness for the weekly ski trips to "wherever there is snow."

This year, for the first time, rock climbing trips were taken and proved to be very exciting and successful.

The most exciting and busiest time of the year for Outing Club is the Winter Carnival, entitled "Sitzmark Season" this year, held the weekend of February 12, 13, and 14. The busy Carnival program consists of the queen's coronation, snow sculptures, carnival movies, a jazz concert, ski events, and the big Carnival Ball.

The entire program of Outing Club is planned and directed by Blue Circle, the governing body of the club. Blue Circle is composed of thirty-five members who are chosen for their interest in the club and their leadership ability as heelers.

Spring activities of the club include supper trips, deep sea fishing, beach trips, and of course sailing in our two new fibre glass sail boats.

Outing Club is a member of The Inter-Collegiate Outing Club Association which numbers over fifty schools in the Eastern seacoast region. Each September, IOCA, college students gather for a week of outdoor activities and all-round good times. The IOCA Conference is to be sponsored by NHOC this spring.

The Club is fortunate in having Miss Evelyn Browne as faculty advisor, and her help and enthusiasm have been greatly appreciated by all.

This year OC was fortunate enough to sponsor Bob Bates of Exeter, who gave an illustrated lecture on the recent "K-2" expedition which attempted to scale the second highest mountain in the world.

To its many members, Outing Club is not merely another club, it is a way of living and working with others in the spirit of good fellowship.

Band

UNDER the excellent leadership of our Director, Dr. David Smith, and our Assistant Director, Mr. Allen Owen, the University of New Hampshire Concert Show Band has had a fine year.

In the fall as the UNH Wildcat Show Band and with the concentration on marching and snappy formations we had our largest amount of work and our greatest amount of fun. In addition to the home football games and rallies we made a memorable trip, complete with bus breakdowns and an impromptu "dixie" session en route to the UNH-UConn game at Storrs, Conn. There we put on our best football half-time show of the season.

At the close of the football season we turned to more serious music in preparation for the first of several concert appearances. The first of these, the Mid-Winter Concert, was dedicated to Director Smith's son born the morning of the concert. Wearing weights in his shoes, Director Smith directed with unusual vim. Following his example, the band really moved, giving one of their finer performances. Following this concert, the band prepared for Stunt Night, which was very well received, the New-Music Festival which previewed for high school directors and students the newly published music for their groups, the annual Spring Tour, and our campus Spring Concert.

These springtime activities kept the band constantly busy for the remainder of the year. The band is one of the University's most popular organizations, playing at many campus functions as well as giving concerts and tours. Band not only provides the campus with entertainment, but is an opportunity for fellowship and enjoyment to the musicians.

Wildcats

THE Wildcats are well-known on campus and throughout New England. The band is traditional at the University of New Hampshire and the owners and players are always students at the University. Heading the Wildcats is Gordon Emerson, better known as "Buzz," who is recognized as one of the best college drummers in the New England area. The band has twelve pieces and a female vocalist, Miss Arlene Fitzpatrick. They have a full library of stock arrangements, plus many of their own specialties. They do many campus jobs, including the President's reception during Freshman Orientation Week, class dances and organization dances. A group made up of the members of the band have played at Dartmouth, Plymouth Teacher's College and Rochester High School. Recently, the Wildcats played at the Whoopper's Banquet sponsored by Governor Gregg which was held in Manchester, New Hampshire.

One of their best acclaimed performances of the year was at the jazz concert during Winter Carnival week, when they were co-starred with the Dartmouth Sultans. They did many of the campus favorites, including Buzz's own composition, and the playing of Charlie Turner, Danny Carroll, Charlie Despres, and Buzz himself, to mention a few, was hailed by the crowd. They also played in the Faculty-Frolics this year, with a few "hep" members of the faculty making music, too.

Salamanders

THERE are few campuses that are complete without a male double-quartet and it is the desire of the Salamanders to make a contribution to the University by presenting their program at its many activities.

The group, this year led by Joe Copp, is in its third year of active participation and has made a large record of accomplishments. Aside from singing at Stunt Night, Song Fest, Winter Carnival Concert, and other campus events, the Salamanders have appeared at many alumni clubs to promote a closer contact with alumni and to offer entertainment from the University. The group has also had the pleasure of making a guest television appearance. Even though they are only in their third year, the Salamanders have established a name for themselves and as a result have made appearances also on other campuses such as Colby Junior College, Endicott Jr. College, Tilton Academy and Northfield School for Girls. This year's group also took many trips to Boston and during spring vacation appeared in Schenectady, New York.

The Salamanders hope to keep a strong organization, providing entertainment for the students on campus, and alumni groups whenever possible. It is hoped that the prestige and tradition of the Salamanders will grow and keep pace with our University.

Concert Choir

THE University of New Hampshire Concert Choir is a group of sixty picked voices and represents the three colleges of the University. This activity group has participated in just about every type of musical production. It has been heard around the world on both radio, motion pictures, and has made frequent appearances on TV. The UNH Concert Choir has been on coast-to-coast hook-ups on radio three major networks annually for the past five years and has been released to well over 700 stations throughout the nation each year. It has been included in the NBC Collegiate Series for the past four years, and has been on the Christmas Series of CBS for the past five years.

The choir has been beamed via the "Voice of America" throughout Europe, Latin America and the Far East. Because of this extensive coverage mail has arrived to the choir from almost every state in the Union, Canada and the Bahamas. The choir had participated in cutting choral sound track for four movies, the latest being done this year for movie producer Louis de Rochemont. In one of the films they transcribed with musicians from the Roxy Theatre, N. Y. C. The Choir has also appeared in the spring series of the Boston "Pops." It has given many concerts over the New England six state area.

Mask and Dagger

MASK and DAGGER
Presents
DARK OF THE MOON
N. H. Hall
8:00 P.M.
Dec. 9, 10, 11, 12
Admission 60 cents

MASK AND DAGGER, honorary dramatics society presented another full year of dramatics to the campus—"dramatics for and by students of the University"

Under the leadership of President Marilyn Crouch, Veep Bruce Dick, Treasurer Nancy Holt, Secretary Cindy Pierce and Business Manager Ray LaPlante, the organization produced three major productions as well as the Interhouse Plays.

All-out cooperation between cast and technicians produced a theatre triumph worthy of any campus stage. The three major productions were "Dark of the Moon," "Mr. Barry's Etchings," and the Shakespeare favorite, "The Taming of the Shrew."

It has been a busy year, and one we will never forget. We have certainly worked together in fun but with a sense of doing the job well.

Phi Beta Kappa

PHI BETA KAPPA, an undergraduate honorary society, is the oldest of the Greek-letter fraternities. It has an unequalled national record of over 70,000 active members, who wear their key proudly.

"Love of wisdom, the helmsman of life," was the motto adopted by the fraternity at its founding in 1776 at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia. The organization at the present time has "set for itself the noble task of encouraging true scholarship and practical idealism in the schools of secondary and higher education throughout the land." Each year the chapter elects members from the upper tenth of the graduating senior class. The men and women chosen must have shown themselves outstanding as to scholarship and as leaders. The initiates are formally admitted, and the records made by eminent members, both living and dead, should stimulate each wearer of the key to strive to realize his highest possibilities.

This year's formal initiation was held on May 4, and was followed by a banquet, at which the guest speaker was Professor Crane Brinton of Harvard.

Officers of the New Hampshire chapter are Dean Herbert Moss, President; Professor Carroll Towle, Vice-President; and Miss Ruth Woodruff, Secretary-Treasurer.

Tau Beta Pi

THE new Hampshire Alpha Chapter of Tau Beta Pi, the national Engineering Honor Association, was installed at the University of New Hampshire in December, 1950, as a result of earlier work by Dean Lauren E. Seeley and the members of the Vector Society.

The Tau Beta Pi Association was founded in 1885 at Lehigh University by Professor Edward H. Williams, Jr., who felt the need for a chapter of an honorary fraternity at Lehigh whose purpose would be to mark in a fitting manner those who, by virtue of their outstanding scholarship, integrity, and breadth of interest as undergraduates, or by their attainments as alumni, have conferred honor upon their alma mater. Election to Tau Beta Pi is the highest scholastic honor which can be conferred upon an engineering student.

Membership in Tau Beta Pi is restricted to those male engineering students whose scholastic achievement places them in the upper eighth of the junior or upper fifth of the senior class.

Activities during the year include the conducting of slide rule classes for undergraduates and the coordinating of the various engineering departments for the annual open house of the College of Technology.

Alpha Chi Sigma

MU chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma, a national, professional, chemical fraternity, was chartered here at the University of New Hampshire in 1911, some nine years after the fraternity was founded at the University of Wisconsin in 1902.

The fraternity is open to male students who are majoring in chemistry, chemical engineering, or allied fields in any of the colleges of the University who have maintained a satisfactory scholastic standing. The objectives of the fraternity are: to bind its members in a tie of true and lasting friendship, to strive for the advancement of chemistry both as a science and as a profession, and to aid its members by every honorable means in the attainment of their ambitions as chemists throughout their lives.

Mu chapter sponsors two annual awards in chemistry. One, an award in general chemistry is given to the highest ranking freshman; the other is given to that senior member of Mu chapter who shows the greatest promise of success in professional life.

Other activities of Alpha Chi Sigma include: the promotion of an active safety program, pledge parties and smokers throughout the year including speakers both in the chemical field and in other interesting fields, an informed buffet supper and program at Christmas time, and in April or May, the organization holds its annual formal dinner at which new members and the faculty are guests of the chapter.

Alpha Epsilon Delta

NOW celebrating its 28th year of service to pre-meds, AED was founded with the objectives of encouraging excellence in pre-medical scholarship and stimulating an appreciation of the importance of pre-medical education.

The society tries to combine pre-medical movies and social events and also tries to bring pre-medical and medical problems to the attention of the University at large with open meetings on current topics. The society sponsors a lecture and discussion of pre-medical education led by a prominent medical educator. It is hoped that this program can be expanded in the future.

Interested students with the requisite scholastic standing are initiated at a banquet held in the spring. Membership is open to anyone with certain science credits and to those students who are interested in making medicine their life work.

Our chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta hopes to continue to be of value to pre-medical students on campus in the future, as it has in the past by opening up to these students opportunities to become more closely associated with other pre-medical students and professors who share the same interests. It is strongly urged that all students interested in studying medicine avail themselves of the guidance and help offered by Alpha Epsilon Delta.

Under the guidance of University medical educators, the society widens students' interest in pre-medical work and helps prepare them for further education towards a medical career.

Alpha Kappa Delta

ALPHA KAPPA DELTA is a national honorary sociological fraternity, founded in 1920 to encourage the scientific study of social phenomena for the promotion of human welfare. It is composed of members from all over the country who are interested in the study of society and human behavior.

The local Alpha chapter, organized at the University of New Hampshire in 1939, is one of thirty-three chapters. At first, it was mainly for graduate students, but it is now open to undergraduates with a high scholastic standing.

The aims of the local chapter are to carry out the purpose set up by the national organization and to promote a greater interest in sociology on this campus.

During the year, two formal initiations are held; the group entertains guest speakers, a forum is held and an annual lobster outing concludes the year.

Each spring Alpha Kappa Delta presents an outstanding man in the field of sociology as a guest speaker at an open meeting to which all the students and faculty members on campus are invited. In addition to this, Alpha Kappa Delta also presents a forum on sociology for the benefit of those who might be interested in a major in the field. Students are able to gain practical information concerning the field of sociology and social service through these programs.

Alpha Kappa Delta aims to aid those interested in sociology and those whose work is in any way connected with it.

Alpha Zeta

ON November 7, 1897, a small group of agricultural students at Columbus, Ohio founded the fraternity of Alpha Zeta. It is an honorary agricultural fraternity whose members are selected from agricultural students of high scholarship on the basis of character, leadership, and personality. The members of the Granite Chapter at the University of New Hampshire represent nearly every curriculum in the College of Agriculture.

This year marked the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Granite Chapter. During the year the main activity of the chapter has been to establish an "All Aggie Day" at the university. Alpha Zeta served as a coordinator of the agricultural clubs which displayed exhibits on April 17, 1954. The Awards Dance held during the evening of "All Aggie Day" was sponsored by Alpha Zeta. Awards for the day's events were presented at this barn dance. It is hoped that the "All Aggie Day" will become an annual activity at the University of New Hampshire.

The meetings of Alpha Zeta, which are held on the second and fourth Mondays of the month are not only to conduct the business of the fraternity, but also to provide movies and speakers on subjects which are of interest to the members.

At an open meeting held during December, the fraternity had the honor of hearing Professor Ralph Littlefield speak on agriculture in France and his work with the Point Four Program there.

Other activities included an award to the sophomore student in the College of Agriculture who has attained the highest over-all scholastic average and a barbecue held during the spring.

Lambda Pi

LAMBDA PI, honorary language society, was organized on campus in 1945 in order to encourage and reward superior achievement in foreign languages; to unite students of common interests and accomplishments; and to encourage the further study of languages in an attempt to understand the history, customs, and ideas of foreign peoples. The club is unique in that all foreign tongues are gathered into this one society, in order to carry Lambda Pi's purpose into reality. It is the hope of this organization that its members may play their role in the development of a better understanding among the foreign languages through direct aid wherever possible.

Membership in this honorary society includes the faculty of the Department of Languages and students who have obtained a high academic average and who have taken a required number of courses in languages. Various programs of special interest, such as a talk by a foreign student on campus, or colored slides on Europe, are presented at regular meetings throughout the year.

The highlight of the year is the annual Pan-American Pandemonium, presented each year in the spring, with each language group depicting in scene and entertainment a particular aspect of that country.

Phi Kappa Phi

PHI KAPPA PHI is an honor society emphasizing scholarship and character in the thoughts of college students. It is composed of graduate and undergraduate members of all departments of American universities and colleges and attempts to hold fast to the original purpose for which institutions of learning were founded, and to stimulate achievement by the prize of membership. The society differs from other honorary societies in that students in any department of study may be invited to join.

The Society was founded at the University of Maine in 1897, and soon became a national society with chapters at the University of Maine, the University of Tennessee, and Pennsylvania State College. There are now forty-five chapters distributed over the continental United States, the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands. The chapter at the University of New Hampshire, which is the thirteenth in order of establishment, was organized in 1922.

A small percentage of senior and junior students who have maintained a high scholastic average are invited to join and are initiated each fall and spring.

Phi Upsilon Omicron

PHI UPSILON OMICRON, a national professional home economics society was founded at the University of Minnesota in 1909. The Alpha Zeta chapter was established at UNH in 1945; previous to 1945 the honorary home economics society on this campus had been known as Psi Lambda.

The goal of Phi Upsilon Omicron is to promote an interest and understanding of home economics through professional and social activities. Membership in the society is based on scholarship, leadership, and personal qualities; an initiation followed by a social hour is held each semester.

Phi U includes in its activities both professional and social projects, and it cooperates with other groups in the College of Agriculture on activities involving the college as a whole.

In 1953-54 it collected warm clothing for needy families in northern New Hampshire; arranged in Pettee Hall an exhibit of glassware given to the home economics department by Mrs. McLaughlin, former department head; worked with the home economics club on readying for use the new games room at the Elizabeth DeMerritt House; and held several social meetings.

Each June the Alpha Zeta chapter presents an award to the senior girl majoring in home economics who has been outstanding in scholarship, leadership, and character development while at the University.

Two advisors and several Phi U alumnae have assisted the local group this year in carrying on their activities, and the cooperation of these persons is greatly appreciated.

THE New Hampshire Alpha chapter of the National honorary society of Pi Mu Epsilon was founded on this campus on February 17, 1948. Originally the society was a local organization called Delta Chi.

Pi Mu Epsilon has as its objective the promotion of scholarship, especially in mathematics. In accordance with this purpose, membership is limited to those who have excelled in advanced mathematics courses and who have been outstanding in their general college work.

Throughout the college years, there are monthly meetings which enable the members to exchange ideas. This year the society helped establish a Math Club on campus. The aims of the club parallel those of the fraternity but it is expressly of an informal nature and without membership restrictions.

In collaboration with the Math Club, Pi Mu

Epsilon sponsored a series of colloquia on mathematics designed to reach the average college student. In addition several talks of a more professional nature were presented.

As in past years, the society sponsored weekly help classes in mathematics 2-18 for those who wished some assistance in these courses. Student members of the society served at these sessions. In addition each spring Pi Mu Epsilon offers a prize to the student who has attained the highest overall average in Math 11, 13, 14, and 16.

In the fall the annual national initiation banquet is held for new students and faculty members, while in the spring there is an outing which brings the year's activities to a close.

Psi Chi

PSI CHI, the national honorary society in Psychology, has as its primary purpose the advancement of science of Psychology and the encouragement of scholarship among its members. Psi stands for "psyche" which means "the mind," and Chi stands for "cheires" meaning "hands" and signifying the fellowship and research.

Psi Chi was formed at Madison, Wisconsin in 1928, and a chapter was organized at New Hampshire in 1948. It is open to graduate and undergraduate students who have fulfilled certain scholastic requirements while majoring in Psychology or the allied fields.

Since its formation, Psi Chi has served as an inspiration and has advanced the science of human behavior. Psi Chi may sponsor guest speakers on the campus, or conduct meetings for the particular interest of the members of the organization. During the month of April, some of the members attended meetings of the Eastern Psychological Association, held in New York City.

Through its numerous business and social meetings during the year, the national honorary society has done much toward accomplishing its purpose of providing students and faculty members with the common interest of discussing together psychological theories and advances. It has done much to promote better understanding and appreciation of the many aspects of psychological study along with greater fellowship between faculty and students.

Psi Epsilon

PSI EPSILON, the honorary economics business society was founded here in the fall of 1937, with Louis C. Wyman, present Attorney-General for the State of New Hampshire, as its first president.

The aims of the organization are: to promote interest and understanding in economic and business practices, to promote economic and business education at the University, to advance the principles of ethical business practices and to promote good citizenship through an understanding of public issues.

Membership in Psi Epsilon is open to majors in the Economics and Business Administration Departments. Membership is extended to those students who meet the scholastic and credit requirements of Psi Epsilon.

The activities of the society are varied. Group discussions, public lectures by prominent businessmen, open forums, industrial films, field trips, and an annual spring banquet comprise Psi Epsilon's program for the year.

The officers and members take this opportunity to express their appreciation to their advisors, past members, and guest speakers for their interest and cooperation in fostering the club and its activities.

Sigma Pi Sigma

SIGMA PI SIGMA is the national honor society for the science of physics. The University of New Hampshire chapter was installed on May 26, 1950, replacing the local physics honor society of Phi Lambda Phi.

The objectives of the society are to serve as a means of awarding distinction to students having high scholarship and promise of achievement in physics; to promote student interests in research and advanced study; and to encourage a professional spirit and friendship among those who have displayed marked ability in physics.

The University of New Hampshire chapter makes an annual award to the outstanding junior majoring in physics. The recipient of this award in the class of 1954 was Harrison Radford.

Candidates for membership are selected from graduates and advanced undergraduate students of high scholastic standing. Faculty members and qualified alumni are also eligible for membership. Honorary membership can be bestowed on anyone who has attained marked distinction in physics.

Highlights of the year's program activities were the annual fall picnic which was held at Bear Brook State Park, and the open meeting at which Cyril N. Hoyler of RCA gave an illustrated lecture entitled, "An Excursion in Electronics."

Officers for the year were George Smith, president; Charles Vogler, vice-president; Thomas Crowther, secretary; and Rodman Schools, treasurer. Dr. David G. Clark, Associate Professor of Physics, served as advisor.

A I C H E

THE ninety-seventh student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers was established on the campus of the University of New Hampshire May 11, 1952. The purpose of student chapters is to provide opportunities for the professional development of students in Chemical Engineering.

In keeping with this purpose, this year's group has sponsored a variety of activities, including guest speakers, films, and field trips. Of special interest were all day tours of Brown Company at Berlin, N. H. and a combined tour of Dewey and Almy, Esso Standard Oil, and New England Coke and Gas Company, all in the Boston area. At other meetings, films were shown on various chemical processes, economics, and sports. Speakers this past year have included Dr. J. Kenneth O'Loane of the chemistry department, Mr. M. L. Palmer, Mr. Alden Joy of Clarostat Co. in Dover, and Coach "Pepper" Martin.

This chapter was honored by being chosen as host to over one hundred and fifty professional and student chemical engineers for the New England Regional Conference held on April 24, 1954. The program included the presentation of student papers and a tour of the engineering facilities at Kingsbury Hall. The program concluded with the conference banquet and the presentation of awards.

This year's activities ended with the annual spring outing.

A I E E

THE student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers was first organized at Yale University by J. H. Priest for the purpose of acquainting students with professional ideas and problems before they go into industry.

The University of New Hampshire student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers was founded in 1909 as an outgrowth of the Engineering Society established two years before by Priest, and has the distinction of being the oldest engineering society on the campus.

In recent years, a student branch of the Institute of Radio Engineers has been established on the campus. This organization operates jointly with the student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

It is the purpose of these two organizations to further the professional development of their members through meetings at which the members have the pleasure of hearing technical addresses delivered by men prominent in the field of engineering. Additional insight into the workings of industry is also afforded the members by means of technical films, and field trips to industrial plants.

THE University of New Hampshire student chapter of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineering is an organization of upperclassmen majoring in geology. It was established on this campus in 1942.

The objectives of the organization are to promote interest and increase knowledge in all phases of geology and mining and to instill a professional pride in the career which its members have chosen.

The activities of the chapter consist of lectures by the faculty, illustrated talks on summer experience by student members, guest speakers, field trips to mines and a senior banquet.

In addition to Professor Meyers, the faculty advisor for A. I. M. E., the chapter has Mr. Daniel Cushing, Consulting Metallurgist and member of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Inc. as a counselor to its groups.

ASCE

THE student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the oldest national engineering society, was established on the campus of the University of New Hampshire in 1928. Since that time, its principal aim has been to acquaint its members with an overall picture of the profession in its various phases as they exist today.

During the year, the student is brought in contact with prominent men in his field and thus develops a professional attitude. The year's program is comprised of field trips, guest speakers, and the presentation of one paper each semester by the individual student.

In the past year, guest speakers were welcomed from New England Metal Culvert Company and the Davison Construction Company. Among field trips taken was an inspection of the Simplex Wire and Cable plant now under construction in Portsmouth.

The local chapter is served in the role of Faculty Advisor by Professor Charles O. Dawson, while Captain John N. Laycook, U.S.N. (retired), of Derry, N. H., serves the organization as a Contact member.

Under the guidance of the Civil Engineering Department, A.S.C.E. attempts to broaden the field and outlook of the University of New Hampshire's Civil Engineering students.

ASME

THE American Society of Mechanical Engineers is a well-known professional society, active in all phases of mechanical engineering. The University of New Hampshire Student Branch of ASME was initiated in 1926 and aims at preparing the student engineer for membership in the parent organization, and still more, for membership in the profession of engineering. The organization also undertakes to acquaint the students with the more practical aspects of the engineering field, and to keep members informed of the latest developments in the field.

The program, in part, consists of inspection trips to as many representative types of industry as possible, to acquaint the student with actual engineering practices. At many of the factories, company officials have taken time off to answer questions and give advice about jobs and salaries.

Meetings are held every two weeks at which time a speaker or films are presented and future group projects are discussed.

It has been the custom to have an outing early in the fall and a spring banquet. Also each year a New England Convention is held at which the members of the various ASME groups of the New England colleges compete in a public speaking contest sponsored by the parent society.

Mike and Dial

LAST year, for the first time in the history of the University of New Hampshire, Professor Edmund Cortez's dream of a college radio station which broadcast to the campus became a reality. After encouraging the establishment of campus broadcasting for nearly fourteen years, "Prof." saw Mike and Dial radio go on the air with a regular broadcasting schedule through their own radio station, WMDR.

In our spring elections we chose Robin Page to lead us as program director with George Chadwick, production manager; Betty Shaw, secretary; Bob Reis, business manager; Charlie Shaw, chief announcer; Rod Schools; chief engineer; and Sylvia Smith, publicity director.

During our membership drive this fall we had more than eighty applicants and our club membership swelled to forty-six, its present number. We decided to operate four nights each week, Monday through Thursday from eight until midnight.

Perhaps the most important factor in our development this year was the funds which we received through an appropriation from the Student Senate. With this money we have purchased a small amount of equipment which we can really call our own.

We have had trouble reaching the campus through the wires of the university's electrical system, but we think we have solved the problem by moving our transmitter to a different location.

In this spring's elections Eliot Jameson became our new program director; Dick Jacobs, production manager; Mary Powers, secretary; Farrington Truell, business manager; Jim Cusick, chief announcer; Grant LaPoint, chief engineer; and Irene Molloy, publicity director.

With our new officers and with the ever increasing enthusiasm of Mike and Dial members and of the campus in general for local radio broadcasting, we look forward to more and better radio for UNH.

Campus Chest Fund

THE Campus Chest Fund was established in 1924 to raise money for various welfare organizations. This year's campaign was sponsored by the Student Senate Welfare Committee, and it was the sole campus-wide drive to which the students were asked to contribute.

The theme for Campus Chest was "Three Grand and a Helping Hand." The goal was $3,000, and the money was given to thirteen state, national, and international organizations, and to an emergency fund which provides money at a time of disaster or for other unexpected needs.

The Steering Committee was composed of members of campus organizations, housing units, and the Student Senate Welfare Committee. These students, together with the faculty, student solicitors, and the administration, all generously donated their time to Campus Chest.

The campaign consisted of projects, each under the direction of various campus organizations. It was opened by a Faculty Talent Show on Monday, March 15. During the week, the deans sold coffee and doughnuts under T-Hall arch; the faculty operated a shoeshine concession, and an Ugly Man contest was held with the students voting for their favorite candidate. A book drive was held to collect used books for World University Service to be shipped overseas. On Friday night, an auction was held, offering for sale everything from groceries to the services of professors and other campus personalities. The Bill Smith Dance was held on Saturday night, and the winner of the Ugly Man contest was crowned. The campaign came to a close on Sunday, March 21, with the movie, "Red River," starring John Wayne.

With the whole hearted cooperation of everyone, the Campus Chest Fund drive was one of the most successful yet held.

Sphinx

SPHINX, the Sophomore class honor society is mainly concerned with helping to guide the freshman during the week following orientation. Sphinx also edits the Freshman handbook, issues the beanies, and aids other organizations in their contributions to college life.

The Sphinx had a wonderful year; at least we won't forget it for a while, nor will the Freshmen. The Freshmen class this year was really initiated and many unpredicted occurrences took place during this initiation. Duck walks and picturesque drawings on Prexy's promenade, "spirit" drinking, snake dances and the good natured rumpus in Commons were all part of the fun. However, through it all grew a fine freshman class spirit and fine attitude toward college life. Consequently, we feel that we came close to our goal.

We wish to thank all those who worked with us and particularly the Freshmen who were so wonderfully receptive to our toying with their good nature. We sincerely hope that in the years to come that Sphinx will continue to be a growing organization on this campus.

Sophomore Sphinx members are elected by members of the freshman class each year for the following school year. In this way, Sphinx remains a society in close contact with the class they aid. Members are those who have been active in campus affairs in their freshman year.

The society provides an opportunity for friendship and better understanding between the sophomore and freshman classes and endeavors to keep University spirit at a top level.

Hotel Greeters

HOTEL GREETERS OF AMERICA, Chapter 1, was organized at the University of New Hampshire in 1942. Its purpose is to unite those who intend to make hotel work their career. Since the organization of our chapter here many more have been organized at other universities throughout the country that include hotel administration courses. A few of these are Michigan State, Cornell, and Pennsylvania State.

The Greeter Annual Roast Beef Dinner was held last fall. The dinner was a great success as attested by the second largest patronage ever. The dinner is a big favorite of both students and townspeople and is characterized by good food and excellent service.

Some of the more important activities of the year include the annual trip to the New York Hotel Exposition where the students designed and maintained a booth publicizing the hotel school and the University; a lecture and film dealing with wines that was presented by a representative of the American Wine Institute; Hotel For a Day in which hotel students staffed a leading Boston hotel, taking over executive positions from manager to chief engineer; attendance and a booth at the Boston Hotel Show and a Greeter outing that was held in the spring which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The annual Hotel Alumni Smoker was held during the Boston Hotel Show with the alumni and undergraduates playing host to many of New England's hotelmen. This year's smoker was the largest yet and a Greeter accomplishment that is growing every year and is fast becoming one of the more important events of the show.

Phanarion Club

THE Phanarion Club provides the opportunity for fellowship and Christian growth among the Orthodox students on campus. The club meets twice a month and the programs are varied to meet the individual taste. The activities have included religious speakers from various communities in New Hampshire, social hours with various chapters of the Maids of Athens and Sons of Pericles attending, and an Award Night at which time honors and awards were bestowed upon Billy Pappas and Charles Caramihalis for outstanding achievement. Even though the club is Orthodox in membership, the meetings and events are open to all who may be interested.

With Professor Nicholas F. Colovas, and Professor John A. Karas acting as advisors, the Phanarion Club functions chiefly through elected officers who this year were: President, Louis Georgepoulos; Vice-President, Sophie Karafotis; Secretary, Vangie Ftergiotis; Treasurer, Nick Pitanis; and Social Chairmen, Dot Vlahakos, Ted Varitimos.

Throughout the year members of the Club have attended various religious conferences with groups of students from other colleges.

The Phanarion Club is a new organization on our campus and as such has had a hard beginning, but even in this light Phanarion has come a long way.

Home Economics Club

THE Home Economics Club has had another busy and successful year. Under the able leadership of President Mary Drew, the club has undertaken many projects. In doing so, the purpose of the club was fulfilled: that of encouraging prospective home economists to understand and to participate in the activities of a full-fledged home economist.

Students majoring in home economics meet the first Wednesday of each month to engage in the club's many activities and to meet with students in the same field. An informal coffee hour was our first get-together. During this time the Big Sisters and Little Sisters within our club had an opportunity to get acquainted. As the year progressed we entertained the members of the Seacoast Region of the AHEA. The various members of the club who had attended home ec. conferences related to us their adventures to, from, and while attending conferences.

An auction to which each club member brought an article, served as a way to raise money and to have fun doing it. This year, our annual Christmas party, an International Christmas, brought to the girls the understanding of Christmas in other lands. Several of the students from other lands briefly described their Christmas season. An Avon party, a talk and slides on France, and a discussion on opportunities in home economics were themes of other meetings.

In addition to the usual activities the club members acted as hostesses at the Faculty Tea for Hi-U Day. Another group painted the basement of the Home Practice House, made draperies, and painted the furniture. Now the huge basement can be used as a meeting place and as a games room. Other projects included the booth at the Student Union Fair and the selling of Christmas and greeting cards. The year ended with the annual farewell steak roast for the seniors.

Occupational Therapy

THE Occupational Therapy Club is organized to promote interest and broaden knowledge in Occupational Therapy.

Our first meeting was held in November, when we had a "Big Sister-Little Sister" box lunch supper. Afterwards everyone joined in to help make Thanksgiving favors for the Exeter Hospital.

December came and with it came Santa Claus. The annual Christmas party was held in the Pine Room, Ballard Hall. About fifteen children from the Portsmouth Rehabilitation Center were entertained. There were presents and favors for all and how we enjoyed seeing the shining faces of the happy children as they opened their gifts.

The Christmas season also found us sending cards to all former O. T. students and to affiliation centers.

We want to thank Miss Drew, our advisor, for her assistance and help and also to send to her our best wishes for the future.

With increasing need for Occupational Therapy majors, there has been a steady rise in the enrollment of the curriculum and with it, an increased interest in the club which has become a vital part of it.

Agronomy Club

THE Granite State Agronomy Club at the University of New Hampshire was organized on March 5, 1954 by the students and members of the faculty of the Agronomy department for the purpose of promoting and stimulating interest in agronomic work among the students of the campus. In September of 1953 the club became officially affiliated with the student section of the American Society of Agronomy. This student section is represented at thirty-seven universities throughout the country. The Granite State Agronomy Club is the first to be organized in New England.

The club strives to foster a spirit of cooperation and mutual helpfulness among the members and also provides an opportunity for a wider acquaintance with workers in the field of agriculture.

The club is not confined to agronomy majors, but is open to all students of the University who have an interest in soils, crops, and related agricultural fields. Meetings are held twice a month in Nesmith Hall, and members of the club have entertained speakers who are outstanding in the field of agriculture, such as county agents, fertilizer and feed representatives, and prosperous businessmen from the state. Other types of entertainment include interesting movies on all subjects as well as reports from the members themselves.

The club takes pride in actively taking part in agricultural and University functions such as All-Aggie Day. At this event the club puts up a display to inform the public of the club's activities, what the field of agronomy covers, and how it fits into the over-all agricultural picture.

Though the organization is young, it looks forward to a bright and enjoyable future. Trips to fertilizer plants, grain houses, and even deep sea fishing excursions make for a more friendly and informal relationship between the members.

Animal Industry Club

THE Animal Industry Club was formed on campus in May, 1949, by a group of students interested in furthering their activities in the field of animal science. This club is open to any student interested in animals; though most of the members are studying Dairy Husbandry or Animal Husbandry in either the four year college or the Thompson School of Agriculture.

Our meeting program generally includes a business meeting, a speaker or movie, and refreshments. While many of our speakers are professors in the College of Agriculture, our meetings afford them an opportunity to present their views on subjects they would not ordinarily cover in class.

Our big event of the year is the "New Hampshire Royal" which is a fitting and showing contest. This contest gives the students an opportunity to demonstrate, in the show ring, their ability to bring out the best in an animal. Industries and businessmen who are connected with agriculture donate prizes for this show to offer an incentive for the showmen to do their best. The contest is open to any student at the University who wishes to show and has been held annually since its initiation in 1950.

University 4-H Club

THE University 4-H Club is an organization of students who are, or have been in the past, 4-H members, or who have not had any previous contact with 4-H work but are now interested in it.

The club offers a variety of activities which are designed to stimulate thought, make us aware of the changing conditions around us, and continue the spirit of 4-H Club fellowship.

This year, for the first time in many, the University 4-H Club sponsored a major dance on campus. On January 8, a Caller's Jamboree Square Dance was held in New Hampshire Hall.

The club hopes it will continue and that it will become a permanent annual activity.

Regular meetings are held on the second Wednesday of every month. The meetings begin at 7 p.m. and are usually held in the Pine Room of Ballard Hall. The meetings are divided into two groups—educational and social. Some of the speakers this year have been Dean Grinnell and Dean Richards, of the College of Agriculture, who illustrated their talks with colored slides.

Horticulture Club

THE Horticulture Club of the University of New Hampshire had its beginning in 1940 when a group of students decided that they wanted more out of college than classroom training alone. The general feeling with which the club was formed was that students should be given a means through which they would become better acquainted with their professors and classmates. It was felt that in this way interest would be stimulated in the science and problems of horticulture, and also that each student would learn to respect and cooperate with his fellow workers.

The way in which the Horticulture Club achieves the above mentioned goal varies from year to year. Members of the Horticulture staff are asked to speak and guest lecturers are presented whenever possible.

The primary means of finance is through a cider-making project, occurring annually, in which the members get together once a week to press the apples. This income has been sufficient to carry the club through the year.

Other activities which take place include an annual trip, or outing, and exhibits on different occasions.

Through having a lot of fun, doing a lot of work, and making a lot of new friends, the Horticultural Club has proved its purpose—that there is a lot to be gained outside of textbooks and classrooms.

THE Poultry Science Club at the University of New Hampshire was organized on March 20, 1939 by students and members of the faculty for the purpose of promoting and stimulating interest in poultry husbandry among members of the student body. This group is affiliated with the Eastern Collegiate Poultry Club.

The club is not confined to poultry majors but is open to all students of the University who have an interest in poultry. Meetings are held once a month, and members of the club have entertained speakers from some of New Hampshire's leading poultry farms, as well as men from commercial feed and supply companies.

This year the club has participated in many of the shows and activities which were sponsored by the Poultry Department. One of the high spots for the year was the Club's Annual Baby Chick and Egg Show. This show is put on to stimulate competition through selection of eggs and chicks by poultry men, 4-H clubs, FEA organizations, and college students.

The annual chicken barbecue held in the spring is another event that has always proved very entertaining—apart from satisfying the appetites of all members.

Because of the many and varied interests of the organization, the faculty and students form a close knit, homogeneous group.

Durham Reelers

THE Durham Reelers of Durham was founded in 1946 by Priscilla Rebethge Urner, who was also instrumental in founding the New Hampshire Folk Federation. The purpose of the club is to promote interest in folk dances and related subjects. The people of Durham and the students of the University of New Hampshire participate in the activities of the club, which include practice and teaching of folk dances and giving dance demonstrations for different organizations. This is done free of charge or for a small fee to cover travelling expenses. The club meets twice a month and members of the club who are interested in demonstrating meet every week.

This year our special activity was an Inter-collegiate Folk Festival held on March 6th. We had representatives from nine New England colleges and Brooklyn College in New York. There were demonstration groups in the afternoon and a Callers' Jamboree in the evening. Everyone had a good time and we are looking forward to putting it on again next year.

Pepcats

Kittens

Majorettes

UNDER the leadership of Clark McDermith, the Pepcats continued their efforts in inspiring spirit and enthusiasm at rallies, football and basketball games.

Regardless of weather conditions, one could always be sure of finding the Pepcats present.

The idea of having a group of cheerleaders composed entirely of freshmen originated four years ago. For a fourth year, the idea has proved to be a great success. The Pep Kittens, a lively, spirited, and enthusiastic group of freshmen, supported the freshman functions, and also cheered at various football and basketball varsity games.

Also familiar to the student body for their color and skill, the Majorettes added their part at football games and rallies.

DORMITORIES

Charles Phillips

Inter-Dormitory Council

THE extension of student government, and an increase in dormitory achievements—these were the twin arms of Inter-Dormitory Council in the seventh year of its job of governing the residents of seven men's dormitories.

A monthly dormitory newsletter, the inauguration of Judiciary House Councils, and the awarding of trophies to dormitories for special achievements were some of the means used by IDC to further its objectives. Headed by Charles Phillips of Hetzel, the Council made considerable progress towards its goal of building greater student leadership among dormitory residents.

Aiming for stronger student government, IDC cooperated with Student Senate to complete the chain of student judiciary boards, and with Inter-Fraternity Council to sponsor the annual Homecoming Day dance. By the inauguration of dormitory judiciary councils, IDC hopes to strengthen student government on the housing-unit level; by working with its opposite numbers on fraternity row, it hopes to strengthen dormitory-fraternity relations.

In its attempt to strengthen dormitory spirit, the Council this year awarded a scholastic trophy to Alexander Hall, for making the highest academic standing in the previous year. The

Ralph McGrath

Peter Baute

Council also sponsored a contest for the best dormitory snow sculpture in the 1954 Winter Carnival. East-West Hall copped the IDC trophy, out of the three dormitories entered.

Two other moves were made for closer integration of the seven men's dormitories. A monthly "Inter-Dorm Newsletter" was distributed to all dormitory residents, noting the actions of IDC and keeping them up-to-date on dormitory social and athletic events. The Council's Athletic Committee has been working on a separate schedule of inter-dormitory athletics, on the theory that the dormitories will take a greater interest in intra-murals if they are competing against other dormitories.

Inter-Dormitory Council was organized in 1947 as the governing body of the men's dormitories, and consists of the presidents and vice-presidents of the seven housing units under its jurisdiction. Dean William A. Medesy serves as faculty adviser.

Alexander

ALEXANDER opened the 1953-54 season with a full crew of 141 residents; approximately one-half of these were freshmen. (It was largely due to the cooperation and enthusiasm of the freshmen that Alexander's social and athletic calendars came off so successfully.)

The usual number of dances, smokers, and open-house receptions were held during the year. A new affair, a tea dance, was inaugurated during the Winter Carnival week-end. Alexander also participated in the snow sculpture contest for the first time in its history.

At this writing, plans are formulated for an open-house testimonial for Mrs. Norman Alexander late in April. Mrs. Alexander is the wife of the late Norman Alexander, Dean of Men, for whom the dormitory was named.

Academically, Alexander has not fared as well, as in 1952-53, when it won the Interdormitory Council's Scholastic trophy. It is hoped that second semester grades will compensate for the slow start and allow us to keep the trophy another year.

Student government-wise, Alexander has had a highly successful year. A great step was taken forward when Alexander voted to establish an elected House Council, a dormitory disciplinary committee, through which all complaints, problems, and suggestions of a disciplinary nature are handled by the residents themselves.

Hunter

ALPHA HUNTER, "Hub of the Quad," is a new hall this year not only to the Freshmen, but also to the returning veterans. Hunter has a new house director, Mrs. Chelliar, and three new proctors.

The new political era of Hunter has ushered in a social calendar including open house on Dad's Day and Homecoming. The T.V. set has brought into the lounge such personalities as Yrekon Erik and Sid Ceaser. Besides T.V. the lounge has entertained two twin violins and bull sessions at all hours of the day and night. Thanks to Social Co-Chairmen Dolen and Woods the Christmas Party was a success for both residents and kids.

Athletics have been strong at Hunter. The work of Rodeen and Bramley has provided Hunter with successful campaigns in football and baseball.

Future plans of Hunter include athletic scholarships and jazz concerts sponsored by Hunter's janitor of swing—Joe Swenson.

Hetzel

UNDER the guidance of our beloved Mare—Mrs. Inez Adams—who spent her first year with us, Hetzel Hall has completed another fine year in its usual high position among the campus housing units.

We ranked first scholastically among men's dormitories and made a sizable contribution to the athletic phase of campus life, participating in football, basketball, softball and a ping pong tourney for Hetzelites.

Our leading social event of the year was a hayride, followed by a house dance, at which Mare performed her now famous version of the Bunny-hop, and at which a combo supplied the music. Hetzel was host to some 20 children for the annual Christmas party, featuring Santa and a magician, food and gifts, and a good time for both the children and the Hetzelites.

To Mare goes our deepest gratitude for her wonderful influence on the lives of all the 151 men of Hetzel. We of Hetzel are passing a full and rich tradition on to those who follow us and we hope that they will accept and foster it, and in turn pass it on through the years.

East-West

IF, on a dark and stormy night, you are standing under a fire-smitten tree in Soldiers' Field, and you hear old Dan'l Webster turn over in his grave and moan: "How stands East-West?", then, neighbor, you'd better answer: "Like a machine."

Because if you take of men a multitude, of drinkers, a lot, and of scholars a few, you get a lot more than a dormitory: you get the makings of a political machine. Out of the sixteen tons of flesh and bone and beer belly that crammed the walls of East-West in September came the best political machine east of the Eagle Hotel. It turned out a batch of campus leaders (president of Student Senate, editor of The New Hampshire, and so on and on); it produced all time records for scholastic achievement (one resident with a 4.0, another with a 0.1); and it created a dormitory spirit that ran amuck in house competitions (Winter Carnival snow sculpture winners and all that).

Now that the last coke bottle has been rolled down the halls, and the last fuse has been blown, East-West and Dan'l Webster can go back to their slumbers again. The machine has done its job.

Shantih. Shantih. Shantih.

Engelhardt

ENGELHARDT HALL is one of the newer men's dormitories on the campus. It may be found on the quadrangle just in the rear of East-West. It is not an imposing structure, but to about one hundred and five men it is home for about five days a week.

The officers for the year 53-54 were: Gordon Wiggin, President; Sticky Fingers Larry Clark, Treasurer; Pete (Doc) Baute, Vice President; Charles Snow, Secretary; and Paul (Bernie) Belair, social chairman. Half way through the semester Gordon resigned and Pete took over his duties.

Paul Belair arranged several smokers which were well attended by the residents. Our first guest was Professor Steele, who entertained us with various piano selections and an interesting talk on the masters. Prof. Holden gave a timely message entitled, "Why the Republicans Won't Win in Fifty Four." Professor DeBaun also entertained us by reading selections from his private collection. Afterwards we discussed education in the American schools.

Our other activities were varied. The dorm took part in the annual Quadrangle Derby. Our entrant added prestige to Engelhardt by making the run in 1.54 minutes. To highlight the year and show our conscientiousness and concern we held several unauthorized fire drills.

In closing, I wish to extend my thanks to the men who supported my beer parlor in the top floor service room.

Gibbs

IT is late. Lights are being extinguished all over Durham. But down on the southern periphery activities are just commencing. Social Chairmen Columbia and Desmond gather with Azier and Jameson to plan winning Homecoming decorations and morbid snow-sculptures befitting the mental darkness and atmosphere of the hall.

Al Zullo awakens, brushes a clearing in the ashes covering his desk, and plots strategy to win the League "A" basketball championship for Gibbs. Thurston posts a series of misspelled notice, and retires. Veep-Anarchist Albee puffs on his pipe and remains immovable in his beliefs. Treasurer Carlson and President Gillette collect money. They are broke.

O'Neil and Wheeler try to keep order on Wilfert's floor, while "Dad" sits stone-like staring over his gin bottle with bloodshot eyes, oblivious to all disturbance.

The next morning, Manny sweeps up gore and broken bottles, and tells Mrs. Wallace, "Things look good this morning." They do?

Fairchild

LEADING the list of Fairchild's activities this year were a highly successful dorm dance, and a Christmas Party for underprivileged orphan children that must be counted as one of the best on campus. Close runners-up were the Dad's Day weekend festivities with the traditional cider and donuts, Winter Carnival weekend during which Fairchild played host to the relatives and friends of its housemen, and a smoker in March.

Though it can scarcely claim preeminence in sports, Fairchild was none-the-less active. Sports Chairman John Fine sparked a new interest in basketball, and came up with new plans to form a wrestling team, inspired, without a doubt, by intramural wrestling of a less formal sort on floor one.

On balance, Fairchild considers the year a successful and spirited one, not only from a social point of view, but from an academic one as well. Fairchild continues to contribute men to the highest scholastic ranks, as well as to other campus cultural and spiritual functions. 1953-54 saw a house of spirited, friendly, and competent men.

Shirley Richardson

WIDC is the co-ordinating body of all the women's dormitories on campus. Its members, the president and social chairman of each dormitory, meet twice a month. At these meetings suggestions, criticisms, and problems are discussed; the aim being more effective house councils and better inter-dorm co-ordination.

Aside from general discussion, WIDC has many specific duties. Each year it awards two cups, one to the woman's dorm having the best carnival snow sculpture, and one to the dorm with the highest scholastic average. Election of officers and room assignments are conducted by WIDC members, and instruction given to the new officers. Advisors to freshman dorms are appointed by WIDC and are automatically members of it.

This year the first Transfer Tea, for women students coming to UNH from other schools, was given. A recommendation concerning the lengthening of hours for women was made to the Senate by request of the Women's Rules Committee of Student Senate. The clothing rules in the dorms were revised and brought up to date. Separate dormitories for freshman girls was discussed, and a recommendation for mixed dorms was sent to the Housing Committee.

This is the third year WIDC has been in existence, and it is still in a period of revision and growth. But the recognition and use of WIDC by the administration, Student Senate, and the House Councils has led to a stronger and more unified body. It is our belief that this trend will continue to the benefit of all women residents of UNH.

The officers of WIDC for the past year have been: President, Shirley Richardson; Vice President, Nancy Paulsen; Secretary, Ruth Blakney; Treasurer, Mary Sprague; and Publicity, Joan Mellin.

mosphere, North is always the center for numerous teas and activities sponsored by the University. The coffee hours after football games and at other times throughout the year were always well attended with much fun had by all.

The charitable activities sponsored by the girls included a Thanksgiving dinner for a needy family and a Christmas party for underprivileged children. It would be hard to determine who had the most fun at the party—the children or the girls themselves.

A major part of our dorm life was our house-mother "Mrs. Mac." Her many acts of thoughtfulness will long be remembered by those girls who had the opportunity to share an important part of their lives with our gracious "Mrs. Mac."

Congreve North

CONGREVE NORTH was "home" for about eighty-five girls this year. The many friendships which were formed, the long midnight discussions that were held, entertaining in the living rooms and the Christmas party all contributed in the creation of new, long remembered experiences.

Because of the spaciousness and friendly at-

Sawyer had traditional Open House after each game, but the biggest social event was our House Dance. Over forty couples enjoyed themselves in Sawyer's "Land of Goblins."

Perhaps the memory that we shall cherish longest is the Christmas party for twenty orphans that climaxed the holiday season. Sharing Christmas with those youngsters taught us the real meaning of Christmas Spirit.

Mrs. Foulkrod, counselors Jan, Barbara and Jean have played a big part in making dorm life so happy and to them we say "Thanks"—you've been wonderful!

"the shadows" . . . Dottie's impersonations . . . our impromptu birthday parties . . . Polly's shower . . . the early morning fire drills . . . silver and gold . . . midnight scrounging for food . . . popcorn popping . . . Joan and her tea kettle . . . mistletoe and Christmas cookies . . . Carolyn's nightly letters to King's Point . . . diamonds and frat pins—a girl's best friends . . . the D. A. rage . . . Peggy's bed . . . Joan's fur coat . . . "this is heaven; which angel do you want?" . . . Clanging pipes from dusk 'til dawn . . . all the times we've been locked out of our rooms . . . Dodo climbing down the ladder . . . "guess who?"

Yes, we all have some wonderful memories of our year at Schofield. Unfortunately, we aren't able to will our fun to another Freshman group of girls, because this is Schofield's last year. So this is our good-bye to a dorm that for so many years has been a second home to so many girls.

Scott

POOR Mrs. A.—what a crew she had to put up with this year. Shuffling rolled-up newspaper down the hall at midnight (lbs. of it)—and the bulldozer at 7:00 A.M. And remember when those girls got locked in the phone booth? “Which side of the hot plate is working today?” “Are those freshmen banging on the pipes again?”

But other memories come into focus—the informal coffee hours after the games—participating in Woodsman Weekend—group singing around the piano—the senior luncheon—the other wonderful hours too numerous to mention. Your girls wish you the best Mrs. Andrews—we’re mighty glad we lived at Scott.

tivities was the house dance. It proved a great success, partly due to the very fine orchestra which provided everything from regular dances to jazz and the popular "Bunny Hop." Here again the freshmen deserve noble praise for their wonderful decorations.

The Christmas basket, the winter carnival snow sculpture, plans for Mother's Day and Song Fest are among other activities which are a valuable part of college life. Through the help and co-operation of our housemother, Mrs. Severance, we have added another year to our college experiences.

Smith

LAST fall familiar faces in Smith welcomed to our doors a new and enthusiastic group of freshmen. Their spirit was contagious and soon the whole house was bustling with Homecoming decorations, Dad's Day favors, and many other fall activities which go along with the football season.

One of the high spots of our first semester accrammed full of the traditional turkey and all the fixings. Also South contributed several CARE packages. Mid-Winter found us caroling before Christmas and during finals we took those much-needed breaks for coffee and doughnuts served by House Council. Everyone was proud that our candidate, Diane MacLean, was Winter Carnival Queen. But that wasn't all. South had a clever snow sculpture that was much admired.

But a picture of South wouldn't be complete without our House Director, Mrs. Esther M. Dunning, who deserves many words of praise for her understanding and interest in the girls. With Mrs. Dunning plus the friendly atmosphere, South is indeed "our second home."

South

"OUR second home" is what the girls call Congreve South where there's fun combined with studying and where there's a friendly "hi" for everyone.

The year has been filled with many campus activities of which South has contributed its share. Everyone was proud on Dad's Day with South's original decoration and the successful tea. We gave a needy family a Christmas basket

THE Interfraternity Council is the representative and governing body of the fourteen fraternities established on this campus. The council formulates rushing rules, regulates rushing, and pledging, and otherwise helps to promote better feeling and a spirit of unity among the fraternities. The Council consists of a senior and junior member from each fraternity house on campus.

This year has been one of the most outstanding in the history of the Interfraternity Council. The Council established, for the first time, a four year scholarship to be given annually to an outstanding, incoming freshman male student. Also inaugurated this year was the establishment of a minimum grade point average in order to be able to rush a fraternity.

Once again, the annual I. F. C. workshop met with great success. The topics discussed this year were scholarship, Greek Week, and public relations. Many concrete suggestions were forthcoming and as a result many new programs were installed.

Another innovation for the Council was the publishing of the Interfraternity Council Handbook. The booklet was prepared by the Council, with the valuable assistance of its advisor, Dean Medesy, with the hope that it would improve communications between the Council and the fraternity membership at large.

Added to the standing committees were the Services and the Brochure Committees. The function of the Services Committee is to furnish the fraternities with the service of coordinating the work and ideas of the individual house treasures, stewards, and special and standing committee chairmen. The Brochure Committee's function is to outline the development and progress of the Council. This brochure is then submitted in competition with other Councils for the N. I. C. award.

Annual I. F. C. awards were given to the

The Interfraternity Council sponsored Song Fest in the spring which brought forward the best in group harmonizing. A joint I. F. C.-I. D. C. Dance was held in conjunction with Homecoming.

The working theme of the Interfraternity Council this year has been one of the greater achievements and constructive endeavors toward reducing any cleavage between fraternity and non-fraternity groups through cooperation with other student government organizations.

house which showed the greatest improvement in scholarship for the previous academic year, and to the one which contributed the most to the campus blood donor drive. Also inaugurated this year was "The Good Citizen Award" given to an outstanding person in the community.

The Interfraternity Council wishes to thank the various representatives on campus who have so graciously offered their help and services to the Council. Their efforts have been greatly appreciated by all the fraternities in the Council as well as the members of the Council.

Acacia

ACACIA FRATERNITY began its history at the University of New Hampshire on December 3, 1949. Since the installation that night of the 29 original charter members, Acacia has grown rapidly in membership until now it is the largest house on the UNH campus. Paralleling this growth in membership has been its lively history.

By the termination of final exams in June 1953, Acacia could scan proudly over one chapter in this history, the spring semester.

It began with the pledging of 33 new men and participation in Stunt Night, a skit that recalled humorously the bygone days of silent movies. In April, Acacia won the coveted Memorial Union Plaque, given "For Outstanding Contribution Toward the Memorial Union Building." Keen rivalry pervaded the competition for the award, and to cop it, the house had to place high in financial contribution, to support the winning candidate for queen, Miss Evelyn Suutari, and to build the prize-winning float. Later, the fraternity collaborated with Theta U to cop the Junior Prom Float contest.

May was a busy month. Junior Prom weekend, Acacia celebrated its traditional "Night on the Nile." It added another trophy to its growing collection, taking first place in Song Fest. John Dearborn won the outstanding male actor award in the Interhouse Play Contest.

With the return of the brothers to UNH in September came anticipation for the many and varied activities on the autumn social calendar. And now, for the first time since it was built in 1951, a smooth green lawn surrounded the large, white house at 10-12 Mill Road.

The weeks whisked by, and each brought pep one genie ski enthusiast, rising from a bathtub. But the height of this "Spirit of Sitzmark" sculpture was not enough to win, and fun and experience were the only rewards.

Among the athletes who represented Acacia on varsity sports squads this year were sophomore linebacker "Doak" Walker in football; Warren Lyon and George Holbrook, track; Bob Lerandeau, lacrosse; and Dick Field, skiing.

But with the end of each spring semester go some senior brothers. In '54, they numbered twenty. Each carries with him memories . . . of cold winter morning, waiting for prexy Oeser's '35 Ford to sputter into activity . . . the electrical gadgets that clutter Beecher's and Saunder's room . . . recollections of married guys, Cragin, Sawyer, Walker . . . Les and Bob puzzling over their secretary and treasurer reports . . . Lyon, Holbrook and Bob Kimball preparing for track team excursions . . . Yeton burning some more midnight oil . . . Lovell, Morris, and Asadourian seated in the lounge, expounding on varied political views . . . at 11:15, Lerandeau shouting "Last call for Dover" . . . Teddy precariously balancing a tray of pies on one hand . . . Murphy and Rand always "On the hook" . . .

And these seniors have watched a new fraternity expand and flourish, have helped build and been among the first occupants of the new house, and have written much of Acacia's fast-lengthening history. To each of them, Acacia hails "Thanks, and best of luck to you."

rallies, smokers, serenading, and exchange suppers. Acacia ventured into the annual Mayoralty campaign, backing Jack Weeks as Frank Muck, a swaggering mixture of Casanova and adventurer straight from the African jungles. Later, the house entered Woodsmen's Weekend competition, and tied Theta Chi for the first place.

Soon it was first snow flakes and December, and time for the traditional formal, Mil Arts Ball. Saturday evening, following the Ball, Acacia billed its house dance "The Roaring Twenties." At the Christmas Orphan's party everyone attended but the orphans, who were quarantined with scarlet fever (anyway, they got the presents). —And then, finals.

Plunging into the first semester of 1954, Acacians finished second in the Winter Carnival ski events and moulded a tall snow sculpture,

Alpha Gamma Rho

FROM the little white house between Alpha Xi Delta and Phi Mu step forth our contributions to the seniors of 1954. As they go forward to meet the challenges of future life we glance into the lighter side of their past.

We are sorrowful over the departure of moderate Tom, Peterborough's own Guernsey promoter and how we'll miss sweet Bill, Alpha Gamm's only platonic lover. Becker met his mate and now he is standing his fate. Along with this same case our atlas "Pappy" was week-ended by a school marm and gracefully was overcome. Dude Meuse is also about to stumble into the gapping gulche of matrimony whose clutches have already gobbled up chemist, Don Gould.

Old hash-slinging horticulturist Barmby is on his way to greener houses. Nicky Houston, A. G. R. flyboy number one, is bound to have a lot of fun if his Maine influence is overcome. Can we ever forget "Wild Bill" and his short jaunts around the country, and bordering nations. Suppose he will settle in Hamilton, Mass.?

"Mercurite Freddie" has promoted many different "chickens" in the last four years, we wonder if he will resort back to "New Hampshires" in the future? And of course, we will always remember Nick Wadleigh, who dedicated his four years to being custodian of the Animal Husbandry barn. Who is going to replace Rodger Laver? He has been around a long, long time. Wait a minute; we almost forgot Ray, as he goes along his casual way. Will he continue to be unattached? We doubt it. We hail these noble examples of audaciousness.

The Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity was founded in 1908, when two local fraternities from Ohio State University and the University of Illinois combined to form what has become the leading national, agricultural, social fraternity. A. G. R. has grown to include thirty-three chapters located in state universities all over the country and has a membership of over fourteen thousand.

A. G. R. is constantly striving to provide an atmosphere conducive to study. The efforts have been well rewarded, for the house has continued to maintain a high scholastic standing, finishing first in fraternity standing for the last four semesters.

Omega Chapter demonstrated its ability in many different lines this past year. The Livestock Judging Team was composed of 100% A. G. R. men. The Dairy Cattle Judging Team was also monopolized by men from A. G. R. as was the Dairy Products Judging Team. The house captured the spotlight in the Woodsmen's Weekend by winning the log rolling and cross-cut sawing contests to take second honors.

Socially, the house has had a very successful year. The men in the house are really putting our motto "Friendliness is our greatest asset" to work at the various activities taken up.

Alpha Tau Omega

ALPHA TAU OMEGA was the first Greek-letter fraternity organized after the Civil War. It was founded at Richmond, Virginia, on September 11, 1865, and its first chapter was established at the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Virginia.

Its founders were three young Confederate soldiers. Their prime object was to restore the Union, to unite fraternally the young men of the South with those of the North and to foster a Christian brotherhood dedicated to the task of achieving and cherishing permanent peace.

ATO has had a successful season in intramural sports this year. The Taus started off the intramural season by winning their league in football with six straight wins, shutting out the opposition in every game. However, the team lost in the playoffs. Half-back Ken Dodge made the all intramural team.

The basketball team continued the fine league record of the football team by winning the league also. This time the Taus did a little better by winning the first game of the playoffs, but losing in the finals.

In the field of varsity sports, Charlie Sowerby, Willie Johnston, Norm Merrow were members of the Yankee Conference Champion football team. Al Carlson was captain of both Cross Country and Winter Track. ATO was well represented in Hockey this year, also. Skating with captain Willie Johnston were Ed Githens, Marty Ide, Al Carlsen, Dick Sparks, Cal Chandler, and Fred White. Men out for lacrosse are Jim Miller, Dick Calif, Tom Tracy, Cal Chandler, and Willie Johnston.

Delta Delta sees another senior class depart from the Big White House on Main Street—they will not forget the coffee calls, the beach calls in the spring, or the football games with the crazy hats in the fall. Neither will they forget Howard, Roscoe—the house parties and the glorious meetings of the F. A. D. C.—the mayoralty and snow sculpture frenzies—or bachelor evenings by the fireplace.

C'mon-out-to-the-camp-for-a-party Jim with his speedboat and water skis, and Al, with the Boston girl, who ran a pretty fast mile . . . and Barry, campus potentate and functionary as well as Prexy of Delta Delta—"Who's for whist?" Then there's Mac with the Green Buick and 30-30, always after the deer—mans a pretty mean foresters axe too. There's Wally complete with slide rule and beer mug—"What's up men?

Little TV call?—Dragnet and Badge 714 the favorites placing with Love of Life, the story of true misery, and Night Owl Theater pulling a close second . . . Then there's Hump with his Wilbure de Paris version of the "Saints" and "Let's sign up for those phone calls men" . . . and Bob, Delta Delta's own Hemingway with a file full of MSS. and 5's of the best money can buy . . . and weekends on his 10-foot yacht . . . and Bud Booth with the new green Ford convert and the big truck that has carried everything from snow for sculpture to bands, pianos, and red-hot women for mayoralty . . . and Bob, the Derry-boy with a good grade point-bird dog No. 1 and a great party man.

With the outgoing seniors goes another year for all of us—we can't forget the 1 o'clock in the morning script writing sessions for Tammany Hill, or the Connecticut game and Homecoming with all the grads—or the star team in intramural basketball. We won't forget Mil Art Weekend with the great house party and show calls for the ATO ski-boot and snow-bunny during Carnival and the seventy-five couples at the Carnival house party. It'll be hard to forget the exchange dinners with all the sororities on campus and Marilyn Todd, the Sweetheart of ATO and Spring Weekend with Howard and the steak cookout in back of the house and the beach party at Plum Island on Sunday. We can never forget the annual tree-planting at Joe Michael's for each senior class and the inestimable privilege of being of the Brotherhood of Taus.

Kappa Sigma

DOWN past Kappa Sig's famed hall of intramural trophies, have passed seven graduating seniors for the last time as undergraduates . . . We won't forget and neither will they, "Hizzoner," the mayor, the dark-shrouded "Digger O'Dell," the morbid mortician and a 1953-54 mayoralty winner by a landslide . . . Or the second straight intramural softball cup . . . and the third undefeated, untied intramural football champs in the past four years . . . And who can ever forget the seventy-five foot snow sculpture of "Harvey" for Winter Carnival, unconsciously overlooked by the judges . . .

We'll surely miss . . . The "Old Legend" himself, Walter Richard "Pappy" McFarland. No better center (or older, for that matter) ever donned a Wildcat football suit. Now "Old Pap" will head for retirement and the life of a Gloucester fisherman . . . Sal "Hood" Perra, the syndicate's representative on campus. He was on lend-lease to Theta U . . . Fred Perry, the humanitarian from Portugal and our national delegate. (Where did you go afternoons with Walt's car, Fred?) . . . Robert "Zip" Duda (Sam Sparrow to the boys)—he always had the angle . . . Jack F. M. O. C. Leahy, all front lawn lacrosse ace . . . He fell in love every week, remember? . . . "Bama" Rowell, he left us to get married . . . Johnny "Studley" Parker, the great all-around . . . Basketball ace (he set a new all-time scoring record) and track star (he high-jumped six-five in the New Englands with a keg of beer on his back) . . . Yes, we will miss the seniors this year.

Kappa Sigma was founded at the University of Virginia in 1869. It has since grown to be the second largest fraternity in the world, with 128 active chapters in the United States and Canada. Beta Kappa, the local chapter was founded on this campus in 1901, the first national fraternity to be located at UNH. Since then, the "Splendor" of Main Street" has continued to be a proud and purposeful member of this community.

Kappa Sigma athletes continued the long standing tradition of excelling on all varsity teams, the most notable contributions being made to the football, basketball, track and lacrosse teams.

The highlights of a very successful year were two house parties, on Mil Arts and Winter Carnival Weekends—and the annual Districts One and Two Conclave of Kappa Sigma's New England chapters.

Both weekend parties played to full houses; both danced to the music of professional bands from Manchester. The theme for Mil Arts was a Tyrolean Alps scene while the Carnival party was set to the background of a Barbary Coast atmosphere.

On March 13th, the seven chapters of Kappa Sigma here in New England sent delegates and representatives to the annual Conclave. Over a hundred Kappa Sigs from Brown, Dartmouth, Mass State, Maine, Bowdoin, Vermont, and M. I. T. converged on the campus. An informal get-together at the house on Friday night was followed by the business meeting the next morning. After dinner, visitors and hosts held a discussion period at the chapter. Later a banquet was served at Commons. Featured among the many speakers in attendance were President Robert F. Chandler of UNH, Lt. Col. Silvertson, U. S. M. C. Kappa Sigma Public Relations Commissioner, District Director George Nueschafer of Boston and Grand Master Ed Kelly of Beta Kappa. Following the food and festivities, the brothers enjoined to the chapter house for a dance, to the music of "Buzz" Emerson and his Wildcats. Surprise visitor of the day was national Kappa Sigma President H. Gardiner Symonds of Houston, Texas. It marked the first visit to the local chapter by a national president in many years.

Prospects for the future are once again excellent. The Scarlet, Green and White promises to be well represented in all intramural sports, stunt nite, mayoralty, and social functions.

Lambda Chi Alpha

STANDING alone and isolated from the rest of the campus, the Castle on the Hill brings back many memories to those who know and cherish Lambda Chi Alpha. Passing back through the looking glass of time we see the Lambda Chi's arriving on campus . . . some already at work painting, fixing, hammering, sawing, and doing what's necessary to get the house in tip top shape for the year . . . if you look hard enough you might even see Mrs. "Dee" rustling something up to eat for dinner . . . in the distance you might come upon "Woodrow" Wilson and Johnny Grant talking about "getting fixed up" . . . I wonder who wants to get fixed up? hmmmm . . . All that can be heard from Johnny is "I see what you're trying to put across!"

Time marches on . . . A big black beetle just pulled up outside, its Hugo Bag-of-putt's car and with him is our new house mother, Mrs. Fanny Cobb . . . Down yonder on the basketball court Jack Abraham is trying out some new plays with the football team but Jack has a perplexed look on his face because all players aren't present for practice. Here comes one player now, it's "Mu Mu" Allen and he uses as an excuse that Diana wanted some help with her homework . . . hmmm? Moving along to the inside of the house we hear someone talking on the phone, "but Bob, I can't go to the movies tonight," "oh, we'll be out early, Emily" . . . I think someone is talking with someone in Alpha Xi, guess who? Coming now is the bout of the century. With increased popular demand the championship tag team match in taking place. One team is "The Irish Potato and The Golden Greek"; the other is "The Guinea Guinea Whop-Whop and The Flying Canuck." The bout is ruled a draw after one hour of furious action . . . Time marches on!

Out in back of the Castle we see a group of pledges working very hard on John Bohele's new car, polishing it. I think he bought a robin's egg blue color because it goes so well with blonds . . . I wonder if "Angie" had anything to do with buying it? You may be wondering why the pledges are polishing the car, well John caught one of them mocking him saying "hawt dawg" and "cowfee" a-la-Long Island style . . . Time marches on . . . Mid-semester and Thanksgiving having passed, we find everybody in the chapter room, measuring, cutting, painting, drawing and doing what's necessary to prepare for the annual Comic Strip Character Dance of Mil Arts weekend; yes, some of the boys need sleep, but the decorations will be ready, won't they. Frank and Sherm? . . . Same place, same time but a week later—gay laughter, cheerful voices of Dover orphans enjoying the annual Xmas party . . . Time marches on . . . It's snow sculpture time and the boys can be seen working busy as bees carting ice from Oyster Bay . . . And if you look hard enough you can see Sherm Goulding drawing by candle light up in the chapter room for "An Evening in Paris" party. Time marches on . . . Thanks to Doc Devoe the house finds itself having a worthy advisor. From his advice the house finds itself right up on top in scholarship, social activities and extra-curricular activities. Time marches on . . . Through the looking glass of the future we see good times ahead for the Lambda Chi's during Founder's Day Dance, Junior Prom Weekend, and the informal dances on Saturday nights. Especially the beach parties of the sunny Sundays . . . Thus in the future our alumni will look back and reminisce over unforgettable experiences at the "Castle on the Hill."

Phi Alpha

AT the corner of Garrison Avenue and Madbury Road, under the shade of Durham's only weeping willow trees, one finds Omicron Chapter of Phi Alpha Fraternity. Join us while we see what the graduation seniors are doing.

In the corner of the chapter room, we find Bob "Goose" Hoos, the captain of the UNH ski team, who is practicing his christy technique and dreaming about his favorite ski jump in his home town. Bob made quite a name for himself in winter sports, not only in New Hampshire but throughout the country. Sitting in another corner we find Marv "Ex Ren" Levins, our contribution to the draft, dreaming about Thursday afternoon when he as Cadet Colonel will review the troops. Marv is also known for his many achievements on campus among which are being the past president of the fraternity, Blue Key, High-U

Day, Pre-Law Club, Freshman Camp Counselor and many student-faculty committees.

Hidden between two cushions on the couch we find Art "Arturo Mason" Meyers trying to decide which meeting to attend or girl to date. Art found time to squeeze into his busy schedule the treasurer of the Interfraternity Council, Blue Key, President of the Hillel Foundation, President of the University Religious Council, Steward of Freshman Camp and membership in other various organizations. Now we move upstairs where we find Jerry "The Pish" Fisher sleeping through his morning classes. Jerry who was V. P. and pledge master, will always be remembered for his melodious laugh and happy-go-lucky manner.

In the next room we find Dave "Muscles" Cohen who is often seen around campus with his yellow convertible and slide rule. Those nightly classes on the art of weight lifting were quite popular with the brothers of the house and Dave's trips to Dover and Portsmouth saved many a movie from bankruptcy. Watching Dave we find Charles "Chuck Chuck" Eluto, our contribution to Hetzel Hall where he served as President of the dorm and Vice President of the Inter-Dormitory Council, deeply engrossed in figuring out a new diet in which he does not have to give up food. These are Phi Alpha's graduates.

As we sit in the chapter room and think back over the few eventful years we spent at Phi Alpha, we can't help but remember the great and gay times that go into making up fraternity life . . . such things as . . . Mayoralty Campaign . . . Snow Sculpture . . . weekends in Boston . . . Homecoming . . . House parties . . . Sophomore-Senior Banquet . . . The deck . . . and all the many events that add to college life. Here at Phi Alpha they have all been exemplified in their greatest glory and excitement. How can we forget the first time we tried papering a wall and as each sheet went up another one came down, or crashing into parked cars as we practiced intra-mural sports on Fraternity Row, or the nightly wars that occurred on the deck or bull-sessions or all the many happy and joyous moments spent here at Phi Alpha.

Phi Alpha is a unique house. We may be small in numbers but the services offered, activities entered and social standing rank with the larger houses on campus. The achievements of the brothers will long be remembered by the faculty and townspeople and will always be regarded in the highest esteem. The bonds of friendship among the brothers are strong and all work, study, live and laugh together. Our scholastic standing placed us above the all men's average and this year we were presented the award for scholastic achievement by the Interfraternity Council.

The social life, our parties, dances and blasts are second to none; we have achieved campus-wide recognition for our fabulous affairs both on campus and off. Yes, we may be small in size—but big in every other sense.

Phi Delta Upsilon

"THE little house that is always there"—is the quoted phrase often heard when people speak of the progressive house, Phi Delta Upsilon, at the end of Fraternity Row. Whether basketball, snow sculpture, or song festivals, Phi Delta Upsilon is always there in spirit and strength.

As the blossoms of Spring this year herald the end of another winter, so do they end the four years of companionship and pleasure for the twelve "old men" of Phi Delta Upsilon. This distinct group of individuals include Don Bruce—co-pilot of "Bomb" runs to La Cantina; Ted Fecteau—whose choice wit was the source of endless laughter; George McKinnon—if not here, he could always be located at Alpha Chi; Ray Beaulieu—our ex-prexy; "Herk" Austin—the "fried liverwurst sandwich" kid; Tom Clarkson—"the cat" famous for his stability; Charlie Jones—captain of the Phi My Safari; Bernie Isroe—the smoke maker of the engineering department; Ron Smith—the little biologist; Charlie Butterfield—the long haired musician with the short hair (Yessiree, Bub); Doc Hulme—the quiet man; Jim Dowaliby—our gift to the world of music; Pete Sickles—"The Phantom Strikes Again"; and Ron Hill—whose exemplary contributions to campus activities will long be remembered.

Phi Delta Upsilon also has many social functions to its credit. Among the prominent social affairs of the past year were the parties held for all the big weekends. There are many pleasant memories to be remembered by all those who participated in the affairs held at Phi Delta Upsilon. Parties were planned for Mil Art Weekend, Winter Carnival, Junior Prom and many other events.

Exchange suppers and evening serenades are also pleasant memories for all of us. Along with the good times were also the hardships of exams and studying. But it was worth it to find out that Phi Delta Upsilon is nearing the top scholastically again. Phi Delta Upsilon is certainly proud of its well-rounded activities.

Phi Delta Upsilon is a local fraternity and has been so during all of its 29 years of existence. Its independence has been due to the fact that we have always believed in the individual and his rights. Because of this we have felt that we do not want to be bound by any national's restrictions. A Phi D. U. is restricted neither in the religious bias of his organization, nor in his fraternity's racial prejudices—because of this there are none. This fraternity includes both Jew and Gentile among its membership; also both black and white. We feel that our 29 years of existence as a local is something to be proud of and so we are planning a gala 30th reunion next year.

Our members have been active in all the outstanding activities and organizations on campus. Among those groups represented are the Outing Club, Blue Key, Blue Circle, Concert Choir and the Glee Club, Mask and Dagger, Arnold Air Society, Canterbury Club, Newman Club, Junior Hotel Greeters of America, Hotel Sales Management Association, Alpha Chi Sigma, AIEE, AICE, Phi Epsilon, Student Union, International Relations Club, and others.

With the recounting of our achievements and the memories that we, who are left behind, have gathered, we say, with deep regret, goodbye to our seniors. We hope that they will carry away with them all the happy recollections that they have obtained. We wish them the best of luck in all of their endeavors.

Phi Mu Delta

ON March fourth, 1918, the first chapters of Phi Mu Delta were formed. A successful extension program has continued throughout the years. Each chapter has exemplified a spirit of diversified and enthusiastic interest and participation in campus activities. The Nu Beta chapter at UNH attests to this.

At Homecoming Nu Beta welcomed back old and new alumni and had what has been termed the most successful return ever experienced. A buffet dinner accommodated our Dads on Dad's Day and our annual underprivileged children's Christmas party was a huge success. Each of the University's three major formal dances of the year was followed by a house dance, while informal dances and house parties helped to break up the weekly study program.

During the past year Phi Mu Delta has been active in many campus activities including Blue Key, Inter-Fraternity Council, Scabbard and Blade, The New Hampshire, Arnold Air Society, Sophomore Sphinx and the Varsity Club.

After a highly successful rushing period thirty new men were pledged to become brothers of Phi Mu Delta. Each one will add much to the house and they will soon know Phi Mu Delta's emphasis on moral, social and sports activities, scholastic records and participation in campus activities.

Twenty stalwart sons of Phi Mu Delta, outwardbound, will reluctantly leave their majestic mansion this June to bestir this troubled world with their hopes and ambitions. We, the younger brothers will always remember Ray Daigle, the debonaire diplomat . . . the antics of Clark Miller, who always made a party . . . Dave Hardy, a conversationalist on four wheels . . . Curly Boudette and his love for wine, women and skiing . . . John Desjardin and his frequent query "Got a fourth for Bridge?" . . . Ron Guit-tar, "The Round Ron" and his contagious laughter . . . Prexy Bob Potter and a job well done . . . Cal Canney, who was the best nepotist to edit the GRANITE . . . Don MacInnes, the "Golden Greek" . . . Stu Smith, always ready for a quick trip to Dover . . . George Sawyer, who is now Skidmore bound . . . Tom Sears, from ethenol to hair tonic with a hearty Hi-Ho . . . Bob "the Ole Sage" Sager, a guitar in one hand and a glass in the other . . . Linc Fenn "Big Ed Fenley," whose philosophies still haunts his eerie den . . . "Honest" Dick Bruce, the walking man's friend . . . Bob Hackett, man of mystery and blackjack fame . . . Bob Schroeder, who has tread well as Business Manager of the New Hampshire . . . Bill Clark, the wildest man in the world . . . Marsh Hilton "Ed Tilton," who alternates between Dover and the Delt House . . . and Mrs. Gile, our most patient and wonderful housemother.

To you our graduates, we wish to express our thanks for the innumerable kind deeds you have done for the house and the countless hours of good fellowship you have afforded us. In parting we can only paraphrase one of the early Yankee philosophers and declare: "That steel string of hope and friendship will bind us together—forever and now."

Pi Kappa Alpha

AS we see the month of June rolling down on us with ever increasing speed, we look at the seniors of the house and wonder where each will be next year at this time. For instance, where will Donald "Nesmith" Moulton be? Will he still be wandering the halls of Nesmith with a bewildered expression on his countenance? And where will his roommate John Jenthens (Jenkins) be? Indo-China? Formosa? Germany?

Juarez? And what about Wild Bill Gallagher? Will he be screaming "Gung Ho!" as he leads his platoon into battle at some far frontier? Will he gain glory and the prized "Hero" medal? Will Robert Nuttle be cleaning test tubes or will he see the light of day and forsake his alchemy for a worthwhile occupation? What will Russ "Got-a-deal" Rubeor be doing? Promoting a million dollar deal on the stock market? Selling left-handed bible cranks or Colonial fireplaces? Where will our married man, John Clark, be? Will he be dreaming up new and better ways to make atomic weapons? And will Robert Haesche forget his New Hampshire training and become just another Long Island Indian again? Will Ron Gladowski keep going along in his same old worrisome way? Will he finally find an interviewer who does not think that he's too young? And what about our young gentlemen, Steve Thomas, B. D.? Will he be advising the President on economic affairs or will he still be arguing for his A in Economics 25?

Even more we find ourselves remembering the antics of these seniors. Already we are eral Sherman; Ken Smith's baby axe; Blodgett's . . . And then we wrote . . .'; Sandstedt's innumerable names; Al Lelisle's trips to Lowell; McLeod and Gladowski commuting to Dover; Spike's "Dee-dee-dee," are also prominent in our minds. Other memorable highlights were the complete defeat and demoralization of the fall pledge class when they attempted to raid the house, the marriage of Johnny Clark, and Russ's U. S. S. Neversail.

One deplorable aspect of the house was the lack of practical jokers and the high incidence of strange accidents ranging from doors and kegs in various people's beds to the incident of Fenton to General Lee's proclamations. Other noteworthy occurrences were the search for a suitable house mother (age 20), the sudden appearance of those real-gone golf hats and the various caustic letters, both serious and non-serious.

In sports, PiKA made a big step forward as we tied for the championship of our league in football and floored a good team in basketball. Although the latter team lost three games, it never lost one by more than ten points. The most outstanding thing in sports was the manner in which we consistently got into the hair of one of the larger houses on campus by upsetting them.

All in all, it was a great year at the little white house on Strafford Avenue. We hope that next year will be an even greater year, so that we may continue to be proud to call ourselves "Pikes."

reminiscing about such things as Johnny Clark's fudge, Bilka Gallagher's headstands and push-ups, the smell of formaldehyde that marked Moulton's return from classes, Knobby Nuttle's futile arguments with Don McLeod, Rubeor's fabulous deals, Jenthen's constant state of frustration, and Haesche's "dunkey roast." And who could forget Steve Thomas fighting it out for his A or Ronnie Gladowski, boy editor, turning out his Gama Mu "Echo."

As we reminisce we think of the real progress that the house has made this year. We remember the pledge project of painting the "office" and the three who managed somehow to paint the hallways. We remember the parties, both stag and drag (!), the informal jazz "concerts," the very dignified exchange suppers, and all the rest of the social activities.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

AS this semester comes to a close, the brothers and pledges of S. A. E. bid farewell to seventeen graduating seniors, and the entire house looks back over an enjoyable year. Various improvements have taken place, such as painting the house inside and out, a new living room rug, and a new floor in the kitchen. Other smaller renovations have taken place for which we are grateful to all the brothers for their co-operation. With the graduating of our seniors we lose a great deal of leadership along with many outstanding members . . . Freddy Bennett, the cut glass replica of the emerald isle, S. A. E.'s gift to Scabbard and Blade and Alpha Chi, famous for his off key rendition of "Down in Hogan's Alley" . . . Dean "Noisy" Ellingwood—the perpetual Parisian whose four years in Durham have been devoted to a quest for European gaieties . . . Gil "Marble-Head" Bray—the eternal senior who panicked at the thought of graduation and returned for "just one more hand" . . . Buzz "wake-me-up-for-dinner" Emerson—the Jazz leader on campus who lulls the brothers to sleep with his drum solos in the wee hours of the morning . . . Dave Colpitts—the honorary pledge to Alpha Chi and the prize package of Hank Swasey, seen only by his roommates, "What, Who?" . . . John Patrick Driscoll—The "Great Red Father" . . . the Irish immigrant who is a "titan" on the football field, and a leader in campus affairs and scholastic achievement . . . Bill "Needles" Depuy—from "Rags to Riches," party friends gone, he is now our house prexy, benevolent despot, "Meet Cyrano, he's changed" . . . Joe "rubberlegs" Flood—the bag of bones with hair who lost weight traveling from Durham to Iowa, heard from "Tex" lately? . . . Hank "General" Fraser—Thursday's hero with the slide-rule personality, our candidate for the all-dorm all-technology team. Dom "Mr. S. E. A." Ross—our Captain Midnight, last semester's president but a "nothing" this semester, when not commuting to Lexington he is found with "Needles" plotting subversive maneuvers . . . Pete "Squeaky" White—"Let's get a little sack time gang," in everything, our Dashing Dishwasher, "Why you ole son of a gun," the strictest enforcer of quiet hours . . . Win "Professor" Whipple—His daily trips to the garage with his "industrial" Plymouth, Lindall's right hand man, and Ma's walking stick . . . our regrets to Kingsbury Hall. Bob "Slob" Taylor—"I'm going inactive," ulcers caused by house dues, our guiding light since the war (Spanish American) . . . Pete "Fishy" Swanson—Always around except when there is work to be done, S. A. E.'s "cozy" character, but where would he be without his car? . . . Gene "Lightning" Chase—"Let's use my car, I've got plenty of gas," proprietor of the Black Spot whose specialty is burned toast. "Doc" Phillips—"Any dry cleaning?", "When are you guys going to pay your concession bills?", seen often with Fishy coming home from the boat with a "catch" . . . Dick "Bugs" Cameron—All Norwegian, All Traveler, All Geology, All Indiana, All Faculty Club, Could you please spare a few days for classes this semester? . . .

We started our social calendar off in the fall by receiving the freshmen and transfer girls at a tea in October. This was followed up by a buffet supper at Homecoming for the alumni and their guests, enabling us to relive old memories with old S. A. E.'s. We celebrated our Queen Marilyn Needham's coronation at our Bowery Brawl on Mil Arts weekend. The house literally rocked with Tyrolian during our Winter Carnival Bavarian party, with everyone getting in the swing of things with authentic Austrian costumes. Exchange dinners and coffee hours have rounded out our social calendar.

Yes, the seniors can look back on this year as one of the best in their college career, both for themselves and S. A. E.

Sigma Beta

THE Beta Boys came rolling back to Durham this September as hearty a crew as ever gathered in the pillared mansion on Madbury Road. Bruce Dick and Larry Dumont had broken a hundred co-ed hearts during the summer by entering into the holy state of matrimony, and within a few months that rag-time kid, Danny Carrol, followed their example.

During the early weeks of school, while the rest of the campus became involved with the politics of mayoralty, Sigma Beta remained strangely aloof, but the mysterious midnight sessions paid off when the house erected the winning Homecoming decorations.

The tradition of victory was now established. One week early in February, Big Chief Lefty Cree sacrificed his nine o'clock bedtimes to go out in search of the white stuff for a snow sculpture. His sixty trips were not in vain, although he was still too shy to accept the tophy from the Carnival Queen.

Sigma Beta's greatest triumphs this year were Tony Nadeau's parties; from a little pumpkin carving affair to the big brawls of Mil Arts and Winter Carnival—they were the greatest.

With the coming of June nearly half the brothers will be leaving these beer-stained halls, but they will not be forgotten. We shall always remember Peter Ried's lilting Irish melodies, and Paul Canney's sweethearts from Portsmouth Junior High. The TV room won't be the same without John Hood and the silent Prof, Red Pilon. Warren Kingsbury may be far away in the land of Massachus, but his colorful phrases will stay here with us, as will Barry Ladd's lectures on the origins of Christmas. Bob Welch's occasional visits from Theta U will be missed, but Lennie Willy will stay behind to carry on the tradition. Buzz Gardner will leave this land of term papers and with him goes Jack Oudens, dish washer deluxe, and the terror of the night watch. And, with the rest of the seniors, Prexy John C. Driscoll bids the Beta house farewell.

Under the leadership of our senior brothers, Sigma Beta has been climbing to the top of the heap and given us the habit of winning. We, the remaining, promise to keep up the tradition.

Within a few short weeks, Blue Key announced its annual Stunt Night and the Beta Boys, in secret midnight session, voted to enter. The evening before the final tryouts the committee held its first meeting and decided on a plot, "The Trial of Fifi de Pansie." Dialogue problems were eliminated by presenting the skit in French—(such as Paris never heard). John C. Driscoll gave an English narration of the story to help those with untrained ears. When the evening ended, the house walked off with second prize. There is still some confusion as to whether this was because of the skit's excellence or the fact that only two men's houses were competing.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

ONE hundred and seven chapters in 44 states make up the national organization of Tau Kappa Epsilon. "TEKE" has New England chapters at the Universities of New Hampshire, Maine, Rhode Island, and Connecticut. Over the years, "TEKE" has accumulated a number of famous alumni. Some of the better known in the musical world are Stan Kenton, Freddy Martin, Les Paul and Tex Beneke.

In 1932 Alpha-Nu Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon was established here at UNH. Over the years T. K. E. has been, and is still recognized as a fraternity of scholarship, friendship, and fruitful college activity.

These facts are proven by the achievements that the "TEKES" have shown. In scholastic standing Tau Kappa Epsilon has consistently been among the top three and often first of the fraternities on campus. "TEKE" is well represented in all types of honor societies and campus activities.

This June will bring to a close, for nine seniors, four years of college and fraternity life which they would not trade for anything. Here's to Tom Pulsifer, our Rebel captain of the Rifle Team . . . Dana Pearson, the Psychology major who made case studies out of all the boys in the house . . . Bill Dustin who majored in being our Prexy, Senior Skulls, Inter-Fraternity Council and Arnold Air Society . . . and minored in studying . . . Ed Madden, who plays so sweet a horn he is second only to Gabriel . . . and Charley Despres, one of those real gone musicians, need we say more? . . . George Clark, who is known far and wide for last minute dashes to eight o'clock classes . . . Hartly Souther, who has that fabulous ability to tell a joke and make you laugh, even though you've heard it before . . . John Sowerby, a handy man with a gun and a great shot, however, he doesn't need one of his muzzle loaders for a blast . . . and "TEKES" Elmer Fudd, Paul Blood. It'll be a long time before we forget any of them.

This year has been a banner year for the Alpha-Nu "TEKES." We have participated in a majority of the campus activities as well as several chapter functions. Although we received no special recognition in competitive activities, we have experienced many hours of great fun working together. We booted Maine on the "Bear" end for homecoming and our Schiltzmark Clown caused a few chuckles among campus visitors during Carnival weekend. Our parties have enjoyed particular success, especially our Western Saloon with a few of the brothers wanted by the Rangers.

Founders Day was observed by a banquet at Warrens in Kittery, Maine. This annual function of "TEKES" the nation over will long be remembered as inspirational as well as entertaining. Carnival weekend party with our newly installed pinning ceremony long will be remembered by the brothers and their sweethearts. Exchange suppers also presented enjoyable evenings for all as well as some delicious food.

During the past year our house has had its face lifted. We have modernized every room in the house and have made an all purpose rumpus room in the cellar. By the acquisition of much new furniture, all of a very modernistic design, a new contemporary appearance has come to our living room. Many of our alumni have failed to recognize it, because the change has been so complete. We are all extremely proud of our "new look."

Our graduating brothers will long remember this year, and the previous three, as years of fun and brotherhood. We will all long to return when we think of the true "TEKE" spirit we enjoyed in our college years at the "TEKE" house.

Theta Chi

THE year 1954 sees fourteen senior brothers leaving the University and Theta Chi. All have contributed much to our life and leave behind many pleasant memories. There is the "old guard," consisting of Fred Graves . . . We'll always remember Freddie, slaving over Robin the Hood's campaign and displaying his skiing ability . . . and Joe, "brother of long standing," Copp with his song fest struggles. And then there is . . . Leighton "Ace Reporter" Gilman with his many activities . . . Rog "Captain" Berry and his complaints . . . Bill Hutchinson with his two troubles, women and "Florence". . . "Quiet" Bob Keefe, the verbal gymnast . . . Don "Wheels" Wheeler, who slept anywhere but on the deck . . . Don "Rocky" Wood and his snow gathering expeditions with "Sunny" . . . Eddie "The Nose" Cantin, Prexy of the Ugly Club . . . "Red" Austin and the proverbial question, "Have you got any gum on you, Dick?" . . . Bill "President of Alpha Chi Sigma" Andrews and his labs with "Liz" . . . Dave "Deacon" Richardson, "E. B. Rideouts' New Hampshire representative" . . . Tom "Snowball" Snow, captain of the sack team.

This past year has been a memorable one for many reasons. Among them . . . the may-oralty campaigning, working on Homecoming decorations, competing in Woodsman's Week-end, the Snow, Sculpture, the Indoors Ski Meet, Stunt Night (we didn't win, but we had fun), and receiving acceptances from every bid we sent out, for the second year in a row.

The three married brothers: Bob Cuthbertson, Fred Tilton, and Monte Childs, have two little Theta Chi's, with another one on the way.

Theta Chi was also well represented this year in such organizations as I. F. C. with Bob Keefe as ex-vice-president, and Norris Browne as its new prexy; Blue Key, with Leighton Gilman as President; Varsity Club; Concert Choir; Outing Club; and honorary societies of Scabbard and Blade, Arnold Air Society, AIEE, and ASME.

The Zeta's have again had a very successful year on campus and it is with regret that the graduating members leave. With the outstanding pledge class, it is promising that the Theta Chi's will maintain their high standards and good position on campus in the years to come.

On April 19, 1865, at Norwich University a group of students met to organize a local fraternity which in future years turned into one of America's largest social fraternities, Theta Chi. Since 1910 Zeta Chapter, the second oldest national fraternity on campus, has been active in campus affairs winning many campus trophies and placing men in positions of campus leadership.

At the present time there are 111 chapters scattered throughout the country including 13 in New England. Theta Chi and its predecessor, Delta Xi, was the third fraternal organization on campus.

Theta Kappa Phi

THE year 1953-54 has been a year of improvement and success for Theta Kappa Phi, strategically located between Schofield and Sawyer. Success has come in the form of athletics, campus activities, honors, and improvement in scholastic standing.

On the athletic field, Theta Kappa Phi was well represented in varsity sports with 12 men on the football team led by co-captain Joe

Regis. We have two men on the hockey team, Bob Brophy in the nets and George Poirier in the forward line. On the baseball team, Theta Kap was led by hard hitting captain George Cullen supported by Nick Collela, Ed Callahan, and Frank Zecher. We also excelled in inter-mural sports, having copped the All-Point Trophy for 1953 and we are in the race again this year for the trophy. Theta Kaps are found to be represented in Scabbard and Blade, Arnold Air Society, Senior Skulls, Blue Key, Varsity Club and Newman Club.

Theta Kap's jump in the scholastic standing of the fraternities was significant, going from a 2.1 to a 2.3 plus average. "All the brothers were valiant."

This year, as in years past, we have had our usual successful rounds of buffets, house parties, and afternoon coffee hours. This year's review would be incomplete, however, without special recognition of our seniors led by President Tom Mullaney who was particularly outstanding on campus, being President of Senior Skulls, Secretary of Scabbard and Blade, and Secretary of the Interfraternity Council. Tom will also be remembered for his extended weekends home. Next we have Jolly John Burke who has been an outstanding ball player on Chief Boston's squad for three years. Jim "Stiger" Keough . . . a loyal end in football for four years, Vice-President of Scabbard and Blade, member of Senior Skulls, "that picture of Jackie Lee." Paul "Aristotle" Amico . . . member of Senior Skulls, outstanding back for Chief Boston's Wildcats for three years. George Cullen . . . our genial former Secretary and hard working captain of the baseball team. Joe Regis . . . co-captain of this year's football team and hard running halfback. Joe was always up for the 7:00 a.m. Mass. Bill "Nick" Collela . . . leader at all our tea and beer parties, quarterback on Chief Boston's football squad. Dick "Shaggy" McLaughlin . . . always kept the house clean as house manager, and our great social chairman. Al Landry . . . our electrical engineer and Dean's List man, former President of AIEE. Tom Canavan . . . end on Chief Boston's Wildcat squad for three years, Blue Key member. Ron Cote . . . our biologist who is always ready with a joke and a laugh. Jim "Lobster" McKeon . . . our genial waiter, Vice-President of Newman Club, Varsity basketball man. John "Mocker" Mullen . . . our steward who always has a comeback—in more than one way. Gerald Fitzgerald . . . our friendly waiter, Treasurer of Scabbard and Blade, Fitzie always liked snakes.

Our numerous social events this year have included the house parties at Mil Arts, Homecoming, Winter Carnival, Cabaret, Junior Prom, and also our "coffee" hours before the big weekend house dances. At Christmas we gave a party for 25 orphans from St. Joseph's Orphanage in Rochester, Santa Claus, and all. We considered this one of the highlights of the year, and any onlooker would have had a difficult time deciding who was having the most fun with the hoard of toys, the boys from 3-12 years, or those from 20 on. The satisfaction we all derived from this party cannot be expressed.

We are very fortunate in the fine group of pledges added to our house this year. With the addition of these pledges also comes the loss of our 14 seniors whom we will all miss, but who know the doors of Theta Kappa Phi will always be open to them.

Panhellenic

SINCE 1883 it has been felt that joint consideration and action in a Panhellenic association would help solve problems common to all, as well as help unite the Greek system on college campuses.

Since 1916, the Panhellenic Council at the University of New Hampshire has been functioning as a member of the National Panhellenic Conference, which forms the framework of sorority activity throughout the country. Thirteen members make up our council, two from each sorority plus a president. Offices are automatically held through a rotational system.

Important functions of the council are maintaining a high plane of fraternity life and interfraternity relations within our university, compiling rushing rules, and governing rushing, pledging, and initiation. Each fall and winter, the council plans a tea at which time an introduction to sorority life is given in the form of speeches and informal discussion groups. The handbook is revised previous to these rush periods. During this time, a certain number of Panhellenic members remain neutral and counsel those rushing.

Scholarship in fraternity life is emphasized and each year a scholarship cup is awarded the sorority with the highest average. A bridge tournament is planned to promote Panhellenic spirit in the sororities.

The council takes part in many activities on campus, contributing representatives, time and money. One important project is to provide room and board for a foreign exchange student.

Panhellenic then, works along the judicial, scholastic and service lines, but the year's activity is climaxed in April with a social function that, unfortunately for the male populace, comes but once a year. M. E. R. P. Week (Male Economic Recovery Program) with a formal dance and king is planned by the council, while the sororities have beach parties and informal house dances on Saturday.

In order to realize our aim, this year the council planned a Panhellenic Workshop, at which advisors and sorority representatives worked together in an effort to solve many problems of fraternity life. Changes made in the rushing rules and the spirit of co-operation among all sororities toward forming a more perfect Greek system evolved from the Workshop.

Panhellenic Council has meant work and enjoyment to us all. May next year's council have the best of luck and be as proud to be a part of Panhellenic as we have been throughout this year.

ONCE again sixteen seniors make their way out into the reality of the world leaving behind unforgettable days of happiness. Bidding farewell will be difficult since each girl has a special place in our hearts. Though each year we have lost a great deal in our graduation seniors, this year we gained a lot in our new housemother, Mrs. Chase, known to us all as "mom." She has been with us through seriousness and fun and has truly made this a "home away from home."

The motto of this year's class has been "too much to do and too little time to do it in." We shall never forget our trials and tribulations of

Today there are 55 active chapters located throughout the country with our headquarters at Evanston, Illinois. Tau was founded on the UNH campus in 1914, and the present brick house on the corner of Strafford and Ballard Avenues was built in 1923.

The 1953-54 year has been a very successful one both nationally and locally. Exams were hardly over last June before Harriet Collins and Jeanne were heading west to represent us at the biennial National Convention at Pasadena, California. Besides acquiring tans and lots of new friends, they attended a few meetings and came back with plenty of ideas for us.

Meanwhile, back at the house our corporation was working on a lot of surprises for us. September came and we all returned to find deck insulated, bright new furniture in our "place in the sun" and Mrs. Hall, a versatile housemother; who proved to be capable of doing everything from planting flowers to helping with French assignments.

The year started off with a bang as we cheered Digger O'Dell to success. Then Dad's Day came with another surprise—a brand new washing machine and a steam iron. Mrs. North, our Province President, paid us a visit in November. Christmas festivities at Durham and Rye Beach—thanks to Mrs. Holway—and before we knew it Winter Carnival and Snow Sculpture were behind us. Stunt Night showed us a bright new future and then efforts were combined for Ziggy, the Ugliest Man in the World. Both fall and spring rushing brought lots of new faces (to say nothing of spirit) to the brick house.

But right now we're concerned with the 18 old faces that we're going to miss like the dickens next year. We'll all be looking forward to Homecoming next October.

We'll really be lost without Janie's Red Monster which, amazingly, hasn't collapsed yet and Jane's ambulance—the talk of the campus. Matter of fact, it reminds us of those circus cars . . . Out of the Monster comes . . . Judy and Frannie—cigarettes and Sociology . . . Winnie with her queenly shyness . . . Cynthia, the Little Mother . . . Jeanie Gil, Miss Extracurricular, and knitting, too . . . Harriet, exy-prexy . . . Connie, a big future in Rochester . . . Mimi, the local Travel Bureau . . . and Bing, "Good evening, Kappa Sigma," and, of course—our chauffeur, with "Okay troops." You think that was a careful, but look at who's piling out of the ambulance . . . Nancy Evans, with another skit script under her arm . . . Joanie Clark, sitting up with a Good Book . . . Al, secretarily dressed . . . Sue, a very dry sense of humor . . . Debbi, just back from the hills of Vermont . . . Betty, the bottomless coffee perk for club meetin's . . . Joan Clough, or our Gray Lady when the Bloodmobile comes to town . . . and Jane Spinney, behind the counter or behind the wheel.

May we look forward to seeing them often as alumnae!!!!

Chi Omega

TO this page we Seniors of Chi Omega will ??? often in future years to renew the many pleasant memories of our college days in the gray house at 11 Stafford Avenue.

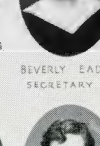

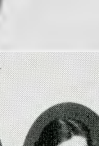

We will need no written reminder, however, of our wonderful Mrs. B., the "gal with the sense of humor" as our song about her goes, who was always ready with her understanding, her jokes and her "heart to hold us all." Neither can we forget . . . "Chasie", the inimitable

"Gertie Goose" of rushing skits and the intrepid schusser of the ski slopes . . . and Karen, our most conscientious Concert Choir member, whose practicing could always be heard above the sound of the shower . . . Annie, with that laugh and skill at timing those scrambled egg parties—usually to midnight . . . "Mugger", whose secretarial efficiency came in handy in her house manager's job, and who always began with "Look, kids!" . . . Barbie, our past prexy whose Chesterfields added even more to her popularity, as well as the fact that her tests told her the I.Q. of every sister in the house . . . Anna, whose volunteering to cook our Sunday dinners proved the maxim that "practice makes perfect" . . . Marnie our Syracuse commuter and the only girl to ever receive an engagement ring in a turtle shell! . . . Bev, with her giggle and the Big Surprise to all the sisters after "famous last words" . . . "The Loon"—that's Jeanie, or "A Pretty Girl is Like a Melody," whose soft voice could often be heard asking, "who's the phone for?" or "how do you spell —?" . . . Nancy, commuting also—to Nesmith Hall, usually via bicycle when she wasn't cutting somebody's hair . . . Joanne, a marvel of patience when it came to telephone bills as well as remaining in Durham instead of Mississippi . . . Swettie, so conscientious, with eyes on New York "for Pete's Sake" . . . "The Glen," our jazzy psychoanalyst with the inevitable cup of coffee and involved discussions in the wee hours of the morning . . . Char, the "sweet kid," never at a loss for words in terse verse of heroic couplets and our creator of "Little Lulu" . . . Cindy, our Senior Pan Hell delegates whose, "Now, kiddies" has become immortal . . . Lois "Jelly-on-your-nose" Dalton, the after dinner entertainer, indispensable at coffee hours and at exchange dinners . . . Becky, our poised bridge enthusiast and champion, whose "Long blonde hair" was the envy of us all (until she had it clipped!) . . . Joan, practice teaching in Concord, but with her mind

Shirl, whose cry was, "Oh ladies, can anyone do dishes for me—I'm going to Boston"—and who finally won the Battle of the Bac-T lab . . . Sylvia, whose gala night life, tales of Groveton, and that accent kept us always amused and fascinated . . . and Harriet, the indefatigable Stunt Nite director and her Mike, our borrowed lap dog.

Homecoming, we were so proud to show old grads our winning Little Lulu and her Kleenex, and happily realized that we would be tripping over last year's seniors for a while longer . . . The Inter-House touch football and basketball championships, the Bridge tournament Cup, our "Robin the Hood" campaign helping Theta Chi . . . that long anticipated Faculty Tea . . . The Christmas Formal when Chi O's hospitality extended to Quarters M at the Portsmouth Navy Base . . . the mass exodus with skis to the Outing Club cabin after exams . . . Stunt Nite, with hilarious rehearsals and no more concern about "ten years in a row."

All these memories—plus those concerning our "Seminars," the sound of "Keefie" and his exuberant tenor at seven a.m. . . . Mary, our fabulous queen of the kitchen, and her answers to "What's for dinner"—and her inexhaustable supply of cookies . . . the coffee hours, exchange and faculty dinners, the morning raid on the pledges—all will be with us for many years. Above all, the feeling of togetherness that we have shared in work and of fun during the last few years we know will be continued by our remaining sisters in the true spirit of Chi Omega.

Kappa Delta

It is June, 1954, and eleven seniors leave us and the home which has been theirs for the past few years.

Here's our best to each graduating Kappa Delta—Marilyn, whose blushes come so easily—her trip to Kansas—also the busy season of track meets—Shirley, always putting her foot in her mouth—Rosclille, who likes long walks—

we'll miss the guitar—Thea, a little stubborn now and then—Doris, quiet and faithful—Rie, whose interesting experiences as a nurse fascinated us—Betty "On-again, off-again" Norton and her library of Joke books—Mary and her violin—Emmy, enthusiastically giving first aid lessons to all the eager sisters—Cal and her little friend, "Major"—and Carolyn, whose flying squirrel was the cause of much comment.

We started the year by supporting Acacia's candidate, "Frank Muck," in the Mayoralty campaign. Then we settled down to painting the house and building the partition for our sun porch, construction engineered by Marilyn and Joy. We also found time to give the annual Hallowe'en party for twenty-six children from the Dover Children's Home.

Then came the reorganization with the guidance and encouragement of National Council representative, Mrs. Mueller, and Dean Snyder. The joy and anticipation of being sisters became real when we were initiated Kappa Deltas in December. We will always remember our na-

James A. Funkhouse, Mrs. Louisa D. Paine and Mrs. Chester Titus.

Amidst our busy campus life, we found time to participate in inter-house sports. Also, we will remember our cook-outs in the spring, the seniors being initiated into the Order of the Tray by Mrs. Rideout, and "Anaconda," our cat with the disposition. Other events were the exchange suppers with Theta Chi and Pi Kappa Alpha, among others, and the many times we swamped the hot-dog man at ten o'clock.

And the snow sculpture—Humpty Dumpty cracked a million times and in a million places—hauling snow—our frozen fingers and the shortage of shovels.

Kappa Delta Sorority was founded on October 23, 1897, by four students at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Alpha Sigma Chapter was organized as a local in 1919 and made a national sorority on November 23, 1929. The eighty-third chapter was installed at North Texas State College, Denton, Texas, in February, 1954, making Kappa Delta the fourth largest national Pan-Hellenic sorority. The national philanthropy of the sorority is the care and aid of crippled children. Six beds in the Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond, Virginia, are supported annually. This work is maintained mainly through the sale of Christmas seals, designed by and sold only to Kappa Deltas.

Our best wishes go to Mrs. Rideout, who helps make Kappa Delta a home, and our congratulations to the graduating sisters, who, with us, will remember 1954, a year filled with happy experiences and friendships.

Another group was initiated in February, including Joannie Conover, Marilyn Crouch, Carolyn Delbrouck, Dolores Eichorn, Sylvia Kruczek, Irene Molloy, Carol Preller, Joan Sarazan, Joan Sowerby, and Betty Torrey. Campus Chest Auction provided us with loads of fun. The nice times that we had helping Acacia on Mayoralty, and also our work on Stunt Night, Interhouse Plays and of course the trouble getting a truck to lug snow for the sculpture at the last minute.

And can we ever forget . . . Joanie's seven league slippers on deck and her plea to pay those bills . . . Queesie and her letter to Ronnie, no matter what . . . Barbie's telephone marathons at all hours and now her excursions at Hanover . . . Ann Wilson, Phi Mu's answer to Kathryn Grayson . . . Anthea's fervent plea for a fourth for bridge . . . Betty Powell's theme song, "Diamonds are a Girl's Best Friend" . . . Betty Stow, "QH-ing" about her many novels, etc. . . . Frannie Beals and her Phi Beta Kappa key . . . Jan, our ex-prexy, with her many activities and honors—Mortar Board and Phi Beta Kappa among the many . . . Eddie's talent for cutting hair . . . Jeanne and her rest periods at Hood House . . . and last but hardly the least, our own Geri, with her dream car, those "chic" dungarees, "like that," date bureau, and always on time.

We can still hear Ab calling Mom Priest "babe" and her note, "If anyone is, would someone please, Thanks Ab." The tall tales that Terry tells in her sleep on deck, Clara being ushered out the door for the 100th time, the finding of a clean barn for the two stray cats, keep off the lawn or a $2.00 fine, if it grows, the loss of a gallon of white paint when Anne tipped the ladder over with Manie and "Moth" laughing, the tactful buying of cokes from Phi D. U. first and then Phi Alpha, and Polly's and Terry's rendition of Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis.

Several underclassmen are leaving us and we will keep a fond memory of them. Betty Crowe leaves with her two crowns as aids to be married; Jeanie's gone to Eaton Town with her husband; Betty Jo is seen around singing "California Here I Come" and saying "This is the last time that I'm going to ask for the Christmas card money!"; Emily (Spoof) becomes Mrs. Jones in June; and Margie leaves all the problems of Secretary Pro-Tem to don a white nurse's cap. We shall never forget the girls, Mrs. Pond and her problems—(us) and all the fun—(and work) that made this such an unforgettable year.

On March 4, 1954 we celebrated our 102nd Birthday, as the second oldest sorority in the nation. There are now over 60 active chapters in colleges all over the East alone. But now the time has come for these seventeen girls to leave the spacious chapter house and our wonderful Mom Priest. The exchange suppers, beach parties, snow sculpture, and all the rest will soon be just memories to be talked about at Homecoming, but we hope to hear about them often in the years to come.

Theta Upsilon

ALTHOUGH the class of 1954 is leaving Theta Upsilon, the sisters remaining will never forget. . .

Mal Needham, our Mil Art Queen, the girl organizer who turned in her manila envelope for a booktoting (?) SAE . . . Brooksie, cementer of relations and burner of midnight oil, and her "I'll play anything" . . . "The Bells of St. Mary's"

. . . Mary Drew, Theta U's contribution to June brides, anxiously awaiting her big day . . . Nancy Anderson, the blonde "trig major" who has lent her artistic talents to us so many times . . . Betty Walles and her record breaking dashes to the window to view the wonderful scenery walking down Madbury Road . . . Barbie Duncan, or Hon, who helped make UNH a suitcase

More special memories are Winter Carnival and the fun of working together on snow sculpture and the still greater excitement of bringing home the trophy . . . the fabulous 1954 Theta U ski team who needed a few days to recuperate from "hay fever" . . . the snow riot on Madbury Road and the sudden demise of our Polar Bear . . . the exchange suppers which were always followed by songs and laughter . . . one of the nicest parts of college life, the serenades . . . the fried egg sandwiches at the 2 a.m. deck parties . . . working together on such campus activities as Song Fest and the hard work, spirit, and fun that went into them . . . the many jokes, experiences, and expressions that bind us so close . . . the wonderful sisterhood of Theta Upsilon . . . and . . . our terrific pledges and younger sisters into whose capable hands we, the seniors, leaving the shining future of Theta Upsilon.

ATHLETICS

Varsity Football

CHIEF BOSTON'S new one-platoon club successfully opened their 1953 grid season with a decisive 27-13 win over a surprisingly strong Upsala eleven at Cowell Stadium. Diminutive Billy Pappas sparked the offensive and defensive attacks to overcome a 7-0 first quarter deficit with a brace of second period scores. Pappas not only passed, kicked, and ran well, but intercepted three passes including one for a TD! The victory, though, was a costly one for the Wildcats lost the services of halfback and co-captain "Jeep" Munsey on a play that fractured his collar bone.

Spirited by the victory over Upsala, the Wildcats upset favored Rhode Island 14-13 on the talented right toe of lanky Don Kelliher in the sensational playing of versatile Billy Pappas. Rhode Island entered the game unbeaten in eight starts. Billy scored the first touchdown in the second quarter after setting it up with two forward passes covering 42 yards; he came within a yard of registering the second touchdown in the fourth period when he returned the kick-off 94 yards to the Rams one yard line. He got his team out of several danger spots by kicking ninety yards, and seventy yards, from behind his goal. Sharing in the limelight was end Don Kelliher whose two perfect placements provided the margin of victory.

The Blue and White continued their winning ways as they defeated the University of Maine 21-6 in the traditional Homecoming encounter. Once again Billy Pappas helped the Wildcats come from behind for the third Saturday in a row to pull out the verdict. Charlie Caramihalas, pint-sized U. N. H. halfback, end Mal Kimball, played spectacular ball throughout the afternoon. Of course, the educated right toe of Don Kelliher provided the extra points. By virtue of their victory, New Hampshire received the annual award—the Brice-Cowell musket.

Hopes of completing an undefeated season passed by the board as the University of Delaware handed the Wildcats a decisive 48-0 defeat. Although the Wildcats didn't have much to cheer at, Charlie Sowerby provided the loyal U. N. H. fans who travelled to Delaware with several thrills.

The trouble started when Delaware nabbed two quick touchdowns in the first period, and picked up three more before the half was over. At halftime the score was 34-0. But the victory wouldn't have been as lopsided had the line been on its usual par. Four of the touchdowns were gifts as they came via interceptions and fumbles.

Determined to get back in the win column after suffering a bitter defeat the week previous, the Wildcats drilled hard for the St. Lawrence game. A close battle was expected, and this is just what took place. But, even though out-rushed, the Blue and White scored their most impressive victory of the season as they dumped the New York Staters 34-0. The big gun for the townies was "legs" Charley Sowerby as he accounted for three of the T. D's. The N. H. defense was just the opposite of the previous game, and really provided the difference in power.

The heart-breaker of the 1953 campaign found U. N. H. losing to Connecticut 6-0. Both teams played to a standstill for the first half point 7-6. Don Kelliher's educated-toe provided the team's victory. Both teams threatened to score in the first half, but the Cats fumbled with only two yards to go, and Springfield had a pass intercepted on the three. There was no scoring the fourth period when the Massachusetts Eleven scored on a pass. The try for the extra point was missed but they lead 6-0. The Wild-with UConn being stopped several times from scoring. But then the fourth Wildcat fumble set up the only Connecticut touchdown in the third period. The Cats offense then showed the brand of ball they had previously been playing and staged two long drives. One of them was good for 89 yards before a fumble lost them the ball on the ten yard line. The other cost them the game as well as an outright Conference Title.

After losing a close game, U. N. H. bounced back and won the Springfield game by one cats came right back as they put on a march that ended with Jeep Munsey carrying over for the T. D. The game probably would have ended in a tie, as the first attempt for the point-after was missed, but an off-side against Springfield gave New Hampshire another try and the game.

The Massachusetts game was played on November 21 as it had been postponed from November 7, due to the snow and slush. It was the first time a football game was postponed in more than 20 years. But the Wildcats made up for the delay, as they proceeded to down the Massachusetts team. The contest was a nip-and-tuck battle until the last period and the Cats poured it on. Lead by the alertness of Billy Pappas and the running of Dick Gleason and captain Jeep Munsey, the varsity scored three touchdowns to win the game. The score was only 13-12 up until the New Hampshire men came to life.

With the end of the Massachusetts game, came the close of the 1953 season for the Boston men. Even though the club was out-rushed, outpassed and out-first-downed, they had the ingredients that wins games—the desire to win. The record of 6-2 was one of the best in the last 50 years of football at the University. They tied Rhode Island for the Yankee Conference championship and now share the Bean Pot.

But what Chief Boston and the rest of the College is cheering about is the fact that only a few seniors were on this year's eleven. No less than fifteen veteran linemen and five back-field men will be around to aid the Chief next year.

Freshman Football

LIMITED by the smallest turnout in years and further hampered by a long injury list, Coach Bob Kerr's freshmen suffered a hard season. Outclassed in their first game by an unusually powerful Exeter team, reputedly the strongest in years, the Frosh went down 38-0.

In the second game of the season, the Kittens were quite able to hold their own against Rhode Island, tying the Ramlets 13-13.

of the game. The Kittens barely missed a second period touchdown when Gregorios intercepted a Terrier pass, but the New Hampshire offensive was held to the 16 yard line.

For the last game, the Kittens, again riddled with injuries, travelled to Hanover and tangled elbows with the Dartmouth freshmen. This game proved to be the most disastrous scorewise for the freshmen as they were scalped 59-7. One

First row, left to right—D. Hanak, W. Bodwell, B. Andress, F. Murray, F. Capone, C. Deleo, R. Lunetta, H. Amundsen, Mgr.; T. Sawyer. Second row—N. Cerabona, N. Leclerc, J. Sanborn,, R. Aquizap, A. Shannon, R. Spaulding, Co-Captain J. Collins, R. George, I. Schneider, Ca-Captain M. Alafat, R. Reed. Third row—Coach R. Harrington, R. Smith, R. Kiernan, K. MacIver, R. Courtney, A. Mack, W. Leonard, T. Hollarn, A. Amidon, J. Fitzgerald, L. Curtis, H. Campbell.

The third game was played against the B. U. Frosh before a substantial Hi-U Day crowd at Cowell stadium. The Terriers scored in the first period and then were held scoreless for the rest bright spot in this game was the touchdown scored in the last quarter by Collins after New Hampshire blocked an Indian kick on the one yard line.

Varsity Basketball

COACH Bob Kerr's varsity basketball team was regarded as an unknown quality at the outset of the 1953-54 hoop season. The Cats lacked height, experience and reserve strength. Veterans Bill Pappas, John Parker and Ted Trudel were the nucleus around which Kerr hoped to mold a formidable five. Off to a fast start with five straight victories the team levelled off after Christmas vacation and showing signs of its inexperience and lack of height managed to win only three of its remaining 13 games for an eight won 10 lost overall record.

Opening the season in Brunswick, Me., the Wildcats engaged Bowdoin in a thriller, winning 92-90 in the final seconds. Two records were set in this game as Bill Pappas, straight from the gridiron, scored 34 points to set a new high for most points in a single game. The 92 point total constituted the highest all time output for a U. N. H. team in one game.

Coming home to its native hardwood the Blue and White topped Bates 76-66 and quickly followed this up by defeating the same team 66-59 in Lewiston, Me. Lowell Textile posed no problem to the high flying Wildcats as they romped to a 92-53 victory. The men were hot and they showed it by extending their streak to five straight as they overcame M. I. T. 66-59. At this point the Christmas vacation temporarily called things to a halt. The Kerr men were sporting a perfect record of 5 wins and no defeats and had a team average of 81.8 points per game. The big scorer was diminutive Billy Pappas as he compiled a 23.4 average. John Parker followed with a 13.6 average. Bobby Michel with a 10 points per game average was the only other player in the double figures. Despite the 5-0 record Coach Kerr voiced the opinion that his team had not been truly tested and he would be well satisfied if the Wildcats had a 50-50 won lost record at the season's end. Resuming play the Cats travelled to Storrs, Conn., where they encountered a basketball giant in the Connecticut Huskies and were promptly outclassed 104-48. A superior Springfield team proved too much for our fighting Cats as they downed us 95-62. Unlike Conn. the Gymnasts could not check Pappas as he hit for 31 points. John Parker dropped in 13 points in a losing cause.

In a home game against our neighbor Dartmouth, New Hampshire's lack of height caused us the game as many potential baskets were blocked. Playing heads-up ball the Wildcats suppressed the Rhode Island Rams 77-71 for the first Cat win in nearly a month. The smooth outside set shots of the University of Mass. Redmen provided the difference as they set down our visiting basketekers 69-62. In Orono, Me., for their first meeting of the season with the U. of Maine Bears the Blue Wildcats suffered their fifth setback as the fast breaking Bears edged by 80-77. Overcoming a 19 point lead a strong Northeastern quintet outfought the Wildcats 82-80 at Lewis Field House. High men in this see-sawing battle were Parker with 24 points, Pappas with 20 and Trudel with 16 points. The undefeated U'Conns rolled into Durham and once again pinned back the ears of the Wildcats 107-68. Pappas was high man for U. N. H. with 25 points. New Hampshire's hoopsters avenged an earlier loss to Maine by taking the Bears into camp 84-74 on the Durham court. Pappas' 31 points and Michel's fine floor play highlighted this victory. At Kingston the Rhody Rams reversed a previous loss to U. N. H. by handily taming the Cats 94-79. Sophomore Ken Emery turned in a stellar board job as he showed signs of becoming a top rebounder.

Returning home the Kerr men unsuccessfully tangled with an improved U. of Mass. five losing 91-82. Emery topped the scoring by hitting for 17 points as well as doing a creditable job under the boards. In their final home game of the season the Wildcats displayed what was perhaps the best brand of basketball as they came from behind to upset the B. U. Terriers 77-68. The final game saw U. N. H. travelling to Manchester to meet their archrival St. Anselms. Taking advantage of several defensive lapses by the Wildcats, the Hawks were able to score innumerable lay-ups which paved the way to a 94-89 St. A's victory. Offensively U. N. H. had six men in the double figure but their inability to form a sound defense caused defeat.

The season was highlighted by the record breaking performances of John Parker and All-Conference Billy Pappas, Ken Emery's adept rebounding, Bobby Michel's fine play making and Ted Trudel's steadying influence. Trudel, Parker, and Bishop will be lost through graduation but Coach Kerr will have the nucleus of a smooth functioning team in returning veterans, Pappas, Michel, Emery, Travis, and St. Angelo who should hold high the banner of the Blue and White Wildcats.

Varsity Baseball

RIGHT hander John Bagonzi got the last year's edition of the Wildcat baseballers off to an auspicious start at Brackett Field as he pitched his second no hitter of his college career as he single-handedly downed Bates 11-0. He only faced four batters per inning and not once had more than one runner on base. He gave up only five bases on balls. His previous no-hitter was tossed against UConn last year as he pitched a seven inning contest.

It was also a day for shortstops, as starter Emilo Casellas belted a three run triple in the to cheer about as second baseman, Al Pare, hit a homer.

Returning to their home field, the Cats beat Lowell Textile 4 to 1 as John Bagonzi and Dave Colpitts combined to pitch a no-hitter. It was their third victory in four starts, as they had set-down Springfield the week previous.

Bagonzi was lifted in favor of Colpitts in order to rest John for the Rhode Island game, which was later postponed. N. H. drew first blood in the first inning as Leo Cauchó reached on a pass, and Jerry Kelley blasted a long triple to send Leo home. Captain Keany went out to the third baseman, but was followed by the second three bagger of the inning by George Cullen.

At Amherst, the Redmen downed our men 10-4, on no less than eight errors.

Southpaw George Ford started, but was replaced by Bagonzi in the sixth and Dave Colpitts in the seventh. The Cats did have a little Lowell's lone score came in the third on three straight walks and a fly ball. Their only other attempt to score came in the fifth as three straight men walked with only one out. But they couldn't push the runner across.

Action in the fifth did not stop with Lowell's three walks, because the Wildcats pushed the two winning runs over in this inning. Kelley walked, Cullen reached on a fielder's choice and stole second. Pare reached on an error, and Mike Cerillo singled in two runs. There was no more scoring, but the Cats didn't need any more.

The Wildcats snapped a three game losing streak as they topped Brandeis 7-5 on Brackett field. Previous to this game they had lost to Colby in thirteen innings 3-2, to Maine 4-3, and Boston University by 6-4.

The big gun in the Brandeis game was Nick Collela, as he tripled deep to right center with the bases loaded in the sixth inning. This ball was hit 380 feet. Dave Colpitts started and was relieved by southpaw Denny Kilroy in the eighth. Denny pitched two-thirds of an inning, and then John Bagonzi came in to snuff the rally.

In the Colby game, it was a sacrifice that gave the second best team in New England a 3-2 victory in the thirteenth inning.

Al Pare homered once in the Maine game which the Cats lost 4-3, and almost homered again in the later innings. The ball was called out of bounds, and this dispute was only one of the many.

Shaky support and fluke hits were the main cause of the downfall to B. U. John Bagonzi suffered his first defeat of the season.

The club at this point had a record of five wins and six defeats. Captain Huck Keany's boys then lost two in their next three games, losing 3-0 to Dartmouth, and splitting a double-header to Connecticut 3-1 and 1-11.

Bagonzi hurled three-hit ball for nine innings against Dartmouth, but three runs came across in the tenth to provide the margin of victory for Dartmouth. Bagonzi tried to win his own game as he tripled, but it was to no avail.

In the opener of the double-header Bagonzi had a two hit shut-out until the ninth when an error occurred on an easy grounder to let a run cross the plate. John did manage though to turn it into a three-hitter. John thus only allowed UConn four hits in three games in three years.

Dave Colpitts started the second game and gave up five runs before he was relieved in the ninth by Gallup and Zecha one-third of an inning.

The Cats lost to Northeastern, but bounced back and split a double-header with the Rhode Island Rams. John Bagonzi pitched both games losing the first 6-4, but came back and won the nightcap on a no-hit, no-run game, 4-0.

The two outstanding men of the club were pitcher Bagonzi and infielder Al Pare. Bagonzi receive class A contracts from Boston, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago Cubs, St. Louis Browns, New York Giants, and the Philadelphia Athletics. John had a 1.6 earned run average per nine inning games.

Al Pare's hitting was the most potent offensive weapon. He hit about .370, and had a .615 batting (not slugging) average in the Yankee Conference competition. He hit several homers, and was given a tryout at Fenway Park.

In the early stages of the season, it was the sophomores who kept the squad rolling. Mental lapses and errors were the big drawbacks all season long. As for individual performances, Bill Collela did a remarkably fine fielding job at second as has Leo Cauchon in the outer gardens. Steve Mazur and Ed Kelly filled in well. Ike Cullen hit as hard as last year but right at the men in the field. Mike Cerillo did a good infield job. Some of his teammates insist that Charles Marston had the best arm of all the conference backstops. Denny Kilroy's back was a chronic discomfort throughout the campaign so that his efficiency was cut, as was Emilio Casellas' by a bad ankle.

Varsity Hockey

THE 1953-54 edition of Pepper Martin's hockey team was plagued as usual by lack of ice. Just when the club got rolling, the weatherman bodychecked them out of their last four games.

The Cats opened their season at home against the Bowdoin Bears, losing a close one 7-5. The lead changed hands four times before the Bears pulled it out with two late tallies. Capt. Willie Johnston had two goals to his credit, while Ed Githens, George Poirier, and Dave Dunham each scored one.

MIT invaded Durham two days later. George Poirier got the ball rolling as he blasted in a quick goal in the opening minutes. Johnston followed suit midway in the period in a pass from Dunham. Penalties began catching up with the Cats as the Techmen tied the score with UNH shorthanded. Big Monty Childs ripped home the tie-breaker at 8:25 of the middle stanza. The string ran out midway in the final period as the Martinmen received two more penalties simultaneously. The engineers capitalized on this opportunity to capture the lead and the game by a five to three score.

The varsity sextet next traveled to West Point, N. Y., to tangle with the Military Academy icemen. Immediately after the face off, the Cadets laid down a barrage of pucks on the UNH goal. When the smoke cleared at the ten-minute mark the soldiers led 6-0. From this point on, the Cats managed to hold their own but the horses had been stolen. The final score was 8-2, with Johnston scoring the first UNH goal on a sensational length of the rink solo dash. Johnny Styles was the other cat lamplighter on passes from Buzz Gardner and Al Carlson.

The rinkmen next journeyed into Vermont to engage the high-flying Norwich non-coms. The Green Mountain boys broke fast and took a 4-0 lead after one period. In the middle canto the UNHers found the range, with Childs, Githens, and Gardner denting the twines. In the final period the Norwich club pulled away again. Although Carlson answered back with a goal at 12:13 with assists by Githens and Pete Swanson, the final score was Norwich 9, UNH 4.

The Martin men three days later played host to Tufts on the local rink in a hotly contested fray. Johnston again started the scoring but the Jumbo's came back to take the lead. Styles retied the count. The ever-hustling Johnston set the Cats ahead once more by stealing the puck from a Tufts defenseman and blasting it by the bewildered goalie. Three quick Tufts goals put them out of reach although Rube Hall narrowed the gap by converting a pass from Styles. Bob Brophy, in the nets for the Cats, had 34 saves and lost no face in bowling 6-4.

Bitter cold faced the Cats as they moved in to Brunswick to play Bowdoin a return match. Styles scored the first goal of the afternoon and ten minutes later Buzz Gardner with an assist from Johnston made it 2-0. Bowdoin tied the score early in the second period, but Capt. Johnston, a perpetual threat, pumped in two goals within five minutes, the first unassisted and the second on a pass from Hall. The Bears came up with four tallies, while Styles added two more for the Cats. With the temperature hovering at the 14 below mark, a ten minute overtime was played to no avail.

Lynn Arena was the site of the return game with Tufts. Childs opened the scoring at 5:13 of the first on a long screened shot. Tufts had the score tied by the end of the period. In the middle stanza, each team chalked up one point on the scoreboard, Hall being credited with the Cat goal on a pass from the hard-working Styles. The Jumbo's retook the lead at the opening of the last period, 3-2. The ever dangerous Styles tied it up at 11:43 on a pass from Johnston. At 13:50 Johnston returned the compliment with Styles and Githens getting assists to put UNH into the lead again. Hall got an insurance tally at 16:46 on a nice pass from Styles. The final score was 5-3.

What proved to be the last game of the season was played at Boston Arena with MIT the opponent. The first period was scoreless, thanks to the brilliant goaltending of Brophy. He twice beat Tech forwards on clean breakaways and had 16 saves for the stanza. The Cat forwards got into the act in the second period. Johnston scored unassisted on a backhandler at 2:03 and Styles added one at 6:12 on a pass from Johnston. In the third period Johnston scored again with Hall assisting. Three minutes later Childs soloed in from center ice to score a pretty goal. The speedy Hall next found the range on a pass from Johnston. Gardner closed out the Cat scoring at 16:51 as he drew the goalie out and planted the disc behind him after taking a pass from Carlsen. Brophy lost his shutout with 45 seconds left but he had already done a great night's work. The final score was 6-1.

The four remaining games on the schedule had to be cancelled because of unseasonably warm weather. The team had overcome many obstacles and was playing its best hockey when the season came to its premature close. The loss of Dave Dunham and Pete Swanson at season had left the club with only Monty Childs on defense. Ed Githens dropped back from wing to team with Monty, and did an excellent job. Many an opposing forward found himself on the seat of his pants after Ed threw a check his way. Childs was the iron man of the squad sometimes playing the entire game without relief. Up from the line of Johnny Styles, Capt. Johnston and Rube Hall worked well together and accounted for much of the scoring. Buzz Gardner, Al Carlson and Rocket Poirier combined to carry part of the load and do their share of the point getting. While Pete Pritchard and Hubie McDonough were not high on the list of scorers, they nevertheless were important cogs in the machine with their hustle and humor. Cal Chandler got back from Korea for part of the season and spelled Brophy in the nets from time to time. Ranger Bies, Smoky Ide and Crazy-eight Sparks also filled in capably when called on by Coach Martin.

Whether the record shows it or not the season was one of accomplishment and with only Gardner and Carlsen graduating, next year should be even better.

Varsity Rifle

THIS year's varsity rifle team is the best rifle team ever to represent the University of New Hampshire. At this writing the team is undefeated and promises to achieve greater heights as the season passes on. Having lost only two lettermen through graduation last year, the team consists of seniors John Sowerby, Edwin Antz, Thomas Pulsifer, and Ralph Hayes; juniors Andy Bushong and Frank Googins; and sophomores James Burke, Al Laber, Thomas Lamb, Richard Betz, and Paul Pinkham, Manager.

The Wildcat riflers, coached by Sergeant Frick and supervised by Captain Harrington of the Army ROTC, are a living example of the spirit and sportsmanship which makes New Hampshire the winners. E. Wesley Antz, a senior and usual high man on the team, is continually striving to attain and surpass all records previously established on the range. By his example, and with the competitive spirit of each and every other member, there is a very strong sense of pride in the year's team.

The team has no one outstanding shooter, but in this way tends to clarify the fact that they work as a team.

The schedule of matches includes Bowdoin, Massachusetts, Vermont, Dartmouth, Norwich, Maine, W. P. I., and M. I. T. The climax of the season will be the National Shoot Off which will take place in eleven regional matches throughout the country in the latter half in March. Only the top five shooters from the varsity will represent U. N. H. at Boston for this exciting and dramatic finish to the season.

Varsity Winter Track

THE 1953-54 winter track season was the natural letdown after the previous year's banner campaign. After downing Bates, 65-52, the Wildcats lost to Tufts and MIT for an overall record of one win, one tie and three losses.

In the first meet Warren "the tiger" Lyon, a senior from Peterboro, began his impressive season with a win of the long and drawn-out two mile run. Bernard Campbell was first in the 40-yard dash, and Leo Palmer and George Church tied for a first in the pole vault.

Senior Bob Potter paced the flock in the 45-yard high hurdles, coming in first.

The Cats swept the shotput with Ronnie Guitarr breaking the meet record with a 44-foot eight inch toss, followed by Tom Johnson and Ed Roy. Johnson also took a second in the 35-pound weight for the Durhamites. In the middle distance runs, the varsity placed Gordon Penney and John Fish for two seconds and a third, while Russ Williams came in second in the mile.

New Hampshire's old nemesis, the Maine Bears, made up for the trouncing they received last year when they won,  $73\frac{1}{3}$  to  $51\frac{2}{3}$ . The Bears took all but four of the first places as their lack of depth in the remaining meets.

Without UNH's strongpoint, the weight events, being scheduled, the Cats had to settle for a tie in the Massachusetts meet at Amherst,  $38\frac{1}{2}$ - $38\frac{1}{2}$ .

Senior Bob Potter had a field day, winning the 35-yard high and low hurdles and placing third in the high jump behind Jere Beckman and Mal Purrington, who tied 5 feet 10 inches.

Other firsts for New Hampshire included Gordon Penney in the 440, and Bernard Campbell was also second in the 440 yard run.

For the third meet in eight days the Cats journeyed to Medford to face Tufts, their strongest opponent in recent years, and defending New England champions. The Jumbos romped, 71-46, winning all but six of the first places.

The tiger, Warren Lyon, not only ran both the mile and two mile events but won them both. Don Vedeler, a promising sophomore, was second in the two mile run. Ed Roy was another double winner, placing first in the 35-pound

Gordon Penney in the 300, Don Crandall in the 1000, and Warren Lyon in the mile, were the Cats to finish first in the running events. Lyon began running both the mile and two-mile for the Cats in this meet, placing third behind Don Vedeler in the two mile marathon.

Mal Purrington copped the other New Hampshire first in the high jump. Two seconds by Ed Roy in the shot and weight events, and second and third by Bernard Campbell in the 300 and 600 yard runs helped keep the score close.

The Cats' chances were seriously hurt by weight and the shot put. His toss in the latter event of 43 feet, 2 1/2 inches was an inch and a half better than second place Ronny Guittarr.

George Church and Don Crandall garnered the other two first places for the Wildcats in the pole vault and 1000, respectively.

After a two week layoff the Cats fell before a powerful MIT delegation, 37 1/3-70 2/3. The Techmen copped all but two of the first places, making up for a lack in depth with outstanding performances.

Bernard Campbell continued his winning ways with a first in the 50 yard dash. The other first was taken by junior Ed Roy in the 35-pound weight, which he threw 45 feet, 10 1/4 inches. Armand Desruisseaux was second in this event.

Bob Potter ended the season with seconds in the 45 yard high hurdles and in the broad jump.

With a large turnout of students who had never competed before and who had not reached their peak, the prospects for the spring season were improved.

When asked about the season, Paul Sweet, the varsity and Freshman track coach, smiled and pointed out that it's what happens when you have an off-year facing the strongest competition in New England.

The long, cold nights running around the board track in the assorted foul weather of Durham winters was not wasted, and should result in noticeable improvement in the future.

Outstanding performances were those made by Bob Potter in the Massachusetts meet, and Warren Lyon's courageous endurance victories in the Tufts meet. Warren is an example of what can be done with a little perseverance. He had never run before coming to Durham.

Graduating seniors on the team include John Burpee, Bob Potter, Ronnie Guittarr, Warren Lyon, and Mal Purrington.

Varsity Ski Team

THE varsity ski team under the leadership of Captain Bob Hoos was able to ring up a good record for the 1954 season. The team started off strongly, slumped toward the middle of the season, and then came back to place second in the Eastern Championships. Coach Ed Blood was able to bring along several sophomores who were a great help in the team's showing during the year. The team will miss Bob Hoos, who as one of the top combined Nordic men in the East, was able during his three years to contribute a great deal to the ski team. The team will also miss Leighton "Lefty" Cree who was a solid downhill and slalom man in his senior year.

The New England weather caused the cancellation for the usual Christmastime Lyndonville meet. The Dartmouth Winter Carnival was the opening meet on the Eastern Collegiate circuit. The Dartmouth team was the strong favorite to win their third straight title because of their strength in the Alpine events. St. Lawrence was the surprise winner of the downhill run on Woodstock's famous Suicide Six slope.

Dick Field, with a tie for 5th, was the first UNH man to place. In the slalom, Dartmouth came back and scored well enough to win the combined as well. The UNH strength in the Nordic events helped pull them back into contention as they took second, third, and fourth. The jump was won by New Hampshire's Jon Riisnaes as the Wildcats won this event also. This gave them the cross-country and combined title by a wide margin. The team placed second to Dartmouth, losing by the small margin of 2.4 points.

The team was not able to do as well the following week as they fell to third at the Williams College Carnival. A recurrence of a jumping injury cost the team the services of Bernard Brown. The next weekend UNH slipped to fourth at the Middlebury Winter Carnival. The jumping was the only event that the Cats were able to win as they missed the wax in the cross-country and dropped to 5th.

The Collegiate Ski Championships were held at Lyndonville March 13-14. The UNH men were able to follow up on their early promise and place second here.

Varsity Spring Track

THE Spring Varsity track team soundly won and trounced Northeastern University at Lewis Field in their opener, 100  $\frac{3}{4}$  to 34  $\frac{1}{4}$ .

Bernie Campbell, Bob Bolton, and Ed Roy won two events each to pace the varsity to this victory. Campbell won the 100 yard dash and the quarter mile run, while Bolton paced the field in the 120 high hurdles and the 220 yard low hurdles. Roy took the shot put and javelin.

The Cats swept the high hurdles, 880 yard run, shot put, and hammer events. Bolton with a time of 15.5 seconds, was followed by Bob Potter and Johnny Parker in the 120 yard highs. Don Crandall, Al Carlsen, and Dick MacCormack placed in the half mile in that order with Crandall's time, 2:02.8 minutes. Ronny Guittarr and Roy Lindberg followed Roy in the shot, and Roy and Captain Dick Fitts were behind Lindberg in the hammer events. Lindberg tossed the 16 pound weight 151 feet 2  $\frac{1}{4}$  inches.

John Parker picked up an easy first in the high jump with a jump of five feet eight inches, while Danny Hogan took the pole vault, clearing the bar at twelve feet. Other firsts for New Hampshire were made by Gorden Penney in 220, covering the distance in 23.2, Dick Fitts in the discus with a throw of 138 feet, 9  $\frac{3}{4}$  inches.

The well-balanced squad out-scored Northeastern, 51-21, in the running events while romping in the field over the Huskies 49  $\frac{3}{4}$  to 13  $\frac{1}{4}$ .

The outstanding varsity track team then soldily beat Boston University at Lewis Field House Saturday, 92-43. Danny Hogan paced the Wildcats with a new meet pole vault record, clearing the bar at twelve feet, nine inches.

Gordon Penney, Dick Fitts, and Bob Bolton led New Hampshire with two victories apiece in the meet which coach Paul Sweet had considered the toughest of the spring schedule.

New Hampshire swept four events—the hammer, discus, 120 highs, and 220—while running wild in the running events, 53-18 and taking the field events, 39-24 in an uneven contest.

Danny Hogar, who began his track career as a freshman, broke the meet record in the pole vault by nine inches in his vault.

The Wildcats won nine firsts, while taking twelve seconds, and eleven third places. The Cats rolled over Maine at Orono, 83  $\frac{1}{2}$  and 51  $\frac{1}{2}$  for their third straight win as senior Dick Fitts paced the attack with first in the discus and hammer. Bernie Campbell won the quarter mile run in 52 seconds for the Cats as Don Crandall ran the half in two minutes flat for another first. Al Carlsen, leading point-getter in winter track this year, took the mile in 4:29.1 minutes while senior Ev Webber took the other distance event, the two mile run in 10:05.1 minutes. Danny Hogan, spring track captain, continued his superlative pole vaulting with a vault of twelve feet nine inches for a second. The other New Hampshire first was made by Bob Potter in the broad jump when he leaped 21 feet nine inches.

New Hampshire's varsity track team then completed an undefeated season as they trimmed MIT at the Lewis field track, 80-55. Coach Paul Sweet's field men outscored the techmen, 54-9. There were also Al Carlsen's run of the mile in 4:29.5, senior Warren Lyons' win in the two mile run, and the victory in the 220 yard low hurdles by Bob Bolton, another senior.

Johnny Parker, who also got twelve points for the afternoon, tied with Antoine of MIT for a meet record in the high jump, clearing the bar at six feet two inches. Parker also was first in the broad jump, and second in the 120 high hurdles, while Ed Roy won the javelin, was second in the shot put and discus events, and third in the hammer. Senior Dick Fitts maintained his fine record in the discus as he hurled it 136 feet five inches, and Danny Hogan, another senior copped the pole vault with a twelve-foot vault. Senior Roy Lindberg took a first in the hammer with a throw of 155 feet five inches.

And thus a perfect track season drew to a close.

Varsity Lacrosse

THE Varsity Lacrosse team under the guidance of new coach A. Barr "Whoops" Snively compiled an excellent record of 6 wins and 2 losses. The Wildcats led by Co-captains Chuck Bartlett and Dan Stone were able to put together their best record in several years as they showed themselves to be on the way to a prominent place in the New England Lacrosse picture.

The first game of the season was against W. P. I. in which the team got off to a fast start by downing their opponents by a 10-4 score. The team was a little ragged but showed the results of early season work on fundamentals and conditioning. Bill Johnson played very well in his first varsity game and controlled the ball from his center midfield position.

The Cats pulled out a close game as they defeated Tufts in the last minute of play 5-4.

The winning goal was scored by Lefty Cree in the last minute of play. "Fats" Houley played well in the goal for U. N. H. but the team had trouble putting together a real scoring punch. The stickmen showed a lot of poise in this game and played well under pressure.

M. I. T. furnished the opposition as the varsity continued to stay on the winning trail. The game was close; all the Cats were forced into overtime before they were able to pull out a 7-5 decision.

The stickmen traveled to Cambridge to meet a strong Harvard team and put their undefeated record on the line. U. N. H. was in the game all the way but they went down to a 14-5 defeat.

The Wildcats bounced back to defeat Middlebury by a 17-3 score as the team was able to put together a real scoring threat for the first time.

The return game with M. I. T. ended with the Cats on top again. The team began to look like a very much more finished outfit than they had previously. The midfield and defense looked to be more smoothly working and they were getting the ball up to the attack with more precision.

The return game with Tufts saw the Cats going down to their second defeat of the season as the team was unable to get rolling and set up scoring plays.

The Boston Lacrosse Club traveled to Durham for a wild scoring game that saw the Wildcats on the long end of an 18-0 score. Co-captain Dan Stone closed out his college career with a rash of 6 goals to lead the U. N. H. scoring for the game. B. L. C. field a strong team of former college players, and they were able to give the varsity a hard fast game before succumbing.

Bob Houley had an excellent year in the nets and was able to save several games by his outstanding saves. Bob Slantz played well at defense. Co-captain Chuck Bartlett, Bob Christy, and Charlie Yeager played well at midfield and because of their good condition were able to last most of the opposing midfield. Christy was able to get most of the draws at center midfield in the B. L. C. game against a former all American. Chuck Bartlett was one of the hardest working players on the squad and as Co-captain set an example that kept the rest of the team on its toes and playing hard. Jere Lundholm was clutch player who came through in the tight places to get a needed goal. Co-captain Dan Stone came on fast toward the end of the season and led the team in its win against B. L. C. Marsh Hunt was a good steady player at attack and was able to score several places when a goal was needed.

The Varsity Lacrosse Team of 1953 besides having a good year built a good foundation for "54" and the following years. Coach Snively has a right to be proud of his first U. N. H. team and the job that he did teaching its members the fundamentals and the value of conditioning.

First row—W. Williams, W. Lyons, W. McCrae, A. Carlsen, Captain; G. Holbrook, P. Hood. Second row—P. Sweet, D. Vedeler, D. Crandall, G. Penney, W. Carpenter; H. Gale, M. Norberg.

Varsity Crosscountry

THE Varsity Cross Country team led by Captain Al Carlsen and coached by Paul Sweet, was able to compile a creditable record, even with the loss of their Captain and top man, Al Carlsen, in midseason when he was taken sick. The team will be bolstered next year by the return of several veterans who did well this year. With the help of a few promising sophomores who have improved with a year of competition, the team should have a good season next year.

The team opened its season with Northeastern at Brookline on October 3. It was a warm day and the team showed their lack of practice as they dropped their meet by the score of 24 to 31. Shea of N. U. won with Carlsen of U. N. H. in 3rd position followed by Lyons, 4th; Williams, 6th; Crandall, 7th; and Holbrook, 9th.

The Wildcats came out on top in their meet with B. U. on October 9th although Johnny Kelley of B. U. set a new course record in winning. Captain Al Carlsen led the cats again as he placed second. Warren Lyons ran a good race to place 4th, with Crandall and Williams tying for 5th.

Maine was the next victim of the cross-country team as U. N. H. downed them 20 to 41 with Captain Al Carlsen again leading the pack. After the race Carlsen came down with an illness that removed him from the team for the rest of the year.

On October 24th the team was defeated by M. I. T. in a dual meet as they showed the effects of Carlsen's absence.

In the Yankee Conference Title Meet the U. N. H. team was only able to salvage a third as they finished behind Mass. and Maine. The first finisher for the University was Lyons who finished 7th followed by Crandall 11th and Gale 20th.

The team got back on the winning track as they defeated R. I. in a dual meet and swept the first three places. Crandall was first followed by Williams and then Lyons.

The team finished off the year by finishing 7th in the NEICAA meet.

Freshman Hockey

IN a season cut short by unexpected February thaws, Chief Boston's Freshman Hockey squad was able to play only five of its scheduled eight contests.

The Kittens traveled to Brewster Academy for their first game which they won handily 10-0. Rock Roland was the big scorer as he fired in three goals and set up three others.

The next game found Chief's men christening the new artificial ice rink at Phillips Exeter. The Academy six, having been skating since early December, showed the results of having artificial ice by thumping the Frosh 8-0.

For their third outing, the yearling pucksters played host to New Hampton. In a nip-and-tuck battle, which featured plenty of wide open hockey, the U. N. H. six ended up on the short end, 4-3. Outstanding play by the New Hampton goalie, Ferdinando, prevented the Kittens from winning by a comfortable margin. Bobby Chamberlain was the sparkplug of the frosh attack, as he continually kept the pressure on the visitors. The Freshmen came from behind late in the third quarter, only to lose.

A vastly improved Brewster squad next invaded Durham to face the "probation depleted"

Boston men. In a thriller, the U. N. H. men came out on top 3-2. The deciding goal was scored by Ernie Twombly, after Ken Johnson had tied it up. Fran Muri, who was in the nets for the Kittens, played a brilliant game.

The final game of the season that the club was able to play took place at Tilton Prep. In another see-saw game the first year men dropped a heartbreaker 3-2. Kaupin and Kravchuk played fine games on the U. N. H. defense. Kravchuk also got a goal.

Also playing fine hockey throughout the season were such men as Andy Shannon, Dick Warschol, Chris Agrafotis, Paul Whetton, and Bob Danos, who will be aiding Pepper Martin next year.

Chief Boston sums it up thusly: "I feel the season's record is not indicative of the future ability of this year's squad. We were definitely handicapped by poor ice conditions, and I believe that this squad showed enough initiative, drive, and hockey ability to be a help to the varsity in years to come. I would like to compliment the Freshmen on their fine attitudes and cooperation."

Freshman Spring Track

THE Freshman Spring track team this year had a record of two wins and three losses. The first meet was held here in Durham with the Northeastern Freshmen and under the able leadership of their captain, David Hilton, the squad started off the season with a 74-52 victory. The second meet was with the B. U. Freshmen and the opponents captured 11 out of 14 first places and that decided the meet. Although outstanding for the Frosh were Marcel Couture in the dashes, John Fish in the 440, and Armand Desruisseaux in the weights. The third meet was the second and final victory for the Frosh when, on a cold and rainy day, they splashed their way to a 66½-50½ victory over Exeter Academy. The main point winners were Captain David Hilton and Jere Beckman in the hurdles, pole vault, and high jump. In the last two meets the Frosh were defeated by MIT Frosh 71-55, and by Dartmouth Frosh 76-50. Even though the squad lost these two meets Larry Baldi, Pete Hood, and John Dodge did fine work in the half-mile, mile, and weights respectively. The main reason for the defeats of the season was the lack of depth. Most of the men had to double and triple in events and two of the men had to enter four events because there were not enough men in the squad. It seems too bad that out of this University we don't have at least thirty-five men on the Freshman Track team.

Certainly a great deal of credit is due the small number of men who practiced, competed, and made such a good showing this season in Freshman Spring Track.

Freshman Lacrosse

THE Freshmen Lacrosse team, handicapped as usual by a lack of men who had played the game, was able to wrack up a very creditable record of 4 wins and 3 losses. Coach Pepper Martin was able to teach the fundamentals of the game to a small but hardworking squad who will be a real asset to the varsity in the years to come.

The first game was with a rugged Lowell Textile team on a very wet day here in Durham. Jim Sullivan was able to sneak through the mud and score three goals from his midfield position which was enough to give the game to the Kittens by a three to two score. Jim Murray was outstanding in the goal for the Kittens.

Governor Dummer traveled to Durham for the next game and Frosh were able to put together more of a scoring punch and took this one by a thin margin of 6 to 5. U. N. H. goals were scored by Baldwin, Hoey, and Wadleigh.

The M. I. T. freshmen were the victims of a rash scoring as the team began to gain confidence and experience. The final score was 7 to 2 with Bob Chapman, Dave Baldwin, Hubie McDonough, and Ralph Wadleigh all getting into the scoring column.

In the fourth game of the season the Freshmen were completely outclassed as they lost to an outstanding Exeter Academy Team by a score of 12 to 1. Bob Chapman was the only player to break into the scoring for the freshmen. Jim Murray was able to keep the score down by playing an outstanding game in the nets.

The Kittens lost their next two games; to Tufts Frosh by 4 to 3 and were again outclassed by a prep school as they lost to Andover 14 to 2. The Freshmen were able to break back into the win column to finish the season as they whipped an inexperienced N. E. C. team 10 to 2.

Co-captain Jim Murray played very well in the nets all year and was able to save several games by his outstanding saves. Phil Decell, Don Swain, Don Sibson, and Pete Baute progressed very rapidly at defense and showed that they should be of help to the varsity in the future. Co-captain Dave Baldwin was one of the team's most consistent scorers throughout the season.

Freshman Basketball

THE 1953-'54 U. N. H. Frosh Basketball team turned in one of the best seasons a N. H. Freshman team has ever had, as they ended up with a 7-3 record.

Coach Andy Mooradian built his team around Dick Lamberts, Jack Ferguson, and George Tanzey.

The Kittens opened their season at Bates and came home with a 64-62 victory. Two clutch foul shots by Dick Lamberts after 54 seconds in a sudden death overtime period gave the U.N. H. freshmen the game. Leading at the half, 30-22, U. N. H. continued to dominate play until the last period, when Bates tied the game at 58-all. But the Frosh, led by Big Jack Ferguson, Lamberts, Dave Gowan, and Al Lussier, were too much for the Lewiston Club.

The Mooradian five then lost a close 53-57 decision to the Harvard Frosh, but won their third game of the season beating Phillips Exeter.

After winning over Tilton by nine points, the squad defeated the Northeastern Pups, 81-63. Ferguson led the Kittens with 18 points, followed by Lamberts with 16.

The club continued its winning ways as they edged out Phillips Exeter at Exeter, 73-70. Dick Lamberts set a new scoring record as he dumped in 35 points to lead the attack.

The Frosh then traveled to Manchester to play a powerful St. Anselm's team. After a slow start, the Kittens defeated the Hilltoppers by six points.

The game at Dartmouth proved to be the Freshmen's worst defeat, but even then, this was by only 15 points.

After losing to Dartmouth the squad came back and defeated Portland Jr. College. With hopes high after the Portland game, the Kittens played host to Phillips Andover for their last scheduled game. It was the first meeting of the two clubs and the U. N. H. five had hopes of closing the season with a win. But, Phillips applied the pressure, and defeated the frosh by a slim six points. Even though they lost the last game, it still was one of the best seasons that a frosh team has ever recorded.

The squad was composed of Goyette, Hamilton, Vlanzas, Papazian, Fishman, Johnson, Hearney, Armstrong, Lussier, Lamberts, Tanzey, and Ferguson. William Bishop was the team manager.

Freshman Baseball

PACED by the hitting of Nick Raftopoulos and the fine pitching of Joe Kazura, the Frosh Baseball Team went through an undefeated season with a 6-0 record.

Coached by Andy Mooradian, the Frosh opened up the season with a close 2-0 victory over Phillips Andover Academy at Andover, Massachusetts. Joe Kazura struck-out eight men, while his teammate, Nick Raftopoulos, knocked in both runs with two timely singles.

With one victor under their belts, the boys traveled to Phillips Exeter Academy. The hitting power was proving itself, but the pitching wasn't, until Kazura came in to pitch in the 4th. With Joe on the mound, and the hitting of Raftopoulos, Ross, and McLaughlin producing R. B. I.'s, the N. H. men took command and pulled out a 15-9 victory.

Two victories over a couple of good teams did not relax the Mooradian men as the Dartmouth Frosh would be the real test. Andy started Joe Kazura on the mound. His decision paid-off, as Joe not only struck-out nine "little Indians," but also knocked in three R. B. I.'s on two hits, as he single-handedly defeated the Dartmouth men 9-5.

Once again the team tangled with Exeter Academy, and Rowles started on the mound, as Joe was to be given a rest. But Kazura had to relieve Rowles in the eighth inning. He managed to hold the Exeter men, while his own men pushed over a few runs to win 6-5. It was Joe's fourth win. McLaughlin got two for two, while Raftopoulos doubled and brought home two R. B. I.'s.

The team put their 4-0 record on the line as they traveled to Henniker, N. H., to play New England College's Varsity. Second baseman, Don Dickson, playing his first game of the year, was the big gun as he got three for three while driving in three runs. Kazura again went the distance on the mound, as he racked-up his second shut-out by the score of 6-0.

All that stood in their way now was the game with the State Prison. Since Kazura was the only pitcher credited with victories, coach Mooradian started Osgood on the mound. But Joe had to go in to stop a last inning rally, and save the 9-3 victory for Osgood. Raftopoulos and McLaughlin hit home-runs, and of course, there were plenty of volunteers willing to retrieve the balls. Raftopoulos, Dickson, McLaughlin, and Ross hit over 300.

Freshman Winter Track

WITH a decided lack of depth, the '54 version of the Wildkitten track squad traveled to Lewiston in January to tackle the Bates Frosh. By sweeping the final event Bates picked up a win over the Blue and White, 66½ to 40½. Outstanding for UNH were Jason Chick with 19 points in four events, Dick Spaulding with 8 points on a first and a second in the weights, Guy Perry in the 35-pound weight, and Joe Lewis in the pole vault.

Facing a powerful Exeter Academy squad in the second meet, the Blue and White youngsters were overwhelmed by a 62 to 19 score. A bright spot for the Kittens was Jason Chick's ten points on a surprising win in the hurdles, a second, and two thirds. Joe Lewis won his pole vault specialty.

Still seeking a triumph, the Frosh tracksters bowed to U. of Mass. in a close 38-30 contest. Tallying well for UNH were Chick, who had 16 points on wins in both hurdles and the 440 and a third in the high jump. Frank Capone scored in both hurdles; Stu Morse and Happy Hanson took seconds in the 880 and mile respectively behind double winner Steele of U. of Mass. UNH's Dick Spaulding, a weight man, exhibited his versatility by collecting a second in the sprint.

A very strong Tufts' Frosh crushed the Kittens, 78½ to 29½. Chick scored 14½ points for UNH, mainly on firsts in the high hurdles and the 600 yard run. Frank Capone scored a win in the low hurdles and a third in the highs, while Joe Lewis notched another pole vault triumph.

Still trying for their first win, the Blue and White youngsters nearly upset MIT at Cambridge only to be nipped 52-47. With wins in the high hurdles, the 600, the broad jump, and a tie for first in the high jump, Capt. Jason Chick scored 19 points while versatile Dick Spaulding won blue ribbons in the shot and the 50 yard dash. Frank Capone and Joe Lewis also excelled. In spite of the losses much improvement was evident under Coach Paul Sweet's tutelage, and next year's varsity is expected to be bolstered by a strong but undermanned Freshman squad.

Intramurals

LAST year's softball proved to be one of the surprises, as two of the four league championships were not decided until the day before the tournament.

Phi Mu Delta came back after losing their first game of the season to A. T. O., to defeat the same team in a play-off game.

T. K. E. was riding high with only two games to play, but then the bottom fell in as they lost those two games and the league play-offs. So, in the final play-off game Lambda Chi and A. G. R. were battling it out, with Lambda Chi winning by six runs going into the last inning. Then another surprise found A. G. R. coming up with seven runs to put them into the Championship Games.

The first game of the tournament found Theta Kappa Phi an easy victor over A. G. R. by the score of 10-1. The Theta Kap men lead from the first inning, and A. G. R. never threatened.

Phi Mu Delta and Kappa Sigma met in the second game. Kappa Sigma, the tournament favorites, took an early first inning 3-0 lead in the first half of the first inning. Phi Mu Delta threatened every inning to tie it up but just couldn't manage to bring the runners around to score after they had reached scoring position. The result was a 7-4 victory for Kappa Sigma. Billy Pappas hit a home run for the victors.

With the opening round out of the way, Phi Mu Delta and A. G. R. agreed to take a tie for third place, and thus no consolation game was played.

In the Championship Game, Kappa Sig took a second inning lead over Theta Kap which they never relinquished. The victory went to Kappa Sig by the score of 10-4. Responsible for Kappa Sigma's Championship were pitchers Gregory S. Angelo, Vern Duval. Billy Pappas aided with his power at bat.

Although Kappa Sigma won the football and softball championships, they lost the All-Point Trophy to Theta Kap. Theta Kap collected 31 points throughout the various sports' seasons, while Kappa Sigma scored 27.

In the football season this year, Kappa Sigma edged-out Phi Mu Delta for the League D Championship, A. T. O. won over A. G. R. for the League A crown, while Theta Chi beat Lambda Chi in a play-off game at the end of the regular season to win League C. In League B, Theta Kap won out in an after season match, over two other opponents, S. A. E. and P. K. A.

The tournament started out as expected, as Kappa Sig shut out A. T. O. 12-0, while Theta Chi beat Theta Kappa Phi 12-6. Kappa Sigma played head-up ball in the championship game to walk off with the honors as they whitewashed Theta Chi 13-0.

Presentation of trophy to Theta Kappa Phi.

The basketball season was one of the best ever seen at the U. N. H. Field House. Kappa Sigma won their way to the tournament as they edged out Theta Kappa Phi in the regular season. S. A. E. entered the championship games by topping Phi Mu Delta. A. T. O. had no trouble from any other opponents and consequently found themselves in the tournament. Meanwhile Gibbs Hall won a very close game over Lambda Chi by one point to enter the tourney. With only sixteen seconds to play in the game, and Lambda Chi winning by one point, one of the Lambda Chi had two foul shots coming up. He missed both of them and one of the Gibbs players was fouled, giving the dorm men a chance to score two points and win the game. They took advantage of the situation and dropped in two points to take the lead and the game.

With these four powerful teams in the Tournament, there was plenty of competition. In the first round Kappa Sigma defeated Gibbs 54-51, after the Gibbs men had taken a 10 point lead. In the second game of the semi-finals S. A. E. lost to a tall, powerful A. T. O. team by the score of 54-46. A. T. O.'s height proved too much for the S. A. E. men as Brooks and Sowerby combined to score 37 points for the Omega boys.

In the consolation game S. A. E. beat a determined Gibbs team 57-46, to win the third place position. The championship game between Kappa Sigma and A. T. O. proved to be two games in one. A. T. O. took an early lead 12-11, but Kappa Sigma tied it up at 25 all at the end of the half. The start of the third period showed two totally different teams as far as performance is concerned. Kappa Sigma, who had been fouling constantly, fouled but only one man in the third period. A. T. O. only managed to score four points on two field goals in the third period. A. T. O., minus Charlie Sowerby and Ed Brooks who were fouled out in the third period, only scored eight points and all were foul shots. The result was a 58-37 victory and championship for Kappa Sigma.

Picked on the All-Tournament Team were:

Steve Mazur—S. A. E., captain

Charles Sowerby—A. T. O.

Wally MacRae—A. T. O.

Neil Serpico—Kappa Sigma

Bob Morton—Kappa Sigma

Richard MacKenzie—Gibbs

Women's Physical Education

IT is the aim of the Department of Physical Education to provide as complete and varied a program as possible for each individual woman student on campus. In order to do this, every effort is made to offer many different types of activities to allow for the social and recreational development of the individual as well as her physical development.

Although the requirement for graduation is the completion of three years of Physical Education, the student has enough opportunity to choose the types of activities in which she would like to participate so that the program is considered largely elective. There are twenty-two activities offered which range from team sports and individual sports to modern dance, remedials, and community recreation.

Since it is an aim of the Department to try to fulfill the needs of the individual student while she is on campus and to equip her with valuable carry-over knowledge and skill, every effort is made through evaluation sheets, surveys, and questionnaires to determine these needs and to evaluate the program.

In addition to the Physical Education classes, the Women's Physical Education Department also sponsors an Intramural Program under the student leadership of the Women's Recreation Association. This Association organizes such club activities as Rifle Club, Ski Club, Durham Reelers, and Dance Club which offer further opportunity for students to develop their special interests. WRA also sponsors interclass, interhouse, co-recreational, and interscholastic competition. The inter scholastic program includes competition in field hockey, basketball, badminton, skiing, riflery and softball with such schools as Westbrook Jr. College, Colby Jr. College, Jackson and Middlebury.

Miss Marion Beckwith is the Director of the Department and her staff includes Mrs. Caroline Wooster, Evelyn Browne, Carol Gordon, Barbara Newman, Joan Blanchard, Mrs. Marilyn Black, Sylvia Masters and Elizabeth MacKinnon.

The Women's Physical Education Department is also responsible for a Teacher Preparation and Recreation major in which about 50 students are enrolled.

Women's Recreation Association

THE Women's Recreation Association has been set up to fulfill the recreational needs and desires of as many of the women students as possible. Upon admittance to the University, every woman student is automatically a member of this organization. The organization is governed by the Executive Board and assisted by other students who act as house sports chairmen, class managers, sports leaders and club presidents.

It is the aim of the Association to challenge the highly skilled person without neglecting activities designed to appeal to those students who do not have outstanding ability but who do desire to participate in leisure time sports. The program consists of Interhouse, Interclass and Co-recreational activities. Competition in Interhouse is based on tournaments among the women's houses on campus, and includes such sports as touch football, basketball, badminton, volleyball, table tennis, archery and softball. A trophy is awarded to the house winning the greatest number of points throughout the year.

Under the division of Interclass, every girl is eligible to try out for her class team in hockey, basketball, tennis and softball. Once the tournaments are completed, the outstanding players from each class team are chosen for the All-Star team to represent the University in two or three games in competition with other colleges.

The activities under the co-recreational program are tennis, volleyball, and softball. Mixed teams of fellows and girls vie for the plaque which is given to the winning team in each of these sports.

The W. R. A. sponsors six clubs for those students who are particularly interested in certain phases of the program. The clubs by name are the Dance Club, Rifle Club, Whips, Ski Club, Durham Reelers, and Camp Counselor's Club. The Association also sponsors such social events as a W. R. A. dance early in the fall, a ski movie, a Dance Concert, a Horse Show, and a Square Dance Festival. Each of these are supervised by the respective clubs.

WRA OFFICERS

Interhouse Board

THE Interhouse Board has charge of administering the Interhouse program. The purpose of Interhouse sports is to give every girl on campus, regardless of her ability, an opportunity to participate in a variety of activities. These activities consist of three team sports—touch football, basketball and volleyball; and three individual sports—badminton, table tennis and archery.

Each spring every women's housing unit nominates three people for the position of House Sportschairman for their respective houses. These three names are then turned into the WRA board who appoints one of the three girls for the position. This gives the individual houses the opportunity to nominate girls of their choice; and it gives WRA an opportunity to select the one they consider most qualified for the position. The sportschairman has the responsibility of organizing and forming teams within her house, and of creating additional interest and enthusiasm for the Interhouse activities.

The Interhouse competition is based upon tournaments within the respective houses and among the various dorms and sororities. A point system is used in order to determine the winning house. For each sport, every house receives a certain number of points for entering a team into a campus tournament. The teams winning these tournaments are given additional points. In regard to the individual sports, only a specified number of points are given for the percentage of members in the house who participate in the sport. At the close of the year these points are totaled and the winning house is recognized by being presented the Interhouse Sports Award.

Women's Field Hockey

THE Women's Field Hockey season started the second week of school with girls from each class trying out for their respective class teams. Class managers were Gail McAllister, freshman; Adele Bennett, sophomore; Kay Ford, junior; and Nancy Anderson, senior. Marjorie Richardson was hockey leader.

After a series of practice games, the scheduled class games started. The senior team was the winner of the tournament.

Following the games, the class managers, sports leader and faculty coaches selected an All-Star team to represent the University in outside competition. This year's team included Marilyn Chase, Jean Sweet, Joanne Martin, Marjorie Richardson, Sylvia Hurlock, Ging Charles, Betsy Duffill, as forwards; Joyce Hiller, Connie Miltimore, Polly Gosselin, Jo Randolph, Penny Siter, Janet Bergfors as halfbacks; Nancy Anderson, Harriet Forkey as fullbacks; and Claire Eldridge as goalie.

The All-Star team played three games during the 1953 season. The first game was on November 5, against Westbrook, U. N. H. winning by a score of 4-1. This game was played at U. N. H. On Thursday, November 12, the All-Star team traveled to Colby Jr. College and was defeated by a score of 6-5. The last game was played on November 18, with Jackson College defeating U. N. H. by a score of 3-1.

Hockey has been popular at U. N. H. due to the outstanding leadership of Miss Barbara Newman and Miss Carol Gordon.

Women's Ski Club

THIS year the Women's Ski Club continued under the sponsorship of the Women's Recreation Association. In spite of the lack of snow, the club managed to have a successful year.

The Ski Club is designed to promote interest and participation in order to take advantage of all the recreational possibilities available in skiing. Membership is open to all students who are interested, regardless of their skill. Ski instruction and safety precautions are taught to both old and new skiers. The USEASA proficiency tests are administered to those desiring them.

This year's program included speakers, movies, and ski trips to Gilford and Franconia. Among the speakers, Mr. Roger Peabody, director of the Cannon Mt. Ski Area, gave an interesting talk about that area and showed movies including shots of our ski meet held there last year. At another meeting, Mr. Al Hood showed slides of skiing and mountain climbing in Europe.

An outgrowth of the Ski Club is the Women's Ski Team. This year they competed at the Skidmore, Middlebury, and University of Vermont Winter Carnivals. Members competing were Pat Nutter, Shirley Snow, Barbara Dudley, Caroline Brown, and Mannie Oakes. At Skidmore, the team placed 4th in the combined with 7 teams competing. At Middlebury, they placed 4th out of 6 in the combined. The best showing was at Vermont. U. N. H. won the downhill and placed 2nd in the combined. There were 6 teams competing.

Officers of the Ski Club this year were Pat Nutter, president; Mannie Oakes, Vice President; Peggy Curtis, secretary; and Terry Viens, publicity. Miss Barbara Newman is the very capable and enthusiastic advisor.

Women's Rifle

THE Women's Rifle Club is sponsored by the Women's Recreational Association, and offers girls who have a keen interest in riflery a chance to develop their skills and to participate in competitive matches.

Rifle season lasts from November to March and during this time sixteen matches were held. The majority of the matches were postal matches, with three shoulder to shoulder matches being fired, one with the Men's Freshman Team, one with the Dover High School Team and one with the University of Rhode Island. The team made a trip to the latter place.

The team uses Winchester Rifles supplied by the Women's Physical Education Department, and they shoot in two positions, sitting and prone. Postal matches are held with colleges from all over the country, from the University of California to Universities in New England, and we even have a match with the University of Hawaii.

The University of New Hampshire Women's Rifle Team belongs to the National Rifle Association, and every year our members shoot the several targets for the N. R. A. Qualification awards. To receive the expert award, a girl must have a 99 average; for a sharpshooter award a 95 average; and for a marksman award, a 92 average.

The team this year has been under the capable direction of Francis Googins. Team members include Betty Hartwell, Diane DeGasis, Carol Lewis, Ann Connary, Carolyn Lowe, Ann Woodbury.

Women's Tennis

THE Women's tennis team originates from the Interclass tennis tournament which is played off in the fall. Each class tournament is played off separately to determine a class winner. The winners then play to determine a campus champion. Due to poor weather last fall, the final tournament has been postponed until spring.

From the winners and runners-up, an All-Star team is chosen by the class managers, sports leader and faculty coach.

This year's leader was Nancy Evans, assisted by the class managers who are as follows: Barbara Dudley, freshman; Ann LaFleur, sophomore; Ann Meader, junior; and Ann Nelson, senior. This year's faculty coach is Miss McKinnon of the Women's Physical Education Department.

This year the All-Star team will play two matches: Colby Jr. May 13th at New London and Jackson May 20th at Durham.

The following girls have been chosen for the All-Star tennis team this year: Marilyn Chase, Joyce Hiller, Ann Nelson, Lynn Dickinson, Nancy Prindle, Barbara Dudley and Pat Lane.

Women's Basketball

THE 1954 basketball season was again successful, with the freshman class leading in the number of participants.

The basketball leader this year was Marilyn Chase, assisted by Marilyn Stender. The class managers for the season were as follows: freshman, Caroline Sullivan; sophomore, Ellen O'Connor; junior, Ruth Blakeney; and for the seniors, Marilyn Withers. Coaching of the teams was divided by Miss Elizabeth McKinnon and Miss Evelyn Browne, instructors in the Women's Physical Education Department.

After a series of three practice games for each class, the scheduled class games started. At the end of the schedule the freshmen, sophomores, and seniors were all tied. Time being short, these three teams played a round robin tournament with the sophomores coming out on top.

Following the games, the class managers, sports leader and faculty coaches selected the All-Star team to represent the University in outside competition.

This year's team included Marilyn Chase, Jean Swett, Joan Martin, Maureen Manning, Carol Murphy, Caroline Sullivan, and Irene LaPlante as forwards; Marilyn Mathews, Harriet Forkey, Joyce Hiller, Ruth Blakeney, Jane Andrews, Ging Charles, and Joan Picard as guards. The All-Star team was coached by Miss Carol Gordon.

At the time of this writing, the All-Star team has played Westbrook Jr. losing 57 to 60, and Colby Jr. losing to the tune of 37-41. The last game will be played at Jackson College. Although the record thus far is not too impressive, the season certainly has been a success as far as loyalty, team spirit and cooperation, to say nothing of the fun and good times.

Orchesis

THE dance department is composed of Dance Club, Dance Workshop, and dance composition classes. These three sub-departments worked together in presenting a lecture-dance-demonstration in March, and the annual Spring Concert in May, of which much of the choreography was done by the students.

This year, Dance Club celebrated its tenth anniversary under the direction of their new advisor, Miss Sylvia Masters. Participation in the Christmas Concert was one of the regular activities. This year, however, the Men's Glee Club accompanied the dance choreographed by Miss Masters. A new and profitable experience for the group was provided by attendance at a Dance Symposium at Bradford Junior College in Haverhill, Massachusetts. Here they joined with several other college groups in a master class given by June Dunbar, an assistant of José Limon of New York.

Dance Workshop, under the direction of Miss Joan Blanchard, is open to all students. It aims at the appreciation of and building of techniques for dance. The change in Dance Club's constitution this year makes Workshop an apprentice group for Club, rather than a prerequisite.

There seemed to be growing enthusiasm for dance in all groups. The many new members of each group found it wasn't necessary to have had previous dance training to enjoy dance, because performance is not the major goal of the department.

Thank You

WE, the staff of the 1954 GRANITE, coming to the end of a year of work and enjoyment in compiling this yearbook, wish to thank those people who, through their interest and cooperation, have helped immeasurably in our work. Those to whom we are especially grateful are:

Mr. Robert W. Kelly of the Robert W. Kelly Publishing Corporation for his encouragement and personal interest in the 1954 GRANITE.

Hampshire Engraving Corporation for the fine quality of the engravings used in this yearbook and the cooperation they extended to us.

Mr. Richard Merritt and UNH Photo Service for making available prints from their files.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE, for space and equipment made available to us.

The administration and University staff for their interest and understanding.

New Hampshire Progress

In New Hampshire—new products made from wood pulp—and new uses for existing products—have highlighted the importance of our forest resources.

For years our laboratories have pioneered in developing wood cellulose products which have contributed to human necessities and comforts and to industrial and institutional activities in almost every field of human endeavor.

This year Brown Company's products will also be found in homes throughout the country in the form of paper towels and tissue.

Out of the mills at Berlin, New Hampshire, have come many special pulps for such products as cellophane, rayon and photographic papers—also purified cellulose in powder form having a score of uses in plastic, in rubber products and as a filter in cigarettes, among other things. From these mills go finished products to all parts of the nation—Nibroc paper towels, Nibroc toilet tissue, Bermico bituminized sewer pipe and electrical conduit, Onco inner soles for shoes, and important chemicals.

Today wood cellulose is playing an increasingly important role. There are special papers for teletype and other high-speed communications tape, weatherproof map papers and corrosion-resistant paper for protecting metal arts, instruments and machinery in military transport.

We are indeed proud of our New England heritage and we are looking forward to developing an ever-widening range of new products. Thus will the interests of New Hampshire be advanced and greater values created for the State and its people.
